TRUTH BEFORE FAVOR-PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

A COW BELL JINGLE

A lady called up The Advance on Monday over the telephone and said a relic of the dark ages was annoying her family at 4 a. m. every morning, in the form of a cow bell, which aroused them from their slumbers. Others have heard it too, and been annoyed. It is several years now since cow bells went out of date here. The underbrush is not so dense in this town that cow bells are a necessary adjunct to bossie's regalia, as they were in the days of the pioneers, and cows thus decorated in past days have acquired a peculiar habit of losing every bell that was strapped on them. Some bells have not been found for months and some have never been found. It is not thought that the cows have yet overcome this habit, and if the owner of the bell now before the public does not wish to lose on his investment, he should take it off, wrap it in tissue paper and ship it to the Toronto University museum for proper classification and preservation. In these later days the ear of humanity is not attuned to cow bell music. Steam threshers and automobile horns we can stand, but cow bell serenades—never more.

THE DEADLY AUTO

Another unfortunate has been killed in Toronto by the deadly automobile. In this case the chauffeur is said to have been somewhat blinded with dust and knew nothing of the accident until the body of the unfortunate was thrown up on the nose of his car. Reading between the lines one can imagine the speed that was required to throw the body of a man upward in such a manner. It is said to be impossible to prevent the running of powerful engines of destruction that take possession of our highways in summer. In that case we will have to pass a law prohibiting pedestrians from making use of their own highways. They will soon have to walk the fences and run across lots if the preservation of one's anatomy in good working condition is a consideration.

25 PER CENT. PROFIT.

A Victoria, B. C., gentlemen, writes to one of our exchanges that he will be pleased to invest funds for the readers of that paper, and guarantees "at least 25 per cent. yearly profit and furnishes security." Now, that is going some even for 20th century financial methods. Twenty five per cent. is a pretty fair interest on your money. And to think that this is guaranteed by the furnishing of security! Sheldon is out-Sheldoned. It would be interesting to know the nature of the security which this gentleman is prepared to give for the payment of that 25 per cent. If any of our readers care to investigate they can get the address at this office, but our advice is, "don't."

A WONDERFUL PAPER.

The Toronto News on Wednesday of last week published an 80-page number which it called the National issue. The issue is certainly an honor to the publishers as well as an evidence on its face of the wonderful strides made in the art preservative during the period of which it treats, namely since confederation, or more particularly during the last 25 years, which has been Canada's peculiar growing time. A publication of this kind is itself an evidence of a country's greatness, shown in the many advertisements of manufacturers as well as by the extensive facts and figures so laboriously compiled by special writers. Much of it is well worth preserving.

The Late Francis Whewell

Mr. Francis Whewell, whose death was announced in The Advance last week, was born in Lancashire, England, on January 14, 1835, and immigrated to Canada at the age of 19. After a few years in the Ottawa district he took the position of teacher in S.S. No. 5, Osprey, Ont., and in 1864 married Miss Barbara Davidson of Feversham, who predeceased him twelve years ago. He spent sixteen years, but at various intervals, in helping to mould the minds and characters of the young in several sections within reach of his home, which was on the Artemesia side of the road separating that township from Osprey and on the tenth concession. Here he had, during his spare hours in teaching, and in the intervening years, prepared a home in the primeval forest and reared a large family, six sons and one daughter of whom are still living. These are George, of Feversham, Ont.; Frank, Walter and Maggie (Mrs. Scarrow) of Arcola, Sask.; and Wm. and Lewis A. of Griffin, Sask. Mr. Whewell was a man of strong character, ever optimistic in his outlook and a fearless champion of what he believed to be right. He was identified with all good movements for the welfare of the community in which he lived. At one time, while in Ontario, he was a persistent advocate of the Patrons of Industry movement. About eight years ago he moved to Arcola, where he has since lived with his daughter, Mrs. Scarrow. He had been a man of vigorous health until his system recently broke down as a result of advanced age, and he passed away on June 14, his memory bright and clear until the end. His remains were taken to the Arcola cemetery to rest beside those of his daughter, Allie (Mrs. Workman), whose death occurred on Jan. 10 of this year.

Married

Torry—Piper—At the residence of the bride's parents, on Wednesday, June 21, by Rev. H. E. Wellwood, B. A., Luther W. Torry of Lauriston, to Laura Anetta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Piper of Ceylon. The ceremony took place at 8 p.m. on the lawn in the presence of about 60 guests. The bride was unattended. The young couple will reside at Lauriston.

Reeve Wallace, of Pilkington, has reported to the Fergus News-Record what is probably a record in swine breeding. He had a brood sow which gave birth to 22 young pigs every one of which was able to get up and walk. As nature had provided the mother with accommodation for raising not more than fourteen, the generous reeve gave the balance to a neighbor. Can any of our farmer readers beat this record. This beat the Stratford Herald which last week recorded the birth of 20 husky pigs to a sow owned by Norman Jarrott, of Usborne.

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone treatment affords little drops of healing for sore places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.
