Remarkable Lightning Freak

At about 11.15 Monday morning the house of John McArthur, about 3 miles east of Edgar, Oro township, was struck by lightning. Mr. McArthur and his eldest son, Alex., and three young daughters, were sitting in the kitchen during the storm. The lightning struck the chimney, knocking it off the house and leaving not a brick. Down the stovepipe the current ran, stunned the two younger girls and struck the eldest girl, Katy (about 17 years old), who was badly hurt. The lightning hit her on the hip, tearing her skirt to shreds and setting fire to her clothes, tore the two sleeves of her dress into ribbons, ripped both of her boots as complely to pieces as though a charge of dynamite had done the work, and burnt the girls severely about the hip, both ankles and feet, and one arm. Alex., who was sitting on the opposite side of the room from Katy, had his foot severely burned, and one boot torn to shreds.

After doing this damage, the lightning passed into and across the dinning-room, tearing the maple floor from end to end.

The same bolt slivered a rafter in the roof on the opposite side of the house from the kitchen, and splintered the frame of the garden gate sixty yards distant from the house.—Barrie Examiner.

The C. P. R. will use telephone despatching over its 4,000 miles of single track from ocean to ocean this year.

Walkerton

A resident in the West Ward likens the Walkerton piggery unto an academy of music, and indeed with pork so high the squeal of a pig is fast becoming a high-tone sound. What was formerly considered a nuisance is now construed a melody, as people lay awake thinking of the hams those squeals represent.

Having armed themselves with a marriage license, which they purchased from Mr. T. E. Atwood here, a big stalwart from Greenock, and a blushing bride-to-be from Hamilton, repaired to the Methodist parsonage for the ostensible purpose of being joinad in the bonds of matrimony. The preacher was about to open the sacred volume and ask the world why this young couple shouldn't wed, when the bride suddenly knocked the wind out of his sails by declaring that she had changed her mind, and suiting the action to the word she wheeled around and walked out of the door as single as she had come in. Dropping a crippled wing the groom followed after her, but all his entreaties didn't induce her to come back again. The friends of the groom who were outside ready to extend congratulations and throw confetti, probably felt like heaving rocks at the bus as the bride-elect got aboard and was driven to the station preparatory to entraining for her home in Hamilton.

Seraphine Benninger, 14 years, who invaded the Walker House bar on the evening of Sunday, August 25th, and stole about $10 worth of cigarettes and a quantity of money, was placed under arrest by Chief Ferguson on Thursday morning last and taken before Magistrate Tolton before whom he pleaded guilty to the theft. The prodigal manner in which the boy started to squander the coin after he had committed the deed was largely responsible for his undoing. On Saturday he was arrainged before Judge Klein, who after hearing the circumstances of the case, sentenced the lad to two years in the reformatory.—Herald.

Miss Mary Leitch, of Coulson, was fatally burned by a lamp explosion, which also caused the destruction of the house and contents.

Barnhouse--Walters

At the Central Methodist parsonage, Calgary, July 27th, a pretty wedding took place, when Mr. Egbert Percy Barnhouse, of Edmonton, and Miss Catherine Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Walters, Toronto, were united in marriage, Rev. S. E. Marshall officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnhouse will spend their honeymoon in Banff before returnte Edmonton, where many friends will greet them. Mr. Barnhouse is of the Bulletin advertising staff.
