Wodehouse Doings

Mr. Sam Wiley has the past week had his barn roofed with metallic roofing. Mr. J. Lawson did the job. This is one of the many barns which suffered in the Good Friday windstorm, the whole roof having been taken off. Patches of bright new shingles on old roofs, and a new board here and there elsewhere to replace the ones torn off, are a conspicious feature of the rural landscape this year.

We understand Mr. J. Pattison has bought Mr. Peter McAthur's stock at Priceville.

Walkerton

While playing about a newly ploughed field on Miss Carrols's property on Tuesday afternoon three small boys unearthed what is undoubtedly the skull of a human being. The skull which had evidently been in the ground many years was petrified and the youngsters were at first throwing it about thinking it was a stone. While doing this some of the teeth came to view which caused them to investigate and they discovered that they had found all that remained of a fellow creature. They conveyed their prize to the school on Wednesday and presented it for examination to their teacher, Mr. C. E. Leppard, who still has it in his possession.—Telescope.

As a result of the visit of Dr. McNally, District Health Officer, who made a tour of inspection here last week, Chief Ferguson has been ordered to see that no hogs are kept inside the corporation, no manure piles left exposed to flies, no hotels left without screens on the doors and windows of the dining rooms, pantries and kitchens, no slaughter houses left in an unclean state and no pit closets permitted to remain longer in town. Failure to enforce these laws may mean a heavy penalty being leveid on the town.—Herald and Times.

A valuable young horse became excited at Owen Sound by a motorcycle, reared up, and in coming down broke its leg and had to be shot.

Feversham Items

Cold winds and frosty nights have retarded the rapid growth of a few weeks ago.

The farmers are finishing up seeding this week.

R. Colquette is recovering from a prolonged sick spell.

Durham

On Monday of this week, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Campbell called at the manse and on behalf of a number of friends in the congregation presented Dr. Farquharson with a purse of gold, expressive of their sympathy with him in his present illness, and of their desire that means should not be lacking for the prosecution of his efforts towards recovery.

The water wagon got a bad jar on Monday morning. Just after filling it up at the supply pipe, Mr. John Whittaker, who does the street sprinkling, started his horses. In turning off the platform, a loose plank caught in one of the wheels and the whole load capsized, breaking the tongue, and causing other damages. One of the horses was knocked down, and held fast until cut loose. He was taken from the wreck apparently uninjured. As an eye witness of the affair, we feel surprised that the horse didn't have his legs broken.

The refusal to grant licenses to the hotels in Meaford puts the whole of North Grey in the dry belt, not a single license being now held in that part of the county. Meaford failed by a fraction of a vote to pass local option last January, and according to the strict interpretation of the law, it wasn't necessary to refuse the licenses to the three hotels making application. Surely the temperance Liberals ought to give Mr. Hanna credit for this one act, if for nothing else. Will any of them do so? How does the Review feel on the subject?

About the middle of last week, Mr. Thos. Wilson met with a painful accident which will lay him off work for a number of weeks. While engaged in the clay building, a heavy piece of scantling slipped through an opening in the floor, some fifty or sixty feet above him This is the second time Mr. Wilson met with painful injuries in the same building, the former occasion being two or three years ago, when he was caught under a heavy bank of clay.—Chronicle.

Raided at Durham

Durham, May 18.—Provincial Inspector Ayearst, with License Inspector Matt Beckett of Owen Sound, and two other detectives, swooped down from Owen Sound this morning in motor cars and raided the two leading hotels. Their coming was a complete surprise to the proprietors and town. In the Middaugh House six kegs of lager were confiscated, its first offence, while at the Hahn House a small amount of lager and whiskey was secured. The latter hotel has been previous'y convicted.

Kimberley Budget

The recent copious showers are making the farmer wear a broad smile.

Miss Belle Clinton of Flesherton is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Pearl Fawcett of Duncan, accompanied by Miss Augusta Free, visited at the former's parental home here on Sunday last.

The Flesherton public school baseball team, accompanied by a couple of dozen rooters, drove over to Kimberley on Saturday afternoon last and played a match with the school team here, resulting in a victory for the home team by a score of 22 to 12. In all fairness to the Flesherton team we must state that the Kimberley boys were somewhat the heaviest team, which was a little to their advantage. However, it was a good exhibition game, as both teams played air-tight ball.

Mr. R. J. Stuart made a business trip to Markdale on Tuesday.

Miss Jennie Graham of Eugenia visited Kimberley friends a few days the past week.

Mr. John Abercrombie occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday morning last in the absence of the pastor, who is on the sick list.

Toronto Line North

Seeding is almost accomplished.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Thos. Lever had the misfortune to lose one of his working horses recently. While cultivating, the horse fell and died suddenly. This will be quite a loss to Mr. Lever, at this season.

Mr. Marshall Beard, of Vandeleur, with his portable sawing machine, has recently been cutting timber for Mr. J. Lever and others who intend erecting new buildings this summer.

Little Bessie Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stewart, is on the sick list.

Mr. Fred Brown, councilor, accompanied by Mr. Thos. Lever, took a business trip to East Mountain one day last week. Fred thinks he will have to improve the condition of the roads for the rising generation.

Miss Elva Lever, accompanied by Miss Mildred McMullen, of East Mountain, spent the week end at the former's parental home, here.

Maudlin Sob Artists

In a sane article on the impending fate of Henry Love, the Owen Sound Times of last week voices the sentiments of the Advance when it says: "It may be said that no matter what the course of the minister of justice may be in the matter the weight of public opinion in this vicinity and in the neighborhood of Love's old home is overwhelmingly that he ought to hang and that any commutation of the sentence would be less than justice. These is of course the maudlin sentimental persons who can work up a cascade of tears on behalf of any wretch who ever lived. All a man has to do is get into jail on some heinous charge or other and at once these addle brains get busy with the sob artist performance. They do no fit usefully into the general order of things."

A joint committee of the counties of Grey and Wellington met at Page's bridge, in the township of Normanby on Tuesday last for the purpose of determining whether they should undertake the rebuilding of this bridge or not. The bridge in question was put out of commission in the freshet 2 years ago, and some of the residents of that neighborhood have threatened action if the bridge is not rebuilt. Reeve Mearns moved that the bridge be rebuilt, which motion was carried. It is estimated that the new structure will cost from $14,000 to $16,000.—Post.
