Our hearts cannot tell what to say.

A Tip to Cream Producers

With a good demand now existing for butter as well as an equally good price being paid for cream (now 40 cents for Special grade, with possibility of higher) would it not be wise, during this dry spell, to give special attention and feed to your milking cows, as pasture may improve with possible rains.

It is also essential to maintain the quality and by selling your cream to your nearest Creamery, eliminate deterioration when hauled long distance by truck.

ONTARIO

AN URGENT APPEAL TO ONTARIO FARMERS

Keep your cows milking!

Ontario cheese factory patrons did a good job in May and June. They increased cheese production by 2,574,772 pounds. Don't let the drought be a tool for Hitler. Britain must have 112,000,000 pounds of cheese this year. This requires effort on your part. Drought conditions call for heavier grain feeding immediately.

(1) Feed any available grain or silage.
(2) Buy Bran and Shorts at the pegged prices from your nearest Feed Store at a saving of $3.00 per ton. Prices are now at May levels.
(3) Feed new grain at once.
(4) Don't stint. Milk flow must be maintained.

YOU WILL NEED GREEN FEED THIS FALL

Work up a stubble field. After the first rain, sow one bushel Rye or Fall Wheat and two bushels of Oats per acre. This mixture will also provide early Spring pasture. You will be surprised and pleased at the quick and steady growth.
