A whistle at the station began blowing at 5 p. m. on Monday evening and kept it up. About 7 p. m. it got on the nerves of the citizens to such a degree that the telephone was kept hot answering queries as to the probable cause. Something had gone wrong with a whistle on one of the engines and it could not be stopped from screaming. It was said to be a "disabled" whistle, but judging from the howl which it kept up for 2¾ mortal hours of agony it was fully able to do more than its share.

Miss Vera Loucks has received her entrance examination certificate, which makes eleven successful pupils out of the twelve who wrote from Flesherton public school. Miss Loucks was unable to complete her examination owing to the death of her sister, but the work she did on the papers which went through her hands was such that the Department felt itself justified in issuing her certificate.

Mr. Watson, representing the Sanitarium Association of Canada, gave an illustrated lecture on Tuberculosis to a large audience in the town hall on Monday evening. His views embraced pictures of the devasting work of tubercular baccili in all its stages, of the baccili itself, and of the various sanitariums erected at Gravenhurst and Toronto to fight the dreaded disease. He also illustrated the methods of spreading contageon, including the common house fly as among the more important. The lecture was very interesting and instructive.

A Late Conversion

From time to time, the local newspapers of this country have published articles sent out by the Dominion Goverment advistising the working of the Annuities system. The matter is good, and should have a beneficial, educative influence, and were it not for its purely advertising character, would be no objection. The Chronicle has inserted a number of these articles, and their publication may have had some influence in extending the purchase of Annuities. To come to the point, we think all such advertising should be paid for, just as well as the advertising of a private individual or an ordinary corporation. So far, we have recieved no monetary return, and we presume that nothing will come unless the newspapers generally refuse to give publicity without pay. It is only a matter of business, and newspapers deserve pay for the space used is of a purely advertising nature.—Durham Chronicle.

The Late Henry Tucker

Mr. Henry Tucker died at his residence, Ceylon, on Sunday last, after an extended illness, at the age of 87 years. The interment took place at Ebenezer cemetery, Glenelg, on Tuesday, 22nd inst., under the auspices of Priceville A. O. U. W. Mr. Tucker was formerly a resident of Egremont but moved with his family to Ceylon some years ago. In religion he was a staunch and lifelong Methodist and in politics a Conservative. Mr. Tucker was twice married and leaves his widow and a grown-up family of sons and daughters. He was very highly esteemed and was honored as a man possessieg very many sterling qualities, among the chief of which was an unusually cheerful temperament that endeared him to all who knew him.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by W. E. Richardson & Son.

During the severe thunderstorm on Thursday evening, Aug. 3rd, about half past five o'clock, the barn of Mr. Michael Noctor, Arthur township, near Farewell, was struck by lighting. The part struck was the stable adjoining the barn. Shingles on the roof were shattered and sent flying, hemlock boards of the siding were torn off and knocked to splinters, a plank in the stable floor was torn up and broken. The bolt came down at the stable door a few feet from a mare that was in the stall, and from Mr. Noctor's two sons, John and Wilfrid, who were deafened by the report, one of them still being hard of hearing next day. The mare was severely shocked, but not killed, and received a cut on the hip from a flying splinter, an armful of splinters being taken out of the manger afterwards. Mr. Noctor, who was sitting in the stoop of his house over a hundred yards away, saw the lightning come down, and knowing from the flying shingles that the other end of the barn had been struck, ran to the scene. He found the straw of the stable loft on fire and with great presence of mind and pluck got a pail of water and extinguished the blaze, partly by throwing on the water, and partly by smothering it out. A minute more and the mow full of hay would have been ablaze and the barn and contents destroyed. One of the boys was rather severely kicked by the mare when he went, at his father's request, to cut the rope that tied her. The loss is covered by insurance.—Confederate.

An exchange says there are too many fall fairs, judged by the list which has been issued by Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, the superintendent. This list totals 290. This gives an average of between six and seven to every county in Ontario, including the new districts. There is no need of so many. Undoubtedly some of them will prove financial failures this year. The law of the survival of the fittest has been doing something in thinning them out, and it will probably do more yet.

Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1911

When classes will be formed for Matriculation into all the professions, entrance into the Normal Schools and into the Faculties of Education in Commercial Specialist and Commercial Diploma.

The rapid growth of this school is a striking illustration of that true old adage that "nothing succeeds like success."

We would like all parents having children to educate to consider seriously the following points about this High School:

(1) Building, grounds and equipment unexcelled in the Province, four rooms and a gymnasium; healthy town, absolutely free from fevers; good board in private families—cheaper than in cities. Fees $10 a year.

(2) The splendid work of this school has attracted to it from far and near, large numbers of students, and has caused its attendance to increase rapidly. During 1910 our students came from thirty-seven different counties.

(3) The high stand taken by its students in the various universities and the large number of its university graduates holding fellowships in Canadian and American colleges.

(4) A new and up-to-date science room fully equipped, in which the student performs his own experiment under the supervision of the teacher.

(5) A fully organized Commercial Department in Book-keeping, Stenography, Business Law, Type-writing, English Branches, in the hands of a specialist who is a chartered accountant; special attention given to Writing and Spelling. This department is equipped with seven of the latest up-to-date Underwood typewriters. Each graduate receives a beautiful diploma. Our graduates easily obtain positions, No expensive fees to pay.

RECORD FOR 1911

(6) In 1911 this school passed 17 candidates for entrance into the Normal schools, 11 for Junior Matriculation, 4 for entrance into the Faculties of Education, 3 for Commercial Diplomas.

(7) Inspector Wetherall in his last report says: It is with unusual pleasure that I make my first report on the Meaford High School. No school in the Province is in a more flourishing condition. The trustees are alert and progressive and all the members of the staff are energetic and capable. The spirit of the school is excellent and impresses a stranger at once as quite out of the common.
