Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Rome Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

The most pathetic case of deaths from the great bilizard in Dakota occurred in Bonhommie county, where alone sixty or seventy persons froze to death, and was that of Farmer Field, near Avon. He had been to town to sell some corn. The storm broke out on his return trip. His horse atumbled and fell and could not be made to rise again. Farmer Field continued his way on foot and had nearly reached home when exhaustion and cold seized him and he fell down and died. Toward evening his wife, seized with terror and unrest, dressed herself and went out to search for her husband, leaving the two little children in the house by a warm atove. After atumbling around for about a thousand yards in the blinding snowstorm she too became benumbed and atumbled over something in the road. She fell and died. The next day the neighbors found her frezen stiff in the road, leaning over the corpse of her husband. He had been that something which had brought her to the ground. The two little children were likewise found dead in the house, the fire having gone out in the stove when the mother had not returned, and the little ones freezing to death.
