Priceville Jottings

The recent rains will make the soil in better condition for plowing.

Some people thought that potatoes would be away up in price this season, but if Alberta can ship her enormous crop into Ontario at 75c per bag, the murphys can be had on everybody's table next winter.

We regret very much that several of the fall fairs in our county had their gate receipts considerably cut off owing to the unfavorable weather. The provincial insurance scheme will help a little, but cannot take the place of a sunny day for a fair.

The exhibit in the agricultural hall at Flesherton on the 27th was good, perhaps as fine as any previous, and the natural history exhibit was worth going some distance to see, and we thought, it worth going five miles to see that fine herd of Herefords that came in from Euphrasia. They were beauties. The wet weather interfered with the poultry exhibit as far as numbers were concerned, but there were some fine birds shown.

A. D. McLeod has a large portion of his milldam built over anew with cement, and it looks as if it would be a great saving on water.

We expect to have an enormous butter exhibit at our fair on Oct. 5 and 6 and hope it will be favorable weather.

Mr. Colin McLean got his hand badly injured last week while working with the threshing machine.

Wm. Aldcorn has a cement wall under his barn nearly completed.

Donald Matheson and Stanley Ferguson went to Toronto last week and are attending university.

It seems that the Borden-Bourassa bantam rooster at Riverdale, last week, mounted the monopolists' and trusts' dung pile and essayed to crow, and then smiled sweetly at his own efforts. Dame Rumor says that Riverdale may soon lose this curiosity, as his immaculate articulation would be such a good offset to Henri's Frenchified English, and the mascot would be kept at Ottawa, while his self-asserted ability would induce the unholy alliance to consult him as an oracle.

Card of Thanks

To the Electors of East Grey:

Permit me to thank you for your many courtesies through the recent election campaign, and particularly the nearly 1500 electors who voted for me on Sept. 21st. The time was too short for any personal canvas and even to direct an advertising campaign. The chief regret of the result is that the real issue was clouded by appeals to national and creed prejudices cleverly managed by the trusts of the United States who opposed better trade relations with Canada. Faithfully yours

—C. W. HARTMAN.

Frank Ames, an Englishman, who is serving a three months' term is Walkerton jail for assaulting Mrs. Duncan Campbell of Kincardine on the evening of August 4, will in all probability be deported to the Old Country on the expiration of his sentence.

John Colvin, veterinary surgeon of Teeswater, was fined $5 and costs by Magistrates Robb and McNamara here, on Saturday on the charge of cruelly and unnecessarily beating his horse on the Walkerton race track on Sept. 15. The complainant was Rev. R. Perdue, who is a director of the Humane Society here A large number of witnesses were summoned by the prosecution and according to certain evidence adduced Colvin would seem to have whipped his horse nearly the whole way round the track, and even continued the whipping operations after the race had been concluded and he had passed the judges' stand. Constables Ferguson and Rev. Perdue claimed that the horse was marked with ridges as the result of the treatment it had got. The defendant, however, claimed that he had been pounding the shafts of the sky largely instead of the horse and explained his conduct in continuing the use of the whip after he had passed the judges' stand, to the fact that the horse was in the habit of stopping very suddenly on the track after a race. The magistrates, however, considered that the horse had been unduly whipped, and a fine of $5 and costs was levied against the Teeswater vet for his conduct.—Times.

Knocked Out By the Rain

A Good Show But Crowd Was Absent

Last week's weather was a crusher on all fall fairs. Rains on Wednesday and Friday succeeded in knocking out Shelburne, Durham, Flesherton and Meaford fairs, so far as attendance was concerned. Good weather on Thursday lured exhibitors into coming forward for the Flesherton fair in large numbers and the hall was filed with a display that has never been surpassed in the history of the society. There was no weakness in any department and each one was filled with a splendid display. Friday, however, told a different story. It was cold and rainy and the crowd was absent although quite a goodly number defied the elements. The stock exhibit was superior to most years, but fowl exhibitors and some intending exhibitors of sheep did not bring out their "goods" on account of the rain. The gate receipts, we believe, were the smallest in the history of the society, amounting to a little less than sixty dollars. The general exclamation was, "What a pity, and with a show like this!"

G. H. Reid of Epping showed a herd of Hereford cattle, some of whom were shown at Toronto exhibition.

No sports were called off except the speed contests.

The concert at night was first class and a large audience was present. The receipts of the concert amounted to $93. Cameron and Pigott were the bright particular stars. This was the first concert given in the auditorium of the new high school, and the accommodations were pronounced first class. President Mitchell presided.

The directors are naturally considerably disheartened over the result, but the government insurance will give a little assistance towards paying off indebtedness.

Among the specially good exhibits in the hall might be mentioned roots of all kinds, fruit, butter, the art department, and ladies work.

The natural history exhibit this year was even better than last and attracted a great deal of favorable comment from those present.

The prize list will be found on our last page.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"

Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.

"No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble," writes Phil. E. Pascalar, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the druggist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."

No remedy for biliousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.
