TRUTH BEFORE FAVOR—PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

Jaffrey--Douglas

The marriage of Miss Margaret Allison, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Douglas, Feversham, and Mr. James Grieg Jaffrey of Silesia, Montana, was celebrated at the bride's home at 5 o'clock on Wednesday, September 25, 1912. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion and an aisle of ribbon led to an arch of white, figured with ferns and autumn leaves. While Mrs. Jerrett played the bridal music, Mr. Douglas brought in and gave away his daughter, who was preceded by two little relatives, Winifrid McMullen and Beatrice Bewell, carrying baskets of pink and white carnations. The bride looked lovely in cream satin with garniture. Her bouquet was a shower of pink and white carnations and her veil was fastened in cap fashion with orange blossoms. She wore a gold pendant set with paredoit stones and pearls, the gift of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas gave a wedding supper of dainty and delicate variety to more than sixty guests. Pink and white carnations, mingled with smilax and maidenhair fern, were the chief feature of the decorations. At the close of the banquet Rev. J. Phimister proposed the health of the bride, and Rev. A. Sifton made a neat complimentary speech. Mrs. Jerrett received from the groom a gold brooch and each of the flower girls a gold bracelet. The display of wedding gifts was unusually fine. Mrs. Jaffrey will be at home after New Years in Silesia, Mont., where her husband owns extensive ranch interests. She leaves behind many friends and will be especially missed by the church where her services as organist have been much appreciated, and have made public some very worthy traits of her character, most holy fidelity to duty. Every one wishes her and her chosen all that life can give them. Among the many guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. H. Smart, Collingwood; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jerrett, Mr. and Miss McMullen, Clarksburg; Mr. and Mrs. A. Carruthers, Mr. and Mrs. R. McMullen and family, Kimberley; Mr. and Mrs. Chard, Mr. L. and Miss M. Chard, Rock Mills; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Chard, Portlaw; Mr. J. Douglas, Dundalk; Mr. A. and Miss A. Douglas, McIntyre. The happy couple leave by boat next week for an extensive tour to Chicago and other cities in the United States.

Mills--Colgan

The marriage of Miss Margaret Alice Colgan, second daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Colgan of Flesherton, to Mr. Charles Edward Mills of Melancthon, was solemnized at high noon on Sept. 25, at the bride's home. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. E. Wellwood, the bride's pastor. The young couple were married under an arch, the house being prettily decorated with autumn leaves. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sarah, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Herman Mills. The wedding was quiet, only the immediate relatives being present. After the service a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Mills will reside in Melancthon, near Dundalk. The best wishes of their many friends follow them.

Blackburn—Banks

The residence of Mrs. S. E. Banks, 49 First street, Orangeville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday Sept. 24, when her daughter Reta, was wedded to Mr. Robert Blackburn of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn of Flesherton, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. W. G. Robinson. The bride who was given away by her brother, Earle, was attired in apricot satin with pearl trimmings, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Robina, gowned in pale yellow duchess paillette, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. The groom was supported by Mr. Bert Burnese of Toronto. The happy couple left on the evening train for Owen Sound. Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn spent a few days, with relatives here.

Eugenia Paragraphs

To show the salubrity of the climate of Eugenia, ripe red raspberries have been picked on several farms around Eugenia. Why should people go to southern parts when there is such mild climate at home, when Mrs. Robert Gorurley, Sr., can go out and pick a nice mess of ripe berries for supper on her farm in the valley.

Mrs. Woodburn has been laid up for the past week with a severe cold.

Miss Ada Thompson of Flesherton visited at Mrs. Woodburn's the past week.

Duckett's fresh lime is going like hot cakes. Call early.

Wedding bells are ringing.

Owing to the wet weather many farmers have grain out yet.

Best Bros. threshed in our vicinity during the past week.

Wallace Mathewson and Harold Yorke of Markdale spent a few days recently with the former's uncle, Fred.

Mr. Glen Davis is engaged helping his brother, Wes., of Markdale, at painting.

Brown Bros. have had concrete floors put in their stables by T. Lever.

Mrs. John Boland of Vandeleur is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Will Swanton.

Harvest's nearly over;
Threshing time is here;
Men are at their festing,
When the women are not near.

One man has had two feasts,
While his wife a visit takes,
Ah! when his wife returns,—
"Oh Dear,—My goodness sakes."

The house is upside down,
Feathers are everywhere.
Look, Look around and see,
The furniture needs repair.

Oh host, do tidy up the house,
Before your wife returns,
For she will surely ask
What all this fuss concerns.

Now hurry up and have your game
Ere holidays are past.
You know the wife will soon be home,
Then the fun it cannot last.

Riverdale

Fall fairs are the order of the day at present.

Mr. Jos. Webber of Kimberley was engaged pruning apple trees for Mrs. Johnston, on main street, last week.

Miss Essey Sewell of the West back line, visited on second avenue east, recently.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," but with the recently installed 'phones in this vicinity, its a thing of beauty and a noise forever.

Priceville Cor. to his medical adviser—"Look heah doctah, I have taken youah advice and tried a cantah wound the park before breakfast, but it dosen't do my livah a bit of good." Emminent M. D.—Uh! I a. m. afraid the good effects of the canter before breakfast are counteracted by the bad effects of the stimulating contents of the decanter after dinner.

Speaking of juicy weather, we have assuredly received our share of the damp goods this season to date, so much so that the boys in this vicinity are becoming webb-footed.

Corn harvesting operations will be in full swing next week in this vicinity.

Riverdale is enjoying one of the greatest corn years in its history, the immensity of the crop is actually phenomenonial, and we understand that corn binders, having proved a failure, experienced bushmen will be engaged to fell the giant stalks, Maxwell vicinity is evidently a good corn growing community. Corn nine feet high in Riverdale this season is considered a measely crop. How about your cabbage and water Maxwell?
