VICINITY CHIPS

Dr. Murray is confined to his bed this week with a severe attack of cold.

Artemesia council met on Saturday. The minutes will appear next week.

Born—On Wednesday, March 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cargo, a daughter.

Born—In Toronto on Saturday, March 4th, to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, a son.

Miss Tillie Buchanan of Vandeleur visited her friend, Florence Thurston.

Mrs. Herb. Smith, who has been quite seriously ill for some time, is improving.

Rev. J. H. Kelly will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday night next.

Mr. J. L Wood has resigned his position as teacher at Ceylon and intends getting outside employment again.

J. & W. Boyd's store has been fitted with gasoline lights, eleven being installed. This brilliant lighting will make shopping at night a pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Badgerow and son, Kenneth, and Miss Rita Buskin attended the Jackson-Saunders nuptials at Saugeen Junction on Tuesday last.

Mr. C. Stafford left on Monday for Cuba to look after his property down there. He expects to be absent in the land of sunshine for perhaps a couple of months.

Two weeks ago we printed an item referring to the sale of a valuable bunch of stock, but got the name wrong. It should have read W. Orr, not W. Moore as we had it.

While climbing a ladder over a week ago, Jacob Thompson, of the Park House, fell against the ladder and fractured several ribs. The injury was very painful, and he is still rather shaky.

S. J. McIntosh, ledger keeper in the Standard bank here for some time, has removed to the Belleville branch. Mac has always taken a lively interest in sports and will be missed, especially on the baseball nine. We wish him well.

In a redistribution of seats before the next provincial election it is currently reported that Artemesia, with over 200 Conservative majority, will be taken from East Grey and added to South Grey. This would make Dr. Jamieson's calling and election sure.—Chesley Enterprise.

We invite attention to the large amount of correspondence in this issue. We know of no other local paper that possesses as able a staff of correspondents as has the Advance. It is the people's paper, as its continually growing subscription list goes to prove.

Mr. W. Buskin expects to move into his new grocery store next week. He will have an up-to-date store when completed and intends to carry a large stock of grass, clover and other seeds for the spring trade, of which more anon.

The Advance Man is justly proud of the various records of his Rhode Island Red egg machines—but their latest record has everything else faded. One of his pullets laid an egg on Sunday which was about the size of an ordinary cherry—2⅛ inches in circumference and practically round.

Mr. James Stinson, of the Toronto line, lost a valuable Clyde colt one day last week in a peculiar manner. He let it out for exercise and shortly afterward found it lying broadside on a sheet of icy ground. It was unable to rise and was drawn to the stable on a stoneboat, and an hour and a half after was dead. The animal had evidently fallen hard on the ice and fatally injured itself. Mr. Stinson valued it at $150.

The wholesale produce firm of M. Scully Co. with headquarters here has commenced buying eggs. The sleigh has been on the road daily for some time, and gathers from McIntyre, Feversham, Maxwell, Eugenia, Kimberley, Ceylon, Priceville and Durham, and will shortly commence to visit Markdale and other points. This company does an extensive business in all produce at this point, being a heavy shipper.

Toronto Line, North

A number of people have been laid up with la grippe during the past couple of weeks.

Mr. Geo. Bell of Toronto visited at Mr. Rod. McKenzie's recently.

Master Willie Pattison visited his brother, J. J., and other friends in Collingwood last week.

Roy Wansbro paid a short visit to his friends at Fergus last week. Master Berry of Priceville took his place at the station during his absence.

Miss Belle Kennedy returned to her home last week in very poor health. She had spent a month visiting friends in the vicinity of Thornton. We are pleased to be able to state that she is slowly improving.

John and Annie Ferguson, both of Caledon, are visiting friends in this locality.

This Week's Items

A very enjoyable evening was spent at Mr. J. W. Gibson's on Monday, when several of the young people of the neighborhood met in a social manner previous to the departure of some of them for the West.

Miss Kate McLeod has gone to work at the millinery business at F. G. Karstedt's, Flesherton.

James and Andrew Sprott have returned home.

Miss Furness of Toronto is visiting at J. W. Gibson's.

S. M. Ross, our new store keeper, locked up and left, presumably for Toronto, and reported he would return in a few days with a stock of dry goods. He has now been absent over a week but is expected back Tuesday. We hope he has been successful in his undertaking.

Mr. J. L. Woods has resigned his position as teacher of our school. We are sorry his health makes such a step necessary.

We regret the removal from our midst of Mr. James McClocklin and family. We always found him a good business man and a good citizen. At the same time we welcome Mr. John English of Proton back to his old stand.

Kitchen Shower and Address

On Monday evening, Feb. 30, a number of people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harbottle, 3rd line, Euphrasia, when a kitchen shower was given to their daughter, Miss Euphemie, on the eve of her marriage. The following address was read:

Dear Phemie,—We have met here tonight to spend another evening with you ere you take your departure from this community. During your sojourn among us we have learned to appreciate your many sterling qualities, and though we shall miss you we know that our loss is but another's gain. As a mark of our esteem we ask you to accept these articles for the kitchen, and as each one receives its designated use in your new home, we trust that you will not entirely forget your many friends of this neighborhood. Signed on behalf of the community—Mrs. H. Thompson, Mrs. M. Neil.

In a few well chosen words Mr. Harbottle, on behalf of his daughter, thanked her friends for their thoughtfulness. Lunch being served, the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Address and Presentation

On Friday evening, Feb. 24, a large number of neighbors visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dow, 8th line, who are leaving for the west. Having taken possession of the home, Mr. J. Carson read the following address:

Dear Friends,—We, a few of your neighbors, knowing that you are about to remove from here to another part of this vast Dominion, thought that we could not and would not let the opportunity pass of having a social evening with you. We have no doubt of your success in the place to which you are going. If persistence in your endeavors is a good trait of character, then we know that you will succeed. Nor are we afraid that you will not have good neighbors, as it has been truly said that a man makes his neighbors. We know that you will always live in a good neighborhood and have as staunch friends as you leave here. So, on the eve of your departure, it was suggested that we meet in your home to say the farewell and good-bye, and present you with this purse as a token of our good will. And now, hoping that you may all live to enjoy the fruits of your labor, and that you may from time to time come back to see us and tell us of the great West and of your success is the wish of all your neighbors here. Signed on behalf of neighbors—J. Parliament, W. J. Magee.

In reply Mr. Dow said: You have indeed taken us completely by surprise. We never expected an action on your part such as this. As to making a speech, I would be able to do so if it were not that the circumstances of the present time prevents its utterance. We are indeed very thankful for the token of your good-will, the token which you have presented us with this evening. As to having neighbors, we cannot explain, but we have indeed had good neighbors in this section. We wish them all, every one, all possible happiness and prosperity, and hope that if possible we might have neighbors as good in the place to which we are going. We are exceedingly pleased to learn that you decided to have a social evening with us before we emigrated to a distant locality. We wish that everyone may thoroughly enjoy himself, as herewith we offer our home and hospitality to the making of that enjoyment.

A number of speeches were also delivered by gentlemen present, Messrs. Carson, Cameron and R. W. McFadden, the teacher, exhibiting their oratorical abilities. Afterwards a splendid repast was served by the visitors, to which everyone did ample justice. Then games and amusements followed, and the visitors departed to their respective homes after individually wishing Mr. and Mrs. Dow and family unlimited prosperity in the great Canadian West.

The Late Mrs. Barber

One by one the early settlers of Osprey township are being called away. Last week we reported the death of Mrs. Charles Barber, sr., who passed away to the eternal world on Wednesday, Feb. 22. Mrs. Barber was married to her late husband, Mr. Charles Barber, in Pickering township in 1856, coming to Osprey in 1857, 54 years ago, and settled on a farm on the 14th con., where the family have since resided. A family of nine sons and three daughters survive her to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother. The daughters are Mrs. John Metheral of Dunedin, Mrs. George Ford and Mrs. James Stockton of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and the sons, Geo., Edward and John at home, Joseph of Singhampton, Charles of Alberta, Ben of Weyburn, Sask., and Wm. James and Almer keeping a general store at Feversham.

Mrs. Barber had been an esteemed and consistent member of the Methodist church for about 36 years and was always ready to do her share in church work, and was also one of the kindest of neighbors, always willing to inconvenience herself to help others in need of help. This neighborhood sympathises with the bereaved family. But the family sorrow not as without hope, for they know their mother has gone to her heavenly home and is watching and waiting for their coming. Mrs. Barber's husband predeceased her sixteen years ago. The remains were laid to rest in Providence cemetery on Friday, Feb. 25, and were followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of friends and neighbors.

A Valuable Load

We often hear of a man carrying a load, but the largest load ever having been heard of in this part was a load of logs that was brought into J. B. Bowe's block and roller mills on Saturday evening last. This load was composed of 7 maple logs containing 1817 feet and 3 basswood logs with 677 feet, in all 2494. The load was brought in by the team of Mr. R. T. McComb who lives in the neighborhood of Williamsford. A number of teamsters from Michigan and from Wiarton who have seen many of the large loads say that this is the largest load they have ever seen in this part of the country. Mr. J. B. Bowes, whose mill these logs were taken to, says that he will bet $50 that he can take that number of feet out of them. The logs brought Mr. McComb the following prices: For Maple, $32.70; basswood $10.83; in all $43.53. Now where is the next man who will bring in a more valuable load of timber than this?—Chatsworth News
