TRUTH BEFORE FAVOR— PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

THE NAPOLITANO CASE

The case of Mrs. Napolitano, the Sault woman who was sentenced to death for murdering her husband, and whose sentence was commuted last week to imprisonment for life, has served to exhibit in a not favorable light the working of the American mind and the maudlin sentimentality that can be engendered in a nation when the press of the country chooses to count a criminal as a martyr. The true story was a most sordid one, but the yellow press of the United States chose to cast a halo of glory around it that aroused the champions of downtrodden women to a pitch of almost frenzy, with the consequence that petitions containing thousands upon thousands of names poured in upon the Canadian Minister of Justice from people of the United States who evidently thought him an ogre and a man without a sense of justice. There was just a spice of impertinence in these petitions. Canada is quite competent to adminster her laws and set up her own code of morals with adequate punishment for their infraction without advice from any foreign people, and especially a people who are so prone to err from the straight path of dignity in administering its laws as are the people of the United States.

Were the people of Canada to take a like stand on every case of injustice as we see it administered on the other side we would be kept in hot water all the while and have no time to attend to our own business. The executions over there without trial would of themselves be sufficient to keep us in a condition of turmoil. We don't lose any sleep over the administration of justice as Uncle Sam chooses to administer it, but we think a whole lot, and cannot help coming to the conclusion that Uncle Sam has a beam of large proportions in his eye that really ought to be removed before pressing his sentiments upon other people. We know here when justice is justice without being told, and we don't lynch a criminal without givning him a fair trial. Neither has the brain storm obtained a foothold in this country as an excuse for murder.

WILL WE GET PARCEL POST?

There seems to be a fair prospect that sometime, probably in the near future, we will get a parcel post in this country, a thing that has been needed for a long time. Hon. Sydney Fisher says he has a man investigating in order to formulate a plan, but that there are grave difficulties in the way. It would have been interesting and satisfactory if Mr. Fisher had informed us what some of the graver of these difficulties are. For instance, why is it that the government will carry a larger parcel to a foreign country than it will carry from one postoffice to another in Canada? There are many other anomalies in the present system that appear strange to the lay eye and an explanation of which would be received with thankfulness, because the public has got it solidly implanted in their minds that the postoffice department is run too much after the plan of an auxiliary to the Canadian express companies. The public are beginning to become suspicious that the express companies have too large a pull at Ottawa. It is claimed in some quarters that the big wig railway men who own the express companies also largely own the government. This may not be correct, but the fear and trembling with which these express companies are treated by the Postoffice department in the matter of competing as parcel carriers, and the favors shown them, gives color to the charge. We hope the difficulties necessary to overcome will not be found insurmountable by the Hon. Mr. Fisher. We do not think they will be providing that too much railway stock is not held by the solons who control our destiny.

The knell of the English House of Lords as a virile body politic is ringing. The Veto Bill, which was emasculated by that body and sent back to the British House of Commons shorne of its virtue and value, is likely to prove the undoing of the upper chamber. The British premier has secured the promise of the King to create a sufficient number of sympathetic peers to pass the bill, which when passed, will practically eliminate all excuse for a prolongation of the upper House. Like Esau, it will be shorne of its birthright.

Reciprocity Bill went through the United States senate whooping. His predecessor, Buffalo Bill, created almost as much interest in the long ago, when ranging the western plains in search of road agents and Buffalo meat. Buffalo Bill was largely instrumental in annihilating the buffalo; let us hope the career of Reciprocity Bill not prove so disastrous to live stock—especially to our Canadian live stock.

A Lincoln, Neb., girl writes, "I had been ailing for some time with chronic constipation and stomach trouble. I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and in three days I was able to be up and got better right along. I am the proudest girl in Lincoln to find such a good medicine." Journey of a 10-Year-Old

Smoke begrimed, weary and tousled, Johnny Potter, aged 10, got off the late Grand Trunk train on Friday evening, alone, and with no one to meet him. This was his welcome to Owen Sound, whither he came in search of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Potter, who were supposed to reside here. His forlorn condition attracted the attention of some of the bystanders, but no one knew who his parents were or where they resided. He was taken and given into the care of the police. To them he told his story. In April his parents had left Burford Road, London, England, for Canada. They had left him behind at the time because he was ill and unable to travel. His grandmother had taken care of him and when he was entirely recovered sent him on to Canada with a lady who was coming over. The little lad got along all right until he reached Owen Sound—the lady, whose name he did not know, having left him at Parkhead Junction. Here he was completely stranded. He knew his father's name was Albert Potter, but whether he was living in Owen Sound or out on a farm couldn't say. The most widespread inquiries through town and the vicinity failed to locate Albert Potter and the lad meantime was given into the care of the matron. On Tuesday, however, Potter arrived in town from Kemble to get the boy. On Monday evening he had noticed a news item in a daily, stating the fact that a boy named Potter was looking for his parents in Owen Sound, and at once concluded that the boy in question was his son who had come without his parents being aware of the fact, phoned in and verified his surmise.—O. S. Times.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. Fors ale by W E. Richardson & Son.

While Mrs. Reuben Bauman, of Corbetton, was on a loaded wagon holding the reins a few days ago, the horses ran away, throwing her out in such a way that the wheels of the wagon passed diagonally across the upper part of her body from her shoulders. She miraculously escaped with some bruises and a dislocated collarbone. Had the wheels struck her head she would uudoubtedly have been killled. Dr. Smith attended to her injuries.—Shelburne Economist.

A good joke was pulled off this week at the expense of the Town Constable. It appears some weeks ago a business man was fined $1.00 and costs for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk, contrary to the by-law. He paid the fine and kept his eagle eye open for a chance to get even, when this week he caught the Chief napping in allowing his horse to graze upon the market square. Accordingly, Mr. Business man lodged a complaint and the Chief was fined $2.00 and costs for an infraction of the by-law prohibiting quadrupeds running at large. The Chief is now enjoying a hearty laugh.—Meaford Express.

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE"

So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.

In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills.

"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend, he advised a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exert on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines, freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the ailing."

For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.
