PURE FOODS AND FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

There were two items published in the daily press the other day that formed a laughable commentary on our twentieth century method of doing things. The premises of a certain fire extinguisher manufacturing company in Toronto took fire and were burned to the ground. Over in Chicago two hundred young women attended a pure food demonstration and 196 of them were poisoned by ptomaine poisoning.

The destruction of the Toronto premises does not prove that the company did not manufacture a valuable article, neither did the wholesale poisoning of those young women (who, by the way, all recovered) prove that there is no such thing as pure food. In respect to wholesome food, however, our experts appear to be at variance. In this case undetectable decay had surreptitiously insinuated itself into the canned goods, and what was supposed to be pure was far from it.

Just now we are making a dead set against the house fly. He is the fad for the moment and the decaying household atoms which he consumes are not taken into account. He is considered to be the source of many of our ills and diseases. We will spend our energies in exterminating him. Incidentally we overlook a few hundred other things that prey on the human form divine. As a matter of fact there is far more illness during the winter season, when nature has herself temporarily exterminated the fly, than there is in summer when that insect crawls in colonies over bald heads and breakfast foods. Looking at it this way, what do you make of it?

We have all sorts of fads for prolonging life, but the mortuary tables of the insurance companies go to prove that we have not made much of a success of it. This is the age of the microbe hunt and a lot of them have been discovered and their baleful influence destroyed, but others appear to continually spring up from unknown sources, just as two mosquitoes appear to take the place of every one killed in the mosquito season. The quest would appear to be hopeless, yet we trust that it will not be abandoned until the grippe microbe has been discovered and his ravages rendered harmless. We would like to "swat" him along with the fly. Our scientists should call off their investigations into the most nutritious foods and as to whether whiskers should or should not be worn in winter, and go after the grippe microbe with hammer and tongs. The other things can wait.

As a matter of fact there are no healthier people in the world than those who live out of doors in the north country and whose daily fare is composed of two-thirds cinders and ashes, and who are bled profusely by black flies, mosquitoes, bot flies, deer flies, blow flies and nipped occasionally by winged, black or red ants. It gives them stamina. It seem to us that even our physicians have a lot to learn about the ills that human flesh is heir to, as well as the inventors of pure foods and fire extinguishers.

A WESTERN PHENOMENON

A Saskatoon physician has discovered that the people in the West live faster than they do in Ontario. The normal pulse beat, he says, in Ontario is 69 to to 72; in the West he finds it to range from 80 to 100. This, he claims, is the result of living in a higher altitude where the air is more rarefied. It may be so, but possibly land speculation and subdivision schemes have also something to do with an acceleration of the pulse, especially as Dr. Stafford would find it around Saskatoon. High financing may be just as responsible for this phenomena as high altitude.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.
