Walkerton

Mr. Walter Booth, an ex-Walkerton barber, who a few years ago got into the lime-light for being the proud sire of a new born son that tipped the scales at 13 pounds, live weight, is again in print for being presented at Port Elgin on April 2nd with a ten-pound masculine gender and a prospective Canadian "White Hope."

Bertram Leslie, who was charged with committing perjury while giving evidence as a witness at the McCartney liquor trial on Saturday last, was arraigned before Magistrates Tolton and Richardson on Tuesday, who considered that the testimony adduced against him was sufficient to warrant him being sent to a higher court for trial, which was accordingly done. The accused, who is out on bail, will be dealt with by Judge Barrett.

The Walkerton hotel-keepers formed an association on Monday night, and among other things drew up a list of the habitual drunkards in town who are not on the Indian List. These will be denenied booze at a all the bars in town, and thus prohibition will be enforced where it is most needed.

The village of Cargill bids fair to experience a real Western boom this year, and a decided step forward is what is decided for that burg. Practically all the industries there for years have been promoted by the firm of H. Cargill & Son, being founded by the late Henry Cargill in the first place, and carried on under the direction of his son, Mr. W. Cargill, but are now to be greatly extended and developed by a joint stock company known as Cargill's Limited, captilized at $1,000,000. The entire business and properties of the present firm are to be brought up, consisting of a planing mill, grist mill, foundry, stave mills and model farm, on which a herd of shorthorn cattle of exceptional quality is stationed. There is every indication o a genuine boom in the village as a result of the business change. Over 25 houses will likely be built this summer.—Bruce Herald and Times.

Feversham Items

Messrs. R. Brackenbury and Jas. Pelch have returned from the West. Times seem to be dull out there this season.

We think that the wet weather of late will make the grain that is sown and the grass grow fast.

Mrs. Captain Hustler of Toronto is spending a few days with her husband here.

Durham

Mr. J. C. Nichol, proprietor of the Middaugh House, was on trial Tuesday before police magistrate Telford. He was charged with selling intoxicating liquor, but the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction and the case was accordingly dismissed.

On Tuesday afternoon, John Gibson was tried on a charge of being drunk on a public street in Durham on Tuesday evening, the 15th inst. A conviction was secured and a fine of twenty dollars and costs was imposed.

If anyone thinks that golden ornaments may be hung up on the streets of Durham and not be stolen, he may as well get rid of the idea at once. We had a ash-sifter, worth about three cents, and left it beside the ash pile for convenience, rather than carry it in and lock it up in the safe every time we used it. It was undisturbed for a long time, and we thought it was quite safe. Recently it was carried off, and the one who took it must feel proud of his job. If we can raise the necessary twenty cents to get a new one, we will leave it out for him next winter and keep him supplied.—Chornicle.

Little Current to Boom.

The Algoma Eastern Railway which is giving Manitoulin Island its first railway connection will spend $300,000 on terminal facilities at Little Current this year aside from the bridge which is connecting Little Current with the mainland. The contract is practically let for the foundation work of docks, engine house and other terminal buildings, and that work would be commenced almost immediately. This construction will not be carried on immediately at Little Current, but on Goat Island, which is across the channel, and which is owned by the Algoma Eastern Railway. Large terminal yards will be laid out there, including a four stall engine house. A coal dock, four hundred feet long, will also be built on Goat Island, and a modern coal handling plant will be erected on it. Storage facilities, capable of looking after 75,000 or 80,000 tons of coal, will be provided in the rear. A 400-foot commercial dock is to be built on Goat Island as well, and will have a warehouse 30 by 40 feet on it. A station and freight shed for local business will be erected on Manitoulin at Little Current. In connection with this work the company will have some 30,000 or 35,000 yards of solid rock dredging to do. In this they expect to secure some assistance from the Government.

Wodehouse Doings

The fair sex are busy these fine spring days house-cleaning, while the men folk are just as busy in the field, which no doubt is safe retreat for them.

Love is Resentful

Negotiations are under way to have the sentence of death which was passed on Henry Love for wife murder commuted to life imprisonment. "An effort will be made," said Mr. W. H. Wright to the Sun this morning, "To have the sentence commuted and the matter will be laid before the Minister of Justice. That is about all that can be done." It is understood that Mr. Wright will go to Ottawa personally to present the case to the Department.

In his cell at the gaol, Love still maintained the air of stolid indifference which characterized his actions throughout the trial and talks to the deathwatch freely about hanging. The unconcerned demeanor of the man astonishes those who are in closest touch with him and they say that Love is one of the strangest characters they have ever met. He occasionally exhibits anger and the Sun was told by one of the watchmen that at times he is like a caged lion whose fierce passions have been aroused. He eats and sleeps well and apparently feels no sorrow for the awful fate which befell his wife, neither does he seem to anticipate with dread the terrible doom which awaits him on may 27th. He is very resentful against his old neighbors in Flesherton and considers that he did not have a fair trial. The belief has been expressed to The Sun by some of Love's neighbors that should he be allowed his freedom again, he would take a terrible revenge on some of those who testified against him. They further declared that they would leave Ceylon, should Love be freed.

Several times he has asked for a knife to cut his finger nails and when given a pair of nippers, he flew into a violent passion. He expressed the wish to one of his gaolers that he might die before the day arrives on which he will be called whether innocent or guilty, to meet his Maker; and the belief is expressed that he would commit suicide if he could procure some instrument with which to inflict a death wound.—O. S. Sun.

Two of our esteemed young ladies took a pleasure trip on Saturday to visit Eugenia friends. While there, and on their way, they used their field glasses in viewing the ideal and picturesque scenery of the surrounding country.

Mr. John Martin has purchased a handsome new horse at fancy price.

A certain young gentleman living not twenty miles away, visited in our vicinity on Sunday, but could not wait on his boy friend who was with him, and determined to walk the return trip back, as he thought that his "fair one" would be anxious to see him. Never mind your boy friend would not "holloway" anyone from their best friend.

Fishing season will soon be at hand.

Mr Elgar Gorley of Epping, visited at his parental home here, last week.

Leg Amputated

John Holt, a married man about twenty-nine years of age, was the victim of a distressing accident at the Imperial Steel & Wire Co.'s plant on Saturday morning. He was working in the wire mill at the drawing block when he became entangled in the wire and in a twinkling it kinked around his right leg, cutting the limb in two just below the knee. Occurring as quickly as it did no one saw the accident, indeed, did no notice anything wrong until he fell on the floor when his fellow-employees ran to his assistance, but to find the foot lying wholly separated from the body. A tourniquet was quickly applied by the workmen, thus probably saving the man's life while medial assistance was summoned the office. Later Holt was removed to the G. & M. Hospital where he is resting easily and making as favorable progress as possible under the circumstances. It will, however, be a long time before he will be able to be out and again take up any kind of work.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Holt who apparently are having to bear a very large share of sorrow and trouble. Last year their home was darkened by the serious illness of their little three-year-old girl with infantile paralysis. After many weeks of careful nursing she recovered but during the past winter fell a victim to pneumonia, which proved fatal.—Bulletin.

An Auto Fatality.

Walkerton, April 26.—Daniel Connors, proprietor of Elm Grove hotel, was instantly killed yesterday, and Robert Hunter, of Kincardine, seriously injured, when the touring car in which they were broke through a culvert near Dunkeld, which had been undermined by the recent rains. Mr. Hunter's recovery in doubtful.

What was probably the best calf ever shipped from Arthur was delivered the other day, according to the Enterprise, to John Stoltz by Robert McQueen, of the 16th of Peel, for which Mr. McQueen received $70, which is a big price, when it is remembered that the young animal was but nine months old. However, though only three-quarters of a year old the young animal had made excellent use of the time at his disposal in the matter of piling on beef, and when weighed before being shipped, tipped the scales at eight hendred and eighty pounds. This is a record for a nine months old calf in this vicinity at least, and Mr. McQueen must certainly be about as well up in the cattle feeding art as it is possible to be.
