A baseball match between Proton Station and Flesherton, on the grounds here Monday evening, resulted in a score of 20-4 in favor of the home team, but Flesherton does not claim the full score owing to the fact that it was getting dark when they were at bat in the last half and ran up eleven runs of the total.

Another bibulous case was tried before Magistrate Boyd and McMullen, on Wednesday of last week, when Joe and Wm. Hawkins and D. McDonald were charged with not being able to walk the straight and narrow path. They denied the soft empeachment, but paid costs of the case on invitation of the magistrates —Same as the last recorded case.

Two sporting events of extraordinary interest took place in this district on Friday afternoon last. At the Swinton Park Orange picnic Flesherton football boys played the renowned club of that place to a tie with no goals scored on either side. This was quite a surprise, even to the Flesherton kickers themselves. At a garden party at Vandeleur on the same afternoon Kimberley baseball club got its first defeat this year by the Vandeleur club to the tune of 14-4.

A monster garden party will be held at Kimberley on Tuesday afternoon of next week. A good program and baseball match between Kimberley and Vandeleur.

The bills say there will be baseball matches between Ceylon and Flesherton young ladies and between Inistioge and Springhill teams, and football between Swinton Park and Flesherton. Balloon ascension and fireworks in the evening. Games begin at 4 p.m. sharp. Tea from 6 to 8. You can afford to drive a long distance to participate in a good evening of fun, and the ladies would like to see everybody there.

Gordon—Anderson

The home of Mr. John Anderson, centre line, Wareham, was the scene of a pretty but quiet wedding on Monday afternoon, July 29 when the marriage of his youngest daughter, Nellie, to Mr. John Gordon of Weston, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gordon, Hatherton, was solemnized. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jas. Phimister, Maxwell, in the presence of about twenty-five invited guests. Promptly at four o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the bridal chorus, played by Miss Edna Morrow. The bride, who was daintly gowned in white allover embroidery, was attended by Miss Annie Middleton, Dundalk, wearing white silk. Mr. Wm. W. Anderson ably supported the groom. The groom's gift to the bride and bridesmaid were beautiful gold brooches set with pearls, and to the groomsman, gold cuff links. Following the ceremony and congratulations, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served in the dining-room. One tem worthy of note was the marriage taking place on the bride's father's eighty-second birthday. The numerous beautiful presents attested to the esteem in which she was held. Among the presents was a mantle clock given by the Wareham Epworth League, and also a beautiful silver sugar bowl and shell, presented by her Sunday School class of about twenty girls. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon will visit friends in this vicinity for a few days, then will leave for their new home in Weston. Their many friends join in wishing them a happy life voyage.

Harvesting Alsike Clover For Seed

The time is now drawing near, if not already here in some parts, when alsike should be cut for seed. Those who have had no experience with alsike may sustain a heavy loss by not harvesting it soon enough. There is uneveness in blooming of the plants and also in ripening of the heads, the lower parts maturing seed first. Hence, in no case should alsike be left until it appears to be fully ripe before cutting.

Examine the heads frequently after the seed has formed and when most of them show signs that the seed will shell out, cut it as soon as possible. It should be cut when damp with dew or rain to prevent shelling and when the straw is more or less green; the fodder then is quite palatable and nutritious.

The reaper with four or five rakes is perhaps the best machine to cut it with when the straw is long enough. If fixed to the cutting bar of mower may be used. Where a bunch accumlates it is lifted or shoved off by a fork or rake behind the mower. If a mower is used without the table attachment there will likely be more loss tramping and raking. When hauling to the machine in the field or starting to the barn it is advisable to have a canvass spread over the shelving of the wagon. This saves a lot of seed.

The August Rod and Gun

An interesting description of Gatta Day, Newfoundland's great national summer fete day is contributed to the August issue of Rod and Gun, published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ont., by W. Lacey Amy. Following this, one is interested in the reproduction of pictographs or rude paintings made by the Kootenay Indians on the rocks of their native Province and in their story as told by Chas. D. Ellis. The same author also contributes the story of a trip on Toby Glacier and up Mt Gleanson, the illustration accompaning which help to make the reader forget the hot summer weather. Messers Croft, authors of the Black and Silver Foxes, have still another article in the August number which, as usual, is well illustrated. Many other articles deal with summer vacations in Canadian territory.

Shooting Near Stayner

Stayner's Civic Holiday didn't pass without an accident. Fortunately death did not result but it came close enough for one to see how near it may come when least expected. James Peattie and D. J. Jones started out on Thursday on a fishing expedition selecting that part of Nottawasaga River a short distance above the Little Bridges. Mr. Peattie was sitting on a stump glancing now and agian at his line and then up the river where he could see a party of men and hear a gun fired off occasionally. In his mind he hoped there would be no firing down the river as many others might be fishing too. He dismissed the thought and the next moment he was struck by a bullet. Mr. Jones at once came to Mr. Peattie's assistance they discoved the bullet had gone into the right shoulder high up and there was a good deal of bleeding. It took a little time to hitch up and then drive into town. On consulting a doctor he pronounced the wound not dangerous but decided to make no attempt to extract the bullet. A couple of inches to the left and a different story might be told.

It turns out that young Charlie Knox was with the party of young men and had a 25 calibre rifle with which he took an occasional shot. The last shot he took was down the river and it reached an object not intended by the marksman.—Stayner Sun.

C. P. R. Rumors

The street is alive with various reports about the letting of the contract for the construction of the Baxter-Collingwood branch, says the Collingwood Enterprise. Rumor has it that this contract has already been let to the Toronto Construction Co., and no doubt this is the company who will build the line when it is built. One fact alone we are sure of and that is that within the last few days the right of way man has been buying land near Angus and was working this way. September 1st is the time stated for the commencement of the construction, and it begins to look as if the line will be built this fall, as we have all along predicted. Big bodies move slowly, and the C. P. R. is no exception, but when they do move things happen quickly.

Stone Settement

A number in this vicinity attended the picnic at Swinton Park.

FIFTY THOUSAND MEN REQUIRED

Farm Laborers' Excursions—This Year's Wheat Crop will be the Largest in The History of Canada.

The wheat crop of 1912 will be the greatest ever harvested in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, thus requiring the farm laborers of the East to recruit and assist in harvesting the World's greatest bread basket.

The Governments of the respective provinces state that fifty thousand men will be required for this year's harvest. These will have to be principally recruited from Ontario, and the prosperity of Canada depends on securing labor promptly. The Canadian Pacific, on which Company will fall practically the entire task of transporting the men to the West, is already making special arrangements for this year. Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, will be run and special trains operated, making the trip in about thirty-six hours and avoiding any change of cars or transfers. This will be a day shorter than any other route.

Dates, rates and conditions will be announced in a few days. Consult any C. P. R. Agent for full particulars.
