Farmers, it is none too soon to commence jogging your memory concerning these important and indeed necessary aids to successful husbandry. It is our business to be in advance of the demand, and several carloads of these fertilizers have been received and transferred to our store-house.

Land Salt in sacks of 200 lbs. each and Plaster in barrels and in cotton and linen bags.

Many of you have purchased from me previous seasons and know these fertilizers for what they are—the best and purest in the market. Those of you who have not cannot possibly do better than buy from me this season.

To retain all their qualities it is necessary that these goods should be stored in a perfectly dry, water-tight building. My store-house on William-st., a brick structure, possesses these essentials, besides being the most convenient in town. SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

We have put too little emphasis on the cheapness of Staple stuffs now; if ever there was a time to say cheap, now's that time. And yet our attention has to be so engrossed with things that can't be cheap that we slight the most conspicuous fact of the season's trade.

Our Policy is to Keep Trade Going.

Goods have got to be cheap. We have bought low; we have taken advantage of every disaster, every preceding downward wove of the market.

Discriminate not; everything is cheap and we must advertise extravagances, for advertising is the "news in a nutshell," But remember, day after day when we are busy with extravagant thin, s, that Staples are terribly down.
