C. W. Hartman To Oppose Sproule

At a largely attended meeting of East Grey Reformers in the town hall on Monday afternoon, Mr. C. W. Hartman of Clarksburg was again made the standard bearer to contest the riding against Dr. Sproule. President A. C. Patterson of Blantyre occupied the chair. After a short address by the President, nominations were called for, when the following gentlemen's names were placed before the meeting: C, W. Hartman, Wm. McLoughry, Mr. Rickey, President of the Georgian Bay Fruit Growers' Association; J. D. Morgan, John M. Davis, Christopher Birrell, John Boland and Dr. Ryckman. All the nominees gave vigorous addresses, and all retired with the exception of Mr. Hartman.

Mr. John Boland said that Mr. Hartman had fought three battles and he thought he was the man that was wanted now. He would take many Opposition votes and he knew how to represent the people—not to misrepresent them as Dr. Sproule had done. He did not know of one thing that Dr. Sproule had ever done for this riding. The Liberals of East Grey never had a better opportunity.

Mr. Hartman had no desire for the position but would take it on condition that thorough organization was completed and the contest made a personal matter with every elector present. He claimed that there was a Bourassa-Borden compact in Quebec, offering as proof the fact that Conservatives were not opposing Nationalist candidates in any riding. He charged that Conservatives were riding one horse in Quebec and another in Ontario. He was a warm advocate of reciprocity and believed it would materially help the farmer. He had been assured by many Conservatives that they intended to vote for reciprocity. Others were not saying much, but were thinking a whole lot. The loyalty cry was only a bugaboo.

Owing to the lateness of the hour Mr. Hartman did not speak as long as he had intended to, but again appealed to those present to make it a personal matter and work for victory.

Mr. McCullough of Markdale, the Reform candidate for the Local House against the Hon. I. B. Lucas, was called on for a few words by special invitation.

From what we can learn the local option law throughout Centre Grey is poorly enforced. Many are of the opinion that License Inspector Halbert is not doing as much as he might do towards its enforcement. Others say that a license inspector is not supposed to do extra work in local option territory. If not, why it is certainly up to the Ontario government to appoint an official to enforce the local option law and thus carry out the wishes of the majority.
