A special meeting of the village council was held Saturday evening for the purpose of appointing a Chief Constable, and Mr. John Hales got the job at a salary of $25 and perquisites. The next step will be the passing of a public morals bylaw and when that is done there will be a possibility of controlling the unruly element which constitutes a problem as it stands to-day. There are a few youngsters in this town who appear to be beyond parental control and the interests of the town demands that they be controlled in some manner. When the machinery gets into working order conditions will improve. The boys had better begin to get good right away, before the curtain rises.

Sunday last was known as Peace Sunday throughout Great Britain, Germany and the United States. In the Methodist church here at the evening service Rev. H. E. Wellwood preached a sermon from the text: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the sons of God." The rev. gentleman did not confine the application to international peace, but included all strife between man and man, in church and out. The sermon was timely, instructive and inspiring.

Monday evening was social evening in the League at the Methodist church and a very enjoyable time resulted. A debate among the younger members was very interesting and amusing. The subject was: Resolved—That music is more powerful than oratory. During the course of the debate one little girl on the affirmative side used the mother as an illustration—how music soothed the baby to sleep. A speaker on the negative knocked this argument into a forlorn wreck by asserting that almost any minister could soothe a whole congregation to sleep by his oratory. The negative won. Luncheon and candy was served to the large number present.

The annual meeting of the teachers and officers of the Methodist Sabbath School was held last Wednesday. The report was presented by Mr. W. H. You better be careful in the selection of your twine this year. Be sure you get the best. Beware of mixed twines, which are really composed of low grade manila. They are unsatisfactory at the best, and they will annoy you to death straightening out tangles and picking up loose bundles. Buy good sisal, standard sisal, or high-grade manila binder twine and save yourself annoyance.

When you consider the satisfaction that sisal, standard sisal and high-grade manila binder twine will give and the amount of extra labor good twine will save, you will more fully understand the value of McCormick twines. McCormick binder twine is made in four brands—sisal, standard, manila, pure manila. Every brand is up to the McCormick quality. You will get perfect satisfaction if you use McCormick twine.

Don't be misled, come direct to us and we will explain the twine proposition.
