Imperial Airways Giant "Caribou"

A fortnight ago the long-expected Trans-Atlantic Air Mail Service was inaugurated. Carrying 25,000 pieces of mail the Imperial Airways giant flying boat Caribou, shown above, roared up the St. Lawrence to land at Boucherville 33 hours after taking off from Southampton.

Sunday School Lesson . .

UZZIAH: A KING WHO FORGOT GOD—2 Chron. 26:3-5, 16-21

Golden Text.—Every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. Luke 18:14.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time. — Uzziah ascended the throne in 806 B.C. The time when the events in this chapter took place cannot be determined with absolute accuracy, but inasmuch as Uzziah died in 755 B.C., his being stricken with leprosy is placed generally about 768 B.C.

Place.—Jerusalem.

3-4. Sixteen years old was Uzziah when he began to reign; and he reigned fifty and two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jechiliah, of Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the eyes of Jehovah, according to all that his father Amaziah had done.

Uzziah was fortunate to have such a wonderful mother and father. What a blessing for any young man to have a father who has so lived that the boy can do nothing finer than to walk through life in the path which his father had made for him. A father by being honest and pure of heart, upright in all of his dealings, faithful in the services of the church can certainly set up an ideal for his son and help him to live in the way that will bring him the greatest peace and happiness in life.

5. And he set himself to seek God in the days of Zechariah, who had understanding in the vision of God: and as long as he sought Jehovah, God made him to prosper. Uzziah prospered indeed. He bought the Philistines into real subjection. He strengthened the defenses of Jerusalem by building towers at its three weakest points. He organized, equipped, and disciplined the military force of the country on a new plan. The whole country prospered under his rule.

16-17-18. But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up, so that he did corruptly, and he trespassed against Jehovah his God. For he went into the temple of Jehovah to burn incenese upon the altar of incense. And Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him fourscore priests of Jehovah, that were valiant men: and they withstood Uzziah the king. and said unto him It pertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto Jehovah, but to the priests the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honor from Jehovah God.

19-20. Then Uzziah was wroth; and he had a censer in his hand to burn incense; and while he was wroth with the priests, the leprosy brake forth in his forehead before the priests in the house of Jehovah, beside the altar of incense. And Azariah the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him and behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out quickly from thence; yea, himself hasted also to go out, because Jehovah had smitten him.

Thus for his sin he was punished with the terrible visitation of Leprosy. This severe penalty disabled and disqualified a man for all the days and enjoyments of life. His sin was not a mere question between king and priest; that would have been small enough. It was a question whether God should continue to rule, through his chosen officers, over the nation, or whether the king should set aside the divinely given law, and practically make himself supreme. To assume a prerogative which God had strictly confined to the priestly order, was a step that was revolutionary in its character and overturned the most sacred traditions. Too much success had spoiled Uzziah and endowed him with the moral evil of human arrogance.

21. And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a separate house, being a leper; for he was cut off from the house of Jehovah: and Jotham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

It was impossible for a leper to discharge the kingly office, and the regency was consequently conferred upon the king's eldest son, Jotham, who exercised the royal functions while his father suffered a living death. Uzziah must have repented before he died because he certainly left behind him the character of a good rather than a wicked king.

Your Eyes Require Care

Avoid Irritation and Infection By Exercising Precaution

In the daily routine of life, it is important to try to remember to wash one's hands after touching banisters, door knobs, push plates, etc., to avoid carrying infection to the eyes. Even shaking hands transmits germs from one person to the other. Rubbing the eyes after using a handkerchief to blow one's nose is a possible and probable source of infection.

Danger of infection lurks in the swimming pools if the eyes are opened under water and bath towels at public pools, beaches and the Summer resorts are another common source of infection. Do not dry your eyes at all under these conditions.

When motoring try to prevent dust and water from being blown or splashed in the eyes. Trying on other people's glasses and goggles can transmit lid infections and even conjunctival inflammation.

The allergic inflammations from foods eaten and from external irritants such as pollen from trees, plants, flowers or talcum and face powders and dandruff from pets can be guarded against if they seem to cause an irritation. Tissue towels and paper handkerchiefs can cause the sensitive person to have inflammation of the eyelids or eyeballs.

The pupil of the eye is so-called from the Latin word pupilla, meaning little doll, because you can see a small miniature of yourself when you look in another's eyes.

Awakened

The stormy wind blew
  A bright flash of rain
Like a silver lightning
  'Gainst the window pane.
Why did my heart wake
  From a dull sleep?
Remembering fiercely
  To weep, and to weep.
A dead dream wakened?
  Ah! that should not be;
That dream from the past
  Is bitter to me.
I had forgotten
  Through the long years,
How swift remembering
  Could stir one to tears.
Hush, wind, and never
  Let me see again
Rain on a dark night
  Light the window pane.

Beauty In Belts Transforms Gowns

Belts have become more and more elaborate. All sorts of strange and unlikely materials go to the making of them.

A plain black dress can be given whatever character you please by changing the belt.

Do you wish the general effect to be "plain but good"? Then wear a narrow white satin belt embroidered in black silk with your Christian name, and a single string of pearls round your neck.

Make These Yourself

Do you wear something a little bizarre and unusual? Then wear a wide belt in thick oatmeal linen, faced with black felt, and trimmed with flat scarlet beads and little golden bells.

If you have a discarded natural coral necklace, sew the coral round a white suede belt, scatter gold beads in between and wear a gold and coral necklace to complete the effect.

A narrow black crepe de chine belt embroidered in gold thread and edged with gold fringe gives a very sumptuous look to your black frock, and a heavy gold necklace will add the final touch of chic.

Are You Sure Your Face Is Clean?

Normal Care For Normal Skin —Don't Powder Over Dirt

Much has been written about the beauty for people with greasy skins, dry skins, sensitive skins and so on. It is time that something was said on the subject of the normal skin. After all, there are many fortunate people who have nothing very much wrong with their complexions and it is only right and natural that they should want to know how to keep them in that happy condition.

It is, unfortunately, all too true that if a perfectly good, normal skin is left to look after itself, it stands a very good chance of losing its normality, of developing open pores, blackheads, etc. Therefore beauty culture for the normal complexion must be of a protective nature.

What is this protective treatment? Well, it consists of three parts: cleansing, nourishing, and guarding against age. The first is easily the most important part, because dirt is the greatest danger a good skin has to guard against. How many times do you wash your hands each day? Morning, midday, evening and last thing at night, don't you? Probably more often than that. And yet there are hundreds of people who just dab a little extra powder on their faces three or four times a day, and clean it only once. It is true that your hands are constantly in use, and are, therefore, in more direct contact with dirty objects, but it is also true that the foundation cream you use on your face makes it slightly sticky, so that the dirt in the atmosphere naturally clings to it.

There you have Rule 1 for skin beauty. Cleanse your face every time you wash your hands. Your complexion will repay you a thousand-fold for your trouble.

Fill your aluminum saucepan with water and chop up a fair-sized stick of rhubarb. Put this in and boil for two or three minutes. When you have done one saucepan with this mixture pour it into another, and so on, until you have brightened all of them.

Cowbell

It stands upon the woodshed shelf,
Tarnished but golden in the gloom.
Its throat, that on a summer hill
Will taste a waterfall's bright plume.
Or speak of cropped and dewy grass,
Is Silent. In dusty shadows here,
The unshaken voice awaits the hour
When it will wander swaying, clear,
Telling the valley listeners when
The tawny cattle amble far
To nibble the low, white clover-flower
Or homeward turn with the evening star.

—Frances Frost in The Christian Science Monitor.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

DIAMONDS and charcoal are composed of carbon, in an uncombined state. A diamond is pure, crystallized carbon. Carbon is much more abundant, however, in a state of combination with other substances. United with oxygen, it occurs as carbonic acid in the atmosphere.

RADIO NOTES AND NEWS

By MADGE ARCHER

Rudy Vallee Makes a Change

Rudy Vallee and Standard Brands Inc. are terminating their radio contract at the end of Vallee's tenth year on the networks and concluding the longest association in radio of a sponsor and a performer. Vallee's final broadcast under the auspices of Standard Brands will occur on Thursday, September 28, 1939, closing an unbroken radio run on the NBC red network from 8.00 to 9.00 p.m. which commenced on October 24, 1929, when commercial radio broadcasting was in its infancy.

Vallee, who was radio's initial phenomenon, was the first to give evidence of the power of broadcasting as a starmaker. His introduction of most of present stars of the air to the microphone audience led him to become radio's pioneer showman. Vallee, first millionaire performer on the radio, has felt for some time that an uninterrupted ten years of broadcasting under the same sponsorship and at the same hour every Thursday night was sufficient.

Barnum of Radio

Vallee has frequently been called the Ziegfeld and Barnum of radio. He is responsible for uncovering the radio talents of Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Bob Burns, Alice Faye, Joe Penner, Frances Langford, Tommy Riggs and Betty Lou and many others. Among the innumerable stars who came to radio first through the medium of Rudy Vallee's Variety Hour were Grace Moore, Katherine Hepburn, Helen Hayes, Fannie Brice, Robert Montgomery, Frank Fay, Joe Cook, Victor Moore, Walter O'Keefe and a host of others.

Vallee became musically minded while he was attending Yale University. He played a saxophone in a Yale band. After leaving college he organized his own dance orchestra which led to his radio debut in New York on a local station. His first appearance on a network program was on October 24, 1929, the commencement of the first and later most famous radio variety show. Vallee has missed only two broadcasts in ten years, once due to the death of Mrs. Vallee, and once while en route to England to broadcast during the coronation of King George the Sixth.

Vallee's plans for the future are as yet indefinite.

TO BE HEARD

Farm Broadcasts, CFRB 1.05 p.m. Mondays to Fridays; Farm Broadcasts, CBL, 1.30 p.m. Mondays to Saturdays; August 25, 8 p.m., NBC, CBL, Cities Services Orch. ..... 9 p.m., CBS, CFRB, Raymond Paige; August 26, 2 p.m., CBS, CFRB, Bull Session ..... 8 p.m., CBL Jimmy Dorsey's Orch. ..... 10 p.m., CBL, Sym. Strings ..... August 27, 12 Noon, NBC, CBL, Radio City Music Hall ..... 4 p.m., CBS, CFRB, So You Think You Like Music ..... 5 p.m., CBL, Church of the Air ..... 8 p.m., NBC, CBL, Chase and Sanborn Hour ..... 9 p.m., CBL, Appt. With Agostini ..... August 28, 8.30 p.m., NBC, CBL, Voice of Firestone ..... 9.30 p.m., CBS, CFRB, Guy Lombardo Orch. ..... August 29, 8.30 p.m., NBC, CBL, Information Please ..... 9 p.m., CBS, CFRB, We, the People ..... 9.30 p.m., NBC, CBL, Alec Templeton ..... August 30, 8 p.m., NBC, CBL, Ransom Sherman ..... 9.00 p.m., CBL, Songs of the World ..... 10 p.m., NBC, CBL, Sunset Sym. ..... August 31, 8 p.m., CBL, Vicki Chase ..... 9 p.m., CBS, CFRB, Major Bowes ..... 10 p.m., NBC, CBL, Kraft Music Hall .....

FEMALE POLITICIAN

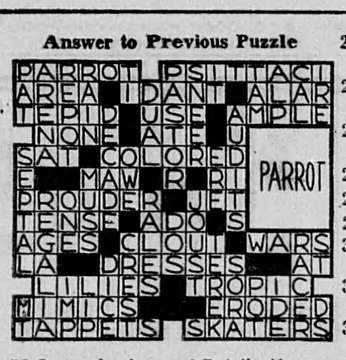
HORIZONTAL

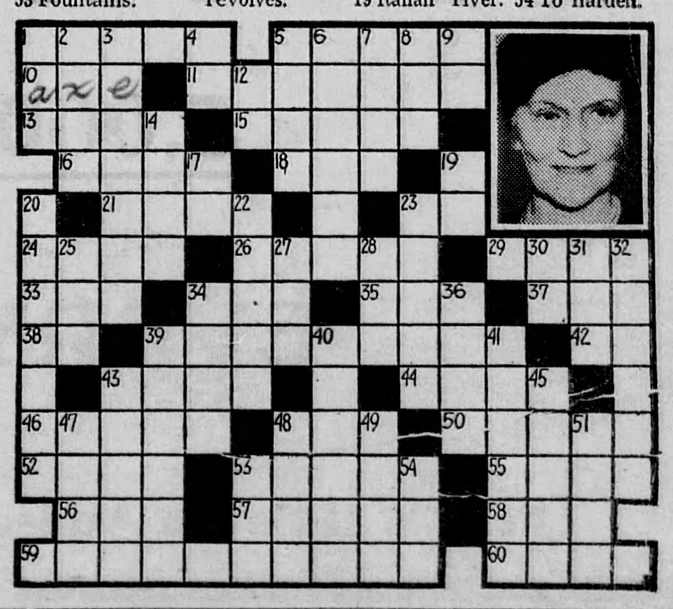
1,5 An English politician.
10 Chopping tool.
11 Opposite.
13 Dress trimming.
15 Vocal composition.
16 Chair.
18 Grief.
21 Petticoat.
23 Behold.
24 Bucket.
26 Foe.
29 Head cook.
33 Being.
34 Sheep's call.
35 A craft.
37 Gone by.
38 Lava.
39 Arbitrary command.
42 Grain.
43 Smooth.
44 To glut.
46 To rectify.
48 Thing.
50 To entertain.
52 Enraptured.
53 Fountains.
55 One who ices.
56 Field.
57 Knave.
58 Expert flyer.
59 She is a member of ——.
60 Her title.

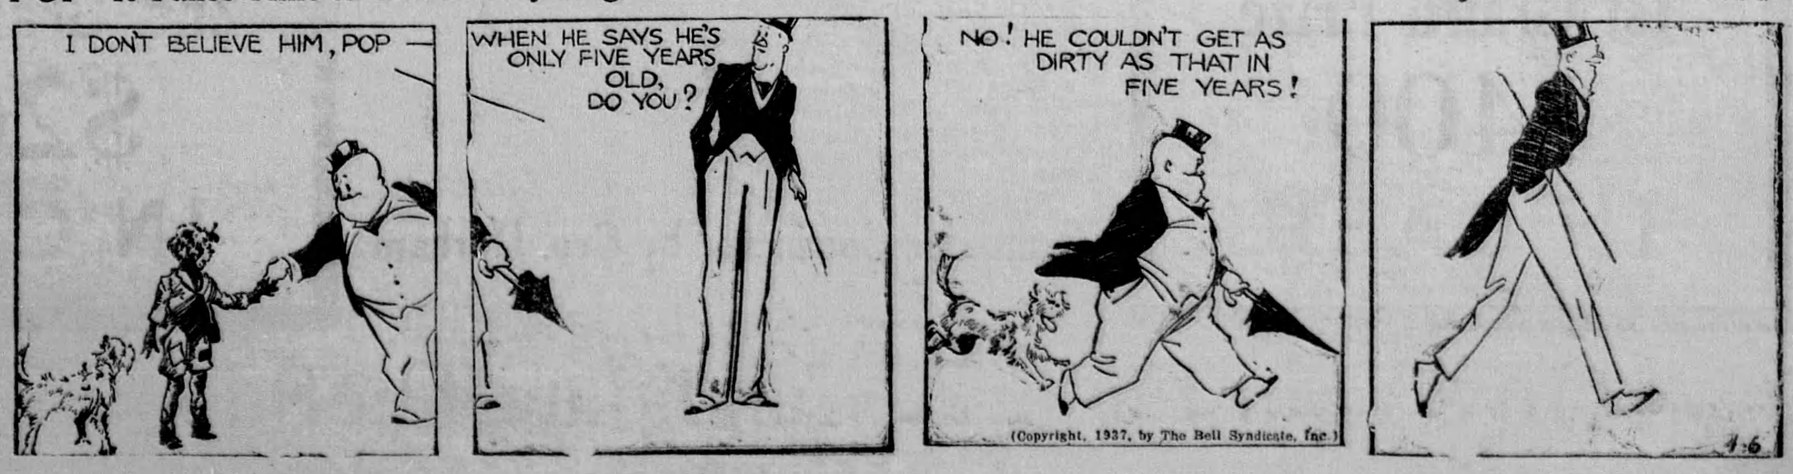
VERTICAL

1 To scold.
2 That on which a body revolves.
3 Retributive justice.
4 Year.
5 To acknowledge.
6 Bristly.
7 Elm.
8 Hops kiln.
9 Musical note.
12 Type standard
14 Tomb cloth.
17 Asiatic tree.
19 Italian river.
20 She is an effective ——.
22 Freedom from war.
23 Appropriate for song.
25 Data.
27 Wood demon.
28 Door rug.
30 Laughter sound.
31 Breakfast food.
32 She is a American.
34 To fetter.
36 Weight.
39 Pertaining to teeth.
40 To retaliate.
41 Single name.
43 Leprous person.
45 Lily plant.
47 Wrongs.
48 Chamber.
49 To stupefy.
51 Ovule.
53 Brother.
54 To harden.

Answer to Previous Puzzle





POP—It Takes Time to Collect Anything


By J. MILLAR WATT