ver Keller ionated here in June, 1800. He removed to this place from Whithy, where he had more musued in the practice of his profession. He was noted for being atraighterward and upright in his desiings, and we doubt if he had an enemy. His wife is a daughter of the late David Smith, postmatter of Ordinara and niece of the late Judge Smith of Linday. He leaves a family of the course of the late sympathy of the entire community. He remains were interred in the R.C. comments.

KINMOI NT

(Correspondence of The Post.)
Moone Killish.—Last Suturiay Mine Cobon, the photo of Mr. Charles Cobon, who lives about two miles from this village, new a strong isoling animal is the front gavien, and called her father to see what it was. Mr. Cobon at once recognized it to be a ricone, and after considerable delay is looking for ammunition gave chase, and with the amintance of some of the neighbors mechanically in killing it. The fatel hist was fired by Mr. Gilmore. The moone stood over my feet high, and gired also feet of the inches.

the villagers, inchermen and railwaymen, who all worked like Trojane, a quantity of timber was saved, and the flames kept from extending to Mr. Dovey's house near by. If the wind had been in a different direction much more damage would have been ioner A little hand engine was of great l'honnessing. This place is going shead, Its prospects have been greatly improved by the construction of the Irondale road. The road is being built in the most substantial manner, and will afford a new line to Offewa. We will stood use some colored passenger and palace cave running through here to the capital and perhaps to the Sault. Kinmount will be a big place and will knock the spate of Robertson.

"Teleration" and the Warder.

ters, in wan done in the Warder. It reads thus:

"We are accused of raising false issues by reginting fromen Catholic domination in politics. We are accused of intolerance and appression. But it is one proud boast now to be sitteral americant for intolerance not to be sitteral americant for intolerance. For the benefit of the Poet's "Toleration," we submit these facts:

"The following offices have been filled by the Mowat government in Lindon;:

"(1.) The County Crown Attorney, by a flowan Catholic,"

"(6.) The sheriff, by a l'hermerant,
"(fine clerkship of the division court fell

officials in this county, of whom four were catheries. A case which requires to be bolster, of and supported by such a plating suppression of the true facts must be desperate indeed. And the object sought to be attended—the stirring up and receiping alive of religious animosity and prejudice—in as foul as the means used. The enter of the Warder knows, or ought to know, that the clerk of the peace and county attorney is one office, filled by one person—not two, as he would lead his readers to believe, He should also know that the Homas Catholic halliff was not appointed by the Mowat government, but was piaced is office by the county indge before the change in the law, to that the facin are the Mowat government have simply impointed two Catholics to office in this county since they came into power, and during the samp time, as the allifer of the Warder knows, they have, besides the sheriff and the clerk of the division court referred to in his article, appointed fifteen clerks and balliffs, four licenses inspectors, three lockmasters and bridge tenders and one superintendent of public works—in all 25 l'rotestants as against two Catholics, And how to close this matter. Will the Warder continue his particulars, print a list of all the official appointed by the Mowat government in this county since they came into power, and let his readers for once read the truth. It was not my intention to have treepassed on your valuable space beyond the limit of my first letter, and I have at reasonable hope that the public, now made a ware of the true facts of the case, will not be misled, no matter how often nor in how large capital letters the Warder may choose to repeat his exploded calamny of Catholic aggression.

James Begg of Lindeay, says the Relieville intario, engaged on the government ich at O'Brien's bridge, Thurlow township, cutting rock, was the victim of dynamits on Thursday, rock, was the victim of dynamite on Thursday, which nearly cost him his life. He had a can of dynamite which he set alongside the fire for a few minutes to meit. When he took hold of the can to remove it the dynamite caught fire and he was blown thirty feet away. The explosive struck him on the left side, burning his arm, thigh and leg in a frightful manner. From the ends of his fingers to his shoulder his arm was peppered like a sieve. Begg wore a heavy pair of corduroy rowsers, which it is thought was the means of saving his leg. He was brought to Belleville Thursday night, when Dr. Wilson dressed his wounds, and the injured man was taken back to Corbyville
