Maxwell

Too Late for Last Week

Clarence Heron from Saskatchewan was a caller in our village last week.

George Linley and his mother visited at Corbetton over Sunday.

There was no Sunday school or church in the Methodist church on Sunday on account of the storm.

Mrs. Albert McCallum is visiting at Mr. McCallum's on the fourth line.

We are glad to see Mr. Geo. Burke back again.

George says the road was bad coming home Monday morning.

Ceylon

Mrs. R. P. Legate left Saturday evening to attend at the bedside of her father, Mr. Coleridge, who is very ill in Durham.

Miss Lizzie English, after spending a week at Mr. J. Radley's, returned on Saturday to her home in Feversham. Miss Myrtle Radley accompanied her home, returning Monday.

Miss Coleman spent from Thursday to Monday with her parents in Owen Sound.

Mr. Ross of Dundalk spent over Sunday at Mr. R. Bate's.

Kimberley Budget

Beautiful weather at present.

Miss Maud Smith is visiting at R. D. Meldrum's, Port Law, at present.

Mr. Wm. Plewes of Collingwood, visited at his parental home here a few days last week.

Mr. C. Knott of Thornbury, visited friends in this vicinity, a few days the past week.

Mr. Jas. White of Heathcote was a caller in our burg one day last week.

The stock judging demonstration given by the Famers' Club on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon last, was a huge success. Mr. Dan Johnston of Myrtle, judged the sheep and cattle on Wednesday afternoon and briefly outlined the types essential for beef production also the dairy type of cattle. In the evening Mr. Johnston gave an address in the town hall, on general topics, pertaining to the farm. Mr. Cope of the agricultural office, Markdale, also gave a very instructive address on seed corn, selecting, cultivating, etc. On Thursday afternoon Dr. Sinclair of Cannington, gave a judging demonstration on horses, which was very much appreciated by those present. Mr. Jno. Smith of East Mountain had a heavy draught colt on exhibition, which stood out like a star among the rest. The roadsters were then judged as regards general appearance and action and R. J. Stuart's Abrino colt was in a class by himself.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Walter met at their home on Monday evening, March 3rd, prior to their departure for Flesherton, and presented them with a cabinet of silver and cake knife and the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Walter and amily, dear friends—It is with deep regret we realize that you are about to leave our neighborhood. During your residence here, we have always found you ready to perform those neighborly kindnesses which count so much in this short life of ours. The Foresters and Farmers' Club lose in you, Mr. Walter, one of their best members. Mrs. Walter, you will be sadly missed in our church work, in our Women's Institute and in the social side of our lives. The departure of Esdale, Odessa and Esmond will also be greatly felt among our young people. We would ask you to accept this cabinet and cake knife as a remembrance from your friends here, and trust you will all be spared many happy years of prosperity and health. Signed in behalf of the Citizens—Kinross Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. George Proctor, Mrs. A. E. Myles, Mrs. W. T. Ellis.

Walkerton

Some of Walkerton hotelmen are in a panic over the announcement that the Ontario government is about to pass legislation closing bars at 8 o'clock in the evening, and one of them has intimated that he will quit if the proposed law comes into force.

The apple business has not been very profitable to Mr. John Joynt, owner of the Walkerton evaporator. During the past six weeks he has lost over $14,000 in hard cash. This sum is large enough to send an ordinary man to the wall. In addition to buying apples Mr. Joynt buys grain, works a 600 acre farm and buys and ships ashes in fifty towns in Ontario.—Bruce Herald and Times.

Vandeleur

Mrs. Wm. Hutchinson of Markdale visited her father, Mr. Wm. Cullis of this place, recently.

A Wreck Averted

The operation of an automatic alarm signal semaphore system which the C. P. R. has had installed on that portion of its track between Bolton and Toronto demonstrated its usefulness on Saturday when it saved the north bound taain to Owen Sound from what might have been a disastrous wreck. A broken rail near Woodbridge was noticed just in time to ward off a catastrophe and save the passengers among whom were many Owen Sounders from being hurled over the sixty foot embankment to death in Humber Valley below.

As a preventative against accidents the company a short time ago installed on the Bolton-Toronto line over which there is always heavy traffic, a semaphoric signal system, which is thrown out of order by the disconnection of the current when anything goes wrong on the line. Noticing on Saturday night that one of the semaphores was not working, one of the station staff at Woodbridge proceeded to investigate and in doing so noticed a broken rail in close proximity to the Humber bridge. This was at once repaired and after a short delay the train continued on its way to Owen Sound in safety.—O. S. Herald.

Address and Presentation

Previous to leaving Kimberley for Flesherton Mrs. Geo. Walter was waited on by members of the Kimberley choir and presented with beautifully bound editions of Whittier, Bryon and Shakespeare, accompanied by the following address.

Kimberley, Feb. 27th, 1913

Mrs. G. H. Walter, dear friend—We, the members of the Kimberley Methodist choir, have met here this evening to express to you our appreciation of the service you have so willingly and cheerfully rendered in our church and choir. We deeply regret that you are leaving us and will miss your kindly company and aid exceedingly. We hope to have you back occasionally to see us and that you will always take your accustomed place in our midst. Will you kindly accept this little remembrance from the choir, who trust you will have as many true and sincere friends in the next choir you belong to as you have made in this, and that some time we will all belong to that choir above where there is no discord and never any parting.—Mrs. A. E. Myles, R D. Carruthers and numerous others.

According to a blue print furnished the Orangeville Board of Trade, the Central Railway of Canada will strike the county town on its way from Montreal to Port Stanley on Lake Erie. The road is surveyed north of Mono Mills and will probably enter Orangeville near Forest Lawn cemetery making a bee line towards Stratford and London and on to Port Stanley. Looks like a revival of the old Huron and Ontario project.

Patrick Shea, a former sailor on the great lakes, was taken ill in a Toronto restaurant and died shortly afterwards.

Priceville Jottings

Intended for Last Week

Enough snow to make good sleighing and everybody praising the fine winter.

The A.O.U.W. banquet on the evening of Feb. 14 was quite a success. Each member had the privilege of inviting a friend or two, and that made quite a gathering. The first part of the evening was spent in games, short addresses, readings, songs and a number of choice selections from Mr. Martin Murphy's gramophone was frequently sandwiched in and much appreciated by those present. Supper was served, the oysters were fine and the baskets of confectionery prepared by the ladies won for them great praise. After supper a number of toasts were proposed and replied to, all those taking part acquiting themselves creditably, and the wit and humor displayed by the several speakers very frequently made the whole assemblage smile out loud. Time slipped away unnoticed and the affair was brought to a close about 1 a.m. by singing the National Anthem.

Lockie McArthur, east of the village, had the misfortune to lose a valuable heavy draught mare lately.

A number of citizens gathered in Kinross hall last Thursday evening and discussed several interesting subjects. Mr. W. G. Tryon spoke for some time and introduced a discussion on poultry and egg production. Mr. Otto Konold spoke on fertilizers for farm crops and answered several interesting questions. If the citizens of a portion of Glenelg and Artemesia would get busy and organize a Farmers' Club here it might be of great benefit.

Mrs. T. Ferguson went by C.P.R. on Saturday to visit her daughter, Edna, of Owen Sound collegiate, and other friends in the county town.

Artemesia Council held their March meeting here last Saturday. As far as we know this is the first such meeting held in our village. The galleries were well filled with interested spectators.

Mr. C. McKinnon and Mr. Nesbitt (no, this is not Beattie Nesbitt or his ghost, either, but a substantial rancher) from southern Alberta, are visiting here, and if some of the bachelors don't keep a strict vigil certain young ladies may have a strong desire to go West very soon.

Miss Priceville: When I noticed a certain livery horse making trips out your way I thought "green wood" was at a premium, even with the thermometer twenty below zero.

Miss Flesherton: Aw, now, Price, quit your teasing; dont you know that the greener the wood the more easily the beau is bent, and a few frost bites only help to maintain the angle.

Riverdale Ratepayer: Oh, yes, I think I know one of the chief reasons for such frequent changes in our school staff. Pretty lady teachers require the patience of Job to stay in our school more than one term, when they become almost bored to death by the attentions of a young swell headed immigrant not fully Canadianized. They are glad at the end of the term to take wings and fly for freedom.

Eighth Line, Artemesia

Intended for Last Week
