ODINAV NOVEMBER 6, 1891.

POPLAR HILL.

TIT PITS - Robert Osborne, who has been sick for the last three weeks, owing to a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels, is getting around again, but is improving slowly, however. There seems to be a great deal of sickness around here how ..... We hear that our school teacher has been re-engaged for another year ..... Now that the time for root-digging is over, a more regular attendance will be expected at school. It has been ruther slim since summer vacation. It does not pay to keep your children from school. One day at home means two days lost. It is discouraging to both teacher and pupil..... The people are sorely in need of water in this vicinity owing to such a continued dry weather ..... Something peculiar seemed to have taken place a week ago last Wedresday after, prayer meeting, on the west road.

INGOLDSBY.

Special to The Warder.

WE ARE SORRY to have to chronicle the death of an old and respected settler of Minden, who has resided for many years at Ingoldaby. Mr. J. W. Hunt departed this life on Saturday, 17th October, after an illness of about two weeks. The remajor was followed to the grave on the 19th by a large number of friends to Ingoldaby cometery. The body was borne by five of his sons, R. H. Baker making the sixth person, two of his sons being sull from home. He leaves a wife, one daughter and seven sons to mourn

Special to The Hurder. MR EDITOR -As nothing has appeared in THE WARDER from our yillage for some time and owing to the severe sickmess of my wife, I was unable to thank the trande for their kindness to me and my wife during her illness. At the presept I am giad to state she is in a fair way or recovery, although not yet out of danger. The much credit cannot be given to the Dra. Brereson for their at tention and treatment of her, performing a very successful operation, it being a very critical one. I also wish to extend my hear y thanks to Mrs. Jas. Lytle, Mrs. Fred Veals, Mrs. Florence Lytle, and Miss Sust An lerson, for the kind manner in which they helped to take care of her for the past six weeks. W. J. FALLIS. LARGE quantities of grain have come into this market the past two weeks. Ous merchant, Joseph Hadden, is taking in the dollars about as fast as he can count them. He supplies the patrons of

B.C. The incident that pleased me most at Winnipeg was being hunted up by a Mr. Allardyce, whom I taught in Scotland 47 years ago, and with whose family I came out to this country in the year 1045. He has retired from business and lives on the bank of the Red River in a beautiful spot. He has two sons counceted with the Oglvice Milling Co., the one as foreman and the other as book-keeper. At this mill Mr. Allardyce told me they turn out a bag of flour a minute night and day. This mill is the only object of Pitcher's Castoria.
