Coughing

Is Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages.

Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."

"Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

The Mischievous Boy Again.

POWMANVILLE. Nov. 12.—During the dinner hour on Tuesday a little son of Mr. James Rundle, jr, plucked a burning stick from a heap of rubbish that was being burned near the house and set fire to the straw in the barnyard. The fire was not observed by the men until the buildings were a mass of flame. The entire contents were burned, including the whole season's crops—about 400 bushels of wheat, 350 bushels of oats, buckwheat, barley, peas, hay and straw, in all about $1,500 worth. There was no insurance on either the buildings or contents. Several farmers in that section decided two years ago not to continue insuring their buildings, and this occurrence has convinced at least one of them of the unwisdom, of their decision. Mr. Rundle lives in the Courtice settlement, three miles west of Bowmanville, Tobacco an Antiseptic.

It has iong been a popular opinion that tobacco is an antiseptic, and this belief seems to have some solid basis of fact. Professor Vincenzo Tassinari, of the Hygienic Institute of the University of Pisa, recently made some very interesting experiments on the supposed germicidal virtues of tobacco smoke, which seemed to show that it really had a destructhe blue pus bacillus. Wishing to imitate as closely as possible the processes going on in a smoker's mouth, the professor passed tobacco fumes through a horizontal tube into a receptacle kept moist by damp cotton wool, which contained also a colony of bacilli. The result showed that the smoke retards the growth of some kind of hacilli and sheelntaly prevents some kind of bacilli, and absolutely prevents the growth of others. The tobacco experi-mented with was that which is used in making the large Cavour cigar, much favored in Italy, and it was proved that its fumes retard the growth of pus bacilli by seventy fore him. He was asked if they were two hours; and of cattle distemper bacilli correct and invited to furnish additional two hours; and of cattle distemper bacilli by one hundred hours, while they absolutely arrest the growth of the so-called cholera and typhus bacilli. If Professor Tassinari's results may be relied upon, it is evident that not only is tobacco not the deadly enemy of man—and it is singular with what sourcess man takes to so many of his dead. agerness man takes to so many of his dead-ly enemies—but in many instances it is his great friend, not only by way of solace, but as a warder off and destroyer of deadly germs that insist on colonising his body, and turning it to their own uses.—All the Year Round.

HOW WHELAN WAS PLUNDERED AND THE PEOPLE ROBBED BY THE QUEBEC MIN-ISTERIAL HIGHWAYMEN. MERCIER AND HIS GANG GOT $115,000 OUT OF THE QUEBEC COURT HOUSE JOB-THE SAME OLD BAIE DES CHALEURS CROWD OF THIEVES WERE IN IT-WENT TO AID LAURIER IN THE DOMINION ELEC-

MIER MERCIER.

MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—The Empire correspondent has referred time and again to the enormous sums which the Hon. Mr.

Mercier, his colleagues and political friends have within the last four years levied upon Mr. John P. Whelan, the wealthy contractor of the Quebec court house, yet not until a day or two ago was Montreal, Nov, 10.—The Empire correspondent has referred time and again to the enormous sums which the Hon. Mr. Mercier, his colleagues and political friends have within the last four years level upon Mr. John P. Whelan, the wealthy contractor of the Quebec courts house, yet not until a day or two xage was the writer in a position to fully realize the magnitude of this the greatest steal of all. As before stated in the Empire and other conservative newspapers, the total amount confiscated in this manner by the Liberal leaders of Quebec province was placed at $67,000, but large as this amount may appear to the unnitisted and to those unacoustomed to the thieving propensities of the Quebec clique, a considerably larger sum than that which Pacaud bagged from the provincial treasury was as good as stolen from the public chest in connection with the building referred to.

LA MINREY'S PERTINENT QUESTION.

This morning La Minerye published the following at the head of its editorial page: "It is true that Mr. J. P. Whelan paid $115,000 to the big guas of the context for the construction of the Quebec court house?"

This question has been asked so many times without evoking a satisfactory reply that the correspondent started out determined to get at the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth in connection with a matter that concerned not only the people of this province, but, as will be seen lower down, the ratepayers of the entire Dominion. While the honjudges of the Royal Commission are deliberating upon the scandalous details of the Baie des Chaleurs transaction, and while most people are consoling themselves that the public have at last got at the bottom of the rottenness and rascality of the Mercier, Langelier, Pacaud regime in this province, the Empire, which has ever been to the front in exposing the corrupt practices of the Palatine count, is to-day enabled to lay bare one more, and perhaps the very worst, of the intamous scandals which have come to the surface during the few years of National rule in during the few years of National rule in

THE STATRLING DETAILS. The following is a carefully detailed correct statement of money's paid by Mr. John P. Whelan to members of the Mercier and Laurier party for personal and political uses, the same being distributed while the contractor was building the structure in question or since the claim had been authorized by the Legislature of the province:

Hon. H. Mercier..... Hou H. Mercier and C. A. Beau-Achilie Carrier, M.P.P. for Gaspe Hon Charles Langelier..... Hon. P. Garneou and others..... Hon. A. Turcotte, ex Attorney of Montreal..... Sundry Liberals..... Dominion elections, 1887.....

Grand total$115,000 It will now be discovered that Ernest Pacaud had a precedent to look back to when he and his Ministerial masters at Quebec deliberately stole provincial to help Laurier at Ottawa during the Dominion elections of 1891, as the same dastardly trick had been consummated in

SOME FURTHER ITEMS. In order; however, that there may be no mistake about it the Empire presents the tollowing details: Paid Perreault..... Paid Mathew Hearn's election in

This the Quebec clique begged from Mr. Whelan to fight the battles of germicidal virtues of tobacco smoke, which seemed to show that it really had a destructive action upon the growth of bacili, those minute organisms which are said to be the hands of the Empire correspondent goes cause of a vast number of bodily ills that to show that the sum of $8,000 which flesh is heir to. Professor Tassinari observed figures in the first of the above lists was the action of the fumes upon seven different kinds of bacterio—the so called cholera hacillus, the cattle distemper bacillus, the pursoness, the Finkler-Prior bacterium, the pus coccus, the Finkler-Prior bacterium and the pus coccus typhus and pleuro-pneumonia bacillus, and and can be had at a moment's notice It should be said, however, that $2,500 went to secure Mr. Charles Champagne's election in Hochelaga, and $650 to Mr. F. Y. Lemieux in Levis.

MR. WHELAN INTERVIEWED.

The Empire's next step was to interview Mr. J. P. Whelan himself, and it would be difficult to find a more surprised gentleman than the famous contractor when the above figures were placed beviewed, and the following conversation slowly to rest, and draws over the view, shown you correct?" "Yes, I am sorry to say, they are sub stantially correct." "With reference to the heavy amounts, such as $18,500 to Hon. Mr. Mercier, $28,500 to Mercier and his law partner,

"Yes, it is all too true." "Where those sums used for election purposes ?" "Yes, and for personal expenses also."

WHY HE HAD TO GIVE UP. "What value were you supposed to re-ceive from Pacaud, Beausoleil, Charles

Langelier and Carrier?" "They were all acting as agents to help me out with the Government, for Lange lier was not at that time a member of the

JIMMY MCSHANE'S SHARE OF THE PLUNDER. "Now tell me, Mr. Whelan, about this sum of $7,100 which you are alleged to have paid to Hon. James McShane, for you know our pure mayor has designated you know our pure mayor has designated Sir Charles Tupper a highwayman and a robber, and this item will be of especial interest to the people of Montreal?"

"Well, the money was paid for election purposes, a part to himself and a part to himself and a part to Perreault matter, he came and reproached me, when I replied: 'Mr. Mercier, you are mistaken, the Perreault note is fixed up, but the one unpaid was for $2,500 to assist Champagne in Hochelaga. This however, was settled a short time after, and, with interest, amounten to $2,668."

BOODLE AGAINST CURRAN. "Is there anything peculiar in the payment of the $8,600 tor Montreal Centre?"

"No, excepting that I never got as much as a thank you for having assisted them to fight my old friend Curran, who, thank God, whipped us handsomely. I quarrelled with him on the Riel matter, but the contract of the contra but we are now good friends again, and I intend that we shall remain so."

OTHER BOODLE EXPENDITURES. Proceeding, Mr. Whelan explained that the first sum of $2,500 in the list of Dominion election expenses was a note made by D. Ford to Mercier, endorsed by Hon. Messrs. Mercier, Shehyn and Garneau, discounted by a well known Daebee boot and shoe dealer and paid by Mr. Whelan at the National Bank. "And the second sum of $2,500 ?" queried the correspondent.

"This was each given to the Hon. Senator Pelletier in two sums, the first of $1,500 and the second of $1;000."
"Can you tell me what elections were on when Mr. McShane came into possession of the boodle referred to a while ago ?' "I think a part of this money went to are you driving at?

"Is it not a fact that in August, 1886, in the presence of two other gentlemen Mr. Mercier promised that your claim would be settled upon his arrival to power, and that he there and then demanded of you a certain amount of money to enable him to carry the elections ?' The contractor dropped his eyes for a moment and then replied: "Yes, he did, and a bargain was entered into, but I decline to reyeal to you the nature of it. The correspondent, thinking he had enough to keep the whole Dominion talking for a week at least, thanked Mr. Whelan for these interesting details and the interview terminated.

The Old Manor House.

Ah! see it now, gaze down through the vista of overhanging oaks, until your eye rests on the grand old house, with its gables and terraces, quaint old chimney-tops and large bow-windows, bathed in all the golden glory of the setting sun, at the close of a perfect September day in the year 17—. Stand on one of the spacious balconies and gaze around at the garden with its splashing fountain and broad walks and lawns, bordered with fruit trees drooping under their luscious burdens. Beyond stretches a vast expanse of hill and dale where the great orb sinks a yeil, which we call the gloaming. Aye! "Are the statements which I have just the gloaming, what queer tales might it recall of men and maidens, of whispers soft and low, and tender glances of happy meetings and sorrowful farewells. But how describe the dance itself! The music, now fast, now slow, filling the old oak-pannelled ball-room with waves of thriling sound, the soft, rythmetic rustle of silk and satin dresses, MACLEOD, N.W.T., Nov. 10.—Fire-Steel, the Blood Indian who was wounded by Policeman O'Brien in self-defence, continues to live, eat, talk and smoke, although the bullett passed clean through his body and through one of his lungs. An effort was made to have him brought into the fort hospital, but the Indians objected to it, as well as the invalid, who preferred the services of a medicine man preferred the services of a medicine man of his own tribe to whom he had promised ten horses if he cured him of his mised ten horses it he cured him of his wound, to the skill and comforts of a regular physician and of a well-equipped hospital. The medicine man had the wounds plugged with rags to prevent the escape of blood, which a thousand chances to one will produce blood poisoning and death. Dr. Aylen, surgeon to the N.W.M.P., went out several times to look after his welfare, but was not allowed within ten feet of him, and could not persuade the poor wretch to consent to be brought in to the hospital.
