AFTER THE BATTLE

Final returns from North Victoria indicate that the victory of the liberal conservative party there was due to :-1. The new Voters' Lists:

practices of the late member: and and conservative alike, have in the newly

Full returns show the vote cast to have been much larger than ever before; and bear out the statements made by the lib-ness for the next revision. A few minu-eral conservatives of largely increased gains on the lists.

Every place shows a larger vote for the conservatives this time than formerly, except Woodville. Eldon stands again in the old place of 98 majority for Hughes. Bexley, loyal Bexley, rolls up the statements made by the libration now will save hours later on.

Again we cordially thank our staunch friends, electors and non-electors, the ladies who did us noble service, and the boys and girls, conservative and reform alike who assisted us. We hope never to give them cause to regret having stood so nobly to our back in the hight. 72 straight majority; Somerville gives 71 majority; Laxton with one polling place is proudly pre-eminent with 63 majority; "far-away Dalton" and Digby together 52 majority; Minden did nobly this time made substantial gains. Indeed in every part of the riding the gains are just about what were expected on the basis of the humble.

It is true the "mysterious stranger" who spent a week in Carden may have effected changes in the reform interest effected changes in the reform interest gave way under the strain of the there; the Ontario Government Bridge Inspector also visited that township a few days before the election. It is true that Mr. C. J. Smith of Toronto, was looking after his horse stables at Kinmount; that Mr. Robt. McKelvie was brought down from Toronto to look after the stock; that Mr. Niven gos two new sets of driving harness for the occasion; that the pious Pearson, and the gentle yet unwise Dr. Wilson were again on the wer-path in the interests of "pity mercy"; that Lawyer Hall, Agent Clegg, and Ontario Government Timber Agent and Road Boss Mc-Williams of Peterboro were in East Galway in the cause of "the party of purity; and that sundry and several other "foreigners" did invade the riding in the reform cause; yet we do not accuse them of "boodling". It is true the conservative vote in the regions where those gentlemen operated was not quite what was expected, yet all in all it was very satis-

The fact that any man accepting or asking for a bribe is liable to severe punishment doubtless prevented the use of money or promises to influence the elec-

West Somerville deserves special menion. Last year it was found that in Bexley, Laxton, West Somerville and Dalton and Digby there were two hundred or more citizens not on the rolls. These were added, and Coboconk division of Somerville gave Hughes 54 majority where it formerly gave only 10. Across the river, East Bexley gave 23 with eleven voting elsewhere or ill, where last winter it gave only one. West Bexley gave 49 a gain of 18. Kirkfield rolled up 43. Bolsover 46. Hartley again regains its old place and gives 18 majority with 19 absentee votes, a grand gain.

Cameron, as indeed Grange Hall, Cambray and Brown's and every division in Fenelon showed marked gains, while Fenelon Falls rejoices in a gain of thirty.

The country and the riding are to be congratulated. To the liberal-conservatives and to their allies, the independent reformers, is due great credit. They worked shoulder to shoulder and were untiring in their exertions. Our hearty thanks, and the thanks of the Government and the country at large are due and cordially extended to those who fought so nobly and well for the good cause. Those reformers who fearlessly drew out from their party and gave us their votes and assistance, and braved the childish cry of "turn-coat" are also deserving of special credit, -credit freely and cordially extended with the right hand of fellowship, by every liberal-conservative. May the alliance grow and strengthen between liberal-conservatives and independent reformers is our aim and

With our opponents we have no fault to find. True, here and there some of their leaders did strike or try to strike of right over wrong, and while advocating the wants and requirements of your constituents of North Victoria in parliament may you not 'below the belt"; but the reaction al-The ways recoiled on themselves. Happily those instances were very rare. With the great body of the reform party we enjoy the most cordial relations, and shall instil into the minds of your constituents the take pleasure in doing anything we can to oblige a reformer, as we shall ever be subjects of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. I anxious and willing to perform any act for a conservative in his or the riding's or fall on "Barron" ground. God Save the for a conservative in his or the riding's or Queen. Yours fraternally, the country's interest. It shall be our humble endeavor to represent North Victoria, conservative and reform alike in Parliament. As one leading reformer publicly told us :—"I would rather ask Sam. Hughes to oblige me than any reformer I ever knew at Ottawa. I feel the hard struggle you have had and cannot express the joy I feel, not only because theseat has been won for the Government, but also that it is to be represented by a good sure he would go farther in an unselfish way to oblige me than our late reform representative would, though I voted re-

Parliament meets next week. This week where we expected rest, after our ties which I know you do. I sincerely trust months of severe mental and physical that your parliamentary career will be long strain, we find ourself on the stump in East Simcoe fighting in the good cause. However, as soon as time will permit we shall visit conservative party which won over many reformers;

3. The broken promises and expediency practices of the late member; and ner that you have ever won the admiration of your opponents. Why, Sir, even that miserable rag of a Canadian Post, with all its dirt and slander, has only been forwarding you to victory. The intelligent people of North Victoria will not encourage such low, sneaking dirt as that party of purity have resorted to, to place Augustus in an honorable position. No Sir, we want a man that will not sell our fair Dominion for thirty pieces of silver, (or a yard of binder-twine.) No Sir, no Judas Iveariot for us. We leve our country and our Queen and we shall never allow Sir Richard and his followers to barter us away to the Yankees. Never so leng as we have such congratulations on your FREDERICK HAYTES.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 15th, 1892. We presume that recent occurences in North Victoria have not quite eclipsed previous ex-"far-away Dalton" and Digby together 52 majority; Minden did nobly this time a conservative majority of 24; Anson gave 27; Hindon 9, the reform party polling only one vote in all the township; "farthest away Stanhope, Sherbourne and McClintock" gave the royal majority of 21; West Galway rolled up 26 solid conservative majority; while Fenelon Falls exceeded all expectations by giving 8 of a majority.

Fenelon township pulled up splendidly giving a reform majority of only 69 as against 126 last time. East Galway this time had not Cavendish votes from Peterboro added hence was held well in hand. Carden was worked in the reform interest for all it was worth and gave an increased reform vote. However the liberal-conservative state the testing of the world that their supporters are to be bought at so much a head, when they lose and election. It needs not to be demonstrated that a conservative voter does not require to be bought to vote for a conservative candidate, consequently the buying, if done, must be done in the grit ranks. The buying, however, is not by boodle, but the sound policy of the Liberal-Conservative Government, which the people are learning every day more and more is the best policy for the country. This, however, deet not mitigate time had not Cavendish votes from Peterboro added hence was held well in hand. Carden was worked in the reform interest for all it was worth and gave an increased reform vote. However the liberal-conservative to the sound policy for the selection of the interest of the interest of the country.

Cameron, Feb. 14th, 1892. DBAR SIR,—I take this opportunity of extending to you my hearty congratulations for the glorious victory which you have won, a victory which none but a gallant, fearless British soldier could win. You have come to the front in such a bold straightforward manper that you have ever won the admiration of Yankees. Never so long as we have such loyal men to represent us as Sam Hughes.

Mrs. Anderson joins in hearty congratulations.

WESLEY ANDERSON,

From the loyal men of Stankope. STANHOPE, Feb 12, 1892

We, loyal subjects in Stanhope wish to congratulate you on your success and triumph. We all did our best. The storm kept some of our voters from coming, but we gave you a good majority. The day was peaceable but at night we gave "the Queen and Sam Hughes" three hearty cheers. The grits tried to cheer "the King of Promisers," but were too hoarse. We advised them not to try again and they took good advice. One old loyalist James Hewitt, aged S1 years, father of W G Hewitt, reeve of Stanhope, a true British soldier, was driven on his bed to vote for Sam Hughes; and the old man is rejoiced over his victory. He says he came to Canada in 1837-38 with his rifle to quell the rebellion; and now on the eve of his last days he has still done so at the polls. Mr Hugh McPhail, '78 years of age, came eight miles through the storm; and Gaorge Thompson, aged 75 years, walked eight miles to vote for Sam Hughes. This is the sort of stuff the Stanhope conservatives are made of. On behalf of STANHOPE, Feb 12, 1892

THE LOYALISTS OF STANHOPE An Important Question Answered,

"How can I obtain repose and sleep a night?" This important question is asked by thousands who, at this sesson, are troubles with hacking and continuous coughing and throat irritation. They have tried scores of the advertised remedies of the day without relief or cure. Let us assure all sufferers and anxious inquirers that m-dicat ecience has produced what they are looding for—Harvard Bronchial Syrup, a remedy that never fails; that is instant in its eff cts; and that does not produce stomach sickness and constipation of the bowels, as is often the case when common remedies are used.
