The Stove Leaked.

Mr. Stump of Orangeville had started a new parlor cook stove in his dining-room a couple of days previous and on Sunday night checked it off and retired shortly after 10 o'clock to a bed-room adjoining the dining room. In the morning Mrs. Stump woke but could hardly move. Finally she made her way to the kitchen door but retreated and fell unconscious on the couch in the kitchen. Just before falling she screamed and aroused her husband, who with much difficulty succeeded in reaching the rear kitchen door. Here he sat on the step for a minute and fainted, falling into the cellar-way. Mrs. Armour Grey, a neighbor, happened to see him fall and immediately ran over to see what was the matter, She found the house filled with coal gas and Mrs. Stump unconscious on the couch. Doors and windows were immediately opened and medical aid was sent for. The victims were restored with considerable difficulty but they have not yet fully recovered from the effects of the gas. Their little baby was not badly affected.—Sun.

Removed the Child

A couple of weeks ago, says the Orangeville Banner, a little child was sent from Toronto to Orangeville and placed in the custody of Mrs. Cheeney, a rather eccentric old lady who resides in the east ward. The parents, it appears, are Bulgarians and when the war broke out the father decided to return to his native country to serve against the Turks. The mother, who was giving up housekeeping and taking a place in a restaurant until her husband returned, decided to place the child with some person who would care for it. One of her acquaintances, Jennie Cheeney, proposed sending it to her mother in Orangeville. A bargain was struck, the mother agreeing to pay something like $8 a month for the child's keep. The babe—a fine healthy child—was forwarded to Orangeville. Neighbors began to complain in a few days that the old lady was neglecting and even ill-treating the child. The complaints reached the ears of Police Magistrate Pattullo, who investigated the matter and satisfied himself that they were well-founded. Proceedings were immediately taken under the Cruelty to Children Act, and as a consequence the little one has been removed from the custody of Mrs. Cheney and is now being cared for by Mrs. David Hunter.

A horse stolen from a Huron farmer has been recovered in Owen Sound. The thief is still at large.

Mrs. Judge, for nearly forty years post-mistress of Mono Road, died on Thursday of last week at the age of 70 years. The duties of the office at all times were performed in a satisfactory manner.

Gertie Wright, nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. S. Wright, of Berkeley, had a very painful experience one day last week. The little girl was playing around the cream separator while it was going at full speed and her hair became entangled in the gear, which wound up the hair until it pulled off a portion of the scalp. Dr. Egan is in attendance, and she is getting along nicely.—Standard.

The three year term within which the killing of deer has been prohibited in the county of Simcoe being about to expire the county council petitioned the Legislature to extend the time for another three-years. Their request has been granted, an order-in-council being passed prohibiting the killing of deer in Simcoe for another three years from the first of November.—Messenger.

The Indians of Cape Croker are very numerous in town this week, and no wonder for the are getting paid for their fish. They did well, made heaps of money. Two Indians cleared $400 in three weeks, and the total amount paid the residents this week would run well up into the thousands. Between what the Indians get from fish, logs and the government annuity they are about the best off in the country.—Wiarton Canadian.

An item in the Ontario Gazette stating that the Pine River Light & Power Company, Limited, has been incorporated in Orangeville, capitalized at $200,000, would appear to mean a reorganization of what has latterly been known as the Bondholders of the Dufferin Light and Power Company. It is understood that the company expect to have the new dam on the Pine River east of Horning's Mills finished by the first of the year.—Shelburne Economist.
