LINDSAY, FRIDAY. SEP. 21, 1448

SIR JOHN MACDONALD'S LA-TEST VETO. Sir John Macdonald is entering upon another veto or disallowance contest which promises to have an ending as disastrous to his prestige and character for tact as his Manitoba and Ontario vetoes. Some technical ground may be shown for the veto of Mr. Mercier's district boasted skill and tact. He has played into Mr. Mercier's hand. The tory Montreal Star sags: "If Mr. Mercier " is making of the disallowance a carn-" paign cry, the federal authorities have " provided him with the grievance on "which it is based." And again: "It " would have been easier to appoint the " promised judges than to disallow the " district magistrates act, and there would " have been less friction and inconven-" ience all round." There is great and vexatious inconvenience caused in Mont real from the want of more judges The lawyers have been protesting for several years but the Dominion government have done nothing to remedy the grievances. The Montreal Witness, in discussing Mr. Mercier's appeal to the people, says: "There is no limit to the " absolute power of disallowance of prov-" incial legislation lodged with the Dom- inion government, and an unscrupulous 66 government can only be checked in the " use of it by an appeal to the people. 44 The Manitoba government appealed to He declines to regard the addresses on "the people against disallowance and the that occasion by Sir John Thomson and "Dominion government submitted to "the verdict of the people. Is there " any reason why the case of Manitoba 66 should not be regarded as a precedent " by the government of Quebec? The 46 Dominion government is entirely in

The view of the retaliation question or fisheries difficulty expressed by the Canada Presbyterian is eminently utilitarian, and is based on common sense as well as on the principles of Christianity,

[To the Editor of The Post.] but there is one obstacle in the way. To permit the transhipment in bond of the first catch of the American fishermen in response to President Cleveland's threat of "retaliation" would be a display of national timidity that would encourage our neighbors to make any demand that might please their fancy or suit their political exigencies. A way was provided by the rejected treaty for obtaining the desired shipment-in-bond privilege; and it may still be a fair subject for negotiation, but it is not to be given under diplomatic and newspaper dust has been raised. When Talmage fly went half-way down his throat and remained there. He says he did not know whether to swallow or eject the intruder, as the Synod of Dort had given no deliverance on such matters. A case of that kind had never been authoritatively settled. Well, the diplomatists of 1818 had nothing to say about railways, for there were no railways in existence down there to carry fish or anything else. If Lord Salisbury should tell Sir John Macdonald that on the whole he thinks it better that our railways should carry fish, we don't think the heavens would fall or the Dominion go to pieces. The railways will no doubt see that the fare is paid. Why should the commerce of * two Christian countries be endangered by such a question as carrying a few "fish by rail? Simply because reckless politicians wish to make party capital out of the question. Is that a sufficient reason? Sensible people the world over will say, No, and say it with great emphasis."

The Toronto industrial exhibition has been a great success, the attendance and receipts being largely ahead of last year.

The Goderich Signal computes that it will only take 83,351,100 peach baskets at a cent each to make up for the deficit in the Dominion revenue for the year. Rush in the baskets and let the country's balance

The Parnell commission has commenced proceedings, and Sir Charles Russell for Mr. Parnell has scored a success, the judges ruling that the Times would have to produce the letters upon which it based certain charges against the Irish leader.

The Cornwall Freeholder says: A Candian duty of 20 per cent. is levied on huckleberries and pears coming from the United States. It would be interesting to knew why these particular fruits have been taken off the list. We understood all fruits were to be free under the stand-ing offer of reciprocity in natural pro-ducts.

The London Advertiser says: "▲ few years ago it was held to be the eternal credit of the government that they admitted duty free the uncleaned coverings of sausages. Now it is said to be the height of wisdom to tax the coverings of peaches. Why this differentiation, as it were, between sausages and peaches? Both are fairly good articles of food in their proper season."

been secured for Mr. Robt. White, son of magistrate courts bill, but it would have the late minister, though there was some been far wiser to have made the appoint- lively kicking in the convention. Mr. ments provided for under the bill than to Evans, the local candidate first chosen, have displayed the petty spirit that has aroused wide and deep feeling in the sister province. Sir John has lost his gets a place in British Columbia. The writ has been issued and the election takes place at once. Mr. White is a popular and estimable young man of more than

> Mr. Cruess, M.P.P., and Mr. Barron, M.P., have been most energetic in furthering the interests of the electors in the township of Dalton. By their efforts a considerable sum of provincial money has been expended in making and repairing roads. North Victoria has reason to be gratified at the liberal treatment of the Ontario government in the matter of road expenditures last year and this.

The Port Perry Standard's touching appeal to the government to save the upper Scugog waters should move a heart of ada mant. The Standard's description of the inspection of the river is printed elsewhere. It is in error as to the number of turbine wheels in use at Lindsay. There are only eight in the mill; and only three have been used part of the time. From self-interest the mill-owners are exceedingly careful in using the water, so there is as little waste as possible.....We have received a communication on this subject, too late for this issue. It opens up a question of considerable importance to the people of the town and the country to the south.

Hon W. McDougall in an able letter to the Globe discusses the fisheries question in reply to "The Haldimand Deflance." Sir Hector Langevin as a "defence." He first alludes to the enormous strength of the United States as compared with Canada from a military point of view, and also financially, and then discusses the presidential indictment of Canada on the dential indictment of Canada on the question at issue, and concludes that we are substantially guilty on the four counts, that we are unneighborly, we misconstrue and misapply an old treaty, we are mean enough to accept favors which we refuse to reciprocate, and we continue to violate our own contract of 1871 respecting canals. The Globe editorially reviews the letter and contends that Canada's interpretation of the treaty of 1818 is sound and that Canada cannot fairly be charged with unneighborliness.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Sir, -I noticed in your last issue an item from your Fenelon Falls correspondent, in which he makes a statement or two that with your permission I would like to correct. He gave a rather biased and unfair description of the base ball match which was played between Salem and Fenelon Falls on the 5th inst. Allow me to make a plain statement of the matter in order that the public may understand the case fully. "Play" was called by Umpire McKenzie of Kirkfield and all went smoothly until we were playing our fifth and last innings when one of our men ran over first base, turned to his left and was touched with the ball. The umpire declared him safe from the fact that he was unable to determine whether he turned on "foul" or "fair ground." If your correspondent will look up the rules as found on page 36 he will find that it is immaterial to which hand a man turns when on "foul ground," and he will find also that all doubtful decisions shall be given in favor of the runner. Although the Fenelon beys here disputed the umpire's decision the game was resumed and Salem succeeded in scoring three runner. Salem. The game was closed and the umpire gave the game to Salem. After the lapse of half an hour we learned that a committee had been appointed to overthrow the umpire's decision. In our opinion this committee had no authority whatteredty was framed about which so much in the umpire is the sele judge. when one of our men ran over first base.

Lindsay Sons of Temperance (To the Editor of THE POST.)

SIR,-Knowing your seal for the more sment of the community, and your would ask you to kindly give room in your valuable paper to the following short notice of our noble order. I may write

The Sons of Temperance meet every Thursday night in their hall in Baker's block, corner Kent and Cambridge-sts.,
Lindsay. Their object is the promotion of temperance and morality, and the formation of a healthy public sentiment in favor of total prohibition. As a condition of membership they require total abstinence from all intoxicating beverages. They do not mix up with any political or sectarian party; their platform is broad enough to embrace all orthodox Christians. They had their origin long prior to the Crook's act, and will be working their quiet way when the Scott act shall have lived its appointed time. They embrace all good temperance workers and all those who desire to "quit their tippling" and lead sober lives. It does not matter what their views are regarding the Scott act as a means of promoting temperance. They may be in favor of it or opposed to it, yet be good Sons of Tamperance. We invite all to come and join with us who feel the need of our protection or who wish to associate with us in our great labor of love. None but males can join, but we work in harmony with the W. C. T. U. Any one who wishes to become a member can apply to the subscriber who will cheerfully give all information. Intemperance and vice blow dust in people's eyes like the "wandering wind"—Truth fears nothing but concealment.

The night was uncommonly cold and would have been uncomfortable but for the warm speeches delivered by some eminent men. Of the many speakers we were much pleased to see the Rev. Rural Dean Allen and Judge Benson ascend the platform. The judge's speech was very appropriate and interesting and was warmly applauded. Rev. Rural Dean Allen gave an interesting and eloquent address on the progress of Cristian work now in existence, which was interesting to old and young. Then followed a series of recitations, readings, music, vocal and instrumental, which brought the entertainment to a close. Proceeds, $60.
