Arrested In Osprey

Albert Hindle of Osprey was arrested one day last week by Inspector H. Reburn and County Constable Cook, charged with having set fire to Curran's sawmill, which was burned down a few weeks ago. The young man was taken to Owen Sound and appeared before Magistrate A. D. Creasor, who remanded him until the 27th inst.

Three or four years ago Hindle worked for Curran, and during the time he was in Curran's employ met with a severe accident by getting his shoulder and side badly cut with the saw. So serious was the injury that his life was despaired of for a long time, but he eventually recovered with the loss of the use of one arm, leaving him badly maimed for life. Since that time he has been manfully endeavoring to earn a living notwithstanding his handicap. The people of Osprey keenly sympathise with him and do not think the authorities will be able to prove that he committed the deed. They have confidence in his innocence. They also think it was a rather high-handed piece of business on the part of the Inspector to arrest the young man and drag him off to the county town without the usual formality of a trial before a local magistrate.

Back Broken

Another tragic factory accident occured in Hanover last Thursday night when Michael Jagelewski, senior night-watchman of the Knechtel Furniture Company, fell down the elevator shaft and broke his back. The man is 55 years of age and had been boarding with his brother. He had been with the Knechtel Furniture Co. for the past 8 years, seven of which he was second night-watch, and the past year first night-watch. At time of writing (Monday) he is still living but his condition is very precarious. He may pass out and he may recover to some extent.

A woman was brutally murdered by an Indian, Jack Bennett, at Middleport.

Elliott McFarlane of Meaford, aged 23 years, was drowned at Midland while bathing.

A despatch from Ottawa to the Toronto World states that cheques are being made out for about 4000 Fenian Raid veterans whose claims have been passed. This is the latest.

Mrs. Robt McDonald, near Mt Forest, met with a peculiar accident. She was in the porch and stepped on the end of a loose board which flew up and struck her on the left side with sufficient force to break two of her ribs

"Continuously advancing cost of production will force the selling prices of shoes to a point higher than we have ever known," said John S. Kent, president of the Brocton Shoe Manufacturers' Association. The advanced prices, he said, would be world-wide. Shoes which have been selling for $5 will cost $6 this fall. The advance in all lines will be about 20 per cent. "Since January 1, 1908," said one dealer, "the price of leather has increased 72 per cent. The principal cause is the popularity of the automobile. The number of sides of leather used in the manufacture of automobiles is enormous."

Electricity on the Farm

Since electricity began to be utilized in farm work, the phrase "rural joys" has a new meaning for the progressive (and sufficiently prosperous) farmer. Six years ago one man, of whom Farm and Fireside tells, put in a small electric plant. The account of what he has made it do reads like a fairy-tale.

Every building, including the pigsty, is lighted by electricity.

A small motor drives a circular saw that cuts expeditiously what fire-wood is used on the farm. The same motor turns a lathe, drill and other machinery in a farm machine-shop near by.

Another motor drives a vacuum pump, by means of which sweeping at the house is done in the most modern manner with vacuum cleaners—swiftly, with no dust and no drudgery.

A pipe from the same vacuum line is run to the cow stables, where two vacuum milking machines milk twenty-five cows each day.

A third motor runs the milk-separator, the churn and the ice cream freezer. Even the grindstone is turned by electric power.

In the house five electric heaters keep the temperature at seventy five degrees, if desired, although it may be at zero outdoors. In the kitchen all the cooking for a family of from five to ten is done on an electric range. A tiny motor runs the family washing machine and wringer and drives the sewing machine.

Electric fans are installed through the house; there is a ventilating fan in the attic, and the water for the house and barn is supplied by an electrically driven pump.

A merger is said to be pending in the hardware and wire trade, which will include three independent wire mills. It is said, however, that the Imperial Steel and Wire Co., of Collingwood, will be the holding company for this merger. This Company recently enlarged its preferred stock capital by $300,000. This stock will be available for the purpose of acquiring a few competitors.—Collingwood Messenger.

The body of C. A. Purvis of Webwood, who had been missing over a week, was found hanging to a tree in Rosedale, Toronto.

William Ternan was killed by a C. P. R train near Arthur, partly through his own negligence.

Walter Bailey, an Orangeville devotee of Orange principles, and also an admirer of Bacchus, spent a glorious day in Grand Valley, imbibing much of the spirit of the day, in addition to quite a cargo of the spirit that is forbidden in the county town. In returning to the station for the afternoon train he decided to ride on the 'bus horses when near his destination, but the beast objected to his efforts and giving a jump sent him beneath the wheels. When pulled out he was all but senseless, and was placed in Wilson Patterson's car and brought down town, where a doctor fixed him up sufficiently to send him home on a stretcher. One leg was broken and he sustained severe internal injuries.—Star Vidette.

While assisting to take off a load of hay in his barn, Mr. Henry A. Reed, lot 14 concession 8, Esquesing, received a fall which caused his death a few hours later. About noon he went to the barn where the men had just arrived with a load of hay, the rope of the rack lifter required adjusting, and Mr. Reed went up to fix it. He was crossing the girt beam on his way down when he suddenly fell to the floor below, a distance of 22 feet. Medical aid was summoned, and although severly shaken up and bruised Mr. Reed's condition was not thought as serious as it proved to be. About 8 o'clock, those at the bedside noticed a weak spell come over him and in a few minutes he passed away.

Arthur Enterprise:—Customers of the Traders' who happened to be in the bank about 11 30 a. m. on Friday last were treated to an exciting rough-and-tumble free of charge. The junior on the staff, a new arrival from Auld Scotia, only two or three weeks ago, had just returned after attending to an errand when the the cashier, as the manager happened to be absent, felt himself called upon for some reason or other to administer to the person of the new comer a none too gentle kick. As it was not his cheek that was smitten the young defendant of the Covenanter, did not feel himself obliged to offer himself for a second rebuff. On the contrary he at once became the aggressor in a rough-and-tumble which shortly resulted in the two assuming a resting attitude on the upper side. However, the vengeance attendant upon the arousing of Caledonian blood was stayed by the gentle solicitations of the ledger keeper and the immediate sale for a coffin was defered. We understand since this little episode, the stock of the young Scot has gone up and he is now treated with a respect in banking circles, second only to that accorded the manager.

Dairying for Profit

Everyone dairying for profit will find that a cream separator is indispensable. It is, therefore, simply a question of which separator will best meet his requirements.

The Dairymaid cream harvester has been designed to meet all demands. It is built of the best material by experienced workmen.

The essential points of the Dairymaid cream harvester are:

Simple construction, Large capacity,
Durable construction, Easy cleaning,
Close skimming, Light running.

These, and many others, are valuable features which make a Dairymaid cream harvester best suited to those dairying for profit.

For every up-to-date, well regulated farm, a Dairymaid cream harvester is a necessity. It will save you the inconvenience of hauling your milk to the creamery, and bringing back cold and tainted or sour skim milk.

Use a Dairymaid cream harvester and separate your milk while it is still warm and secure all the butter fat.

Call and examine a Dairymaid cream harvester and secure one of the handsome little booklets telling you more about this separator.
