VOL 33 No. 3 Flesherton, Ont., Thursday, July 17 1913 W. H. THURSTON EDITOR and PROP

Kimberley Budget

Haying is the order of the day.

Our enterprising citizens are busy building a cement sidewalk down Main St., at present. Hats off to the township council who gives us one hundred dollars towards building same.

Miss Sadie Lawlor, of Ceylon, is visiting with her cousin, Mrs. Fred Wickens, at present.

Mr. M. Beasley, of Toronto, was a guest at the Traveller's Home, a few days the past week.

Mr. Will Carruthers, of Toronto, is renewing old acquaintances in this vicinity, at present.

Mr. Geo. Hutchinson occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church, on Sunday morning last.

Mr. Wm. Stuart visited Eugenia friends one day last week.

Miss Enna Burritt visited Durham friends a few days the past week.

Quite a number celebrated the glorious 12th in Markdale, and all report a good time.

Mr. Lyness Fawcett is visiting Owen Sound friends at present.

Miss Gladys Caesar, of Markdale, visited her friend, Miss Edith Hammond, a few days the past week.

Mr. George Hutchinson made a business trip to Thornbury, on Saturday last.

Mr. Elmer Knott, of Owen Sound, renewed old acquaintances in our burg, the past week.

Mr. John Taylor, of Rocklyn, was a caller in our burg on Friday last.

Mrs. E. Smith who has been visiting friends in Rockmllls, returned home on Thursday.

Mr. Clarence Cruikshank, of Heathcote, visited at Mr. S. S. Burritt's on Sunday last.

Mr. Jas. Oliver, of Detroit, Mich., is visiting friends in this vicinity at present

Durham

Miss Julia Weir has resigned her position on the High school staff, and will likely engage elsewhere.

Inspector Campbell and family leave this week for his summer home at Glenmount P. O., Lake of Bays, Muskoka.

Mr. J. Baird, formerly of Markdale, but for the past couple of months engineer at the furniture company's sawmill here, met with a painful accident on Saturday morning last. He undertook to start the sawmill engine, and in some way a valve was blown off which allowed the escape of a heavy pressure of steam, which scalded Mr. Baird considerably about the arms, chest and face.

Last week we referred to Mr. Abraham Swindlehurst falling into the river and being rescued. We thought at the time it was purely accidental, but now we are of the opinion that he meditated suicide, as he drowned himself yesterday about noon in what is known here as "Moffats hole" where a number of drowning accidents previously occurred. He was living with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Proctor, and was missed about midday. A couple of hours later his body was disdovered floating on the water by a couple of boys.

Mr. Abraham Crutchley had an old-fashioned barn raising on Monday afternoon, and everything went well till the racing contest was well under way when an accident occurred in which three or four men were injured to some extent. In putting up one of the purline plates, the timber slipped back, and that so few should have been injured is almost miraculous. The piece of timber, as we understand it, had a rope attached, and was pretty well up, when it slipped back in some way. Elias Edge, jr., had his wrist broken, and Walter Middletown sustained injuries, and a couple of others were more or less hurt.—Chronicle.

At LePas, Manitoba, the southern terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway there will soon be erected the second largest wireless station in Canada. It will include four 250-foot steel towers and will cost about $100,000. Plans are under discussion for establishing several wireless stations in the far Northwest; viz., from Athabasca Landing up the Mackenzie river to Herschel Island, in the Arctic ocean, and from there to Rampart House, in the Yukon. Such stations would be valuable for scientific purposes, especially for collecting meterological reports, and would also be serviceable to the Northwest mounted police.

Eugenia Paragraphs

Mrs. Fred Pedlar and children spent the past week with friends at Meaford.

Our city fathers have delighted the people of Eugenia by laying some beautiful cement sidewalk along the principal streets.

Mrs. Hanley of Ancaster is with her mother, Mrs. Patton, whose health is improving.

Miss Stella Irish visited her aunt, Mrs. John Corbett.

Mrs. Allen Montgomery, who has returned from a trip West, is visiting her father, Mr. H. H. Gallagher.

In looking over our last items we notice we were like the reporter who was writing up a wedding and took particular pains to mention full details of the bride's dress, the d'jeuner and the presents, but neglected to even say that there was a bridegroom. We mentioned the garden party but neglected to mention the principal feature. No, it's not the eating, it was better than that. It was the ladies' baseball game. If you did not see it you missed it, just as we warned you you would. It was played between the Proton and Dundalk ladies, who all showed great skill. The score was 16 to 40 in favor of the Proton team.

Mr. Will Moore has been moving the house to his own farm which he purchased from Mr. Geo. Ludlow.

Most of our boys and girls celebrated the 12th in Markdale, despite the rain in the morning.

Walkerton

Arthur Jones, an Indian from Cape Croker, who has been rusticating in the Walkerton jail, awaiting his trial on the charge of abducting an Indian girl under 16years of age, was acquitted by Judge Barrett here on Thursday, there not being sufficient evidence against the accused to warrant a conviction.

The widow of Danny Connors is suing the Township of Brant for unstated damages for the death of her husband in an automobile accident near Dunkeld.

Toronto Line North

A number from our vicinity spent the glorious twelfth in Markdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wickens of Toronto visited friends in this community.

A few gentlemen from the locality attended Mr. Chas. Best's barn raising on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre and family of Toronto are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Richardson.

Mr. Emerson Wickens had the Bell Telephone installed in his home last week.

Now with the telephone in almost every home, the rural mail delivery, and automobiles hizzing along the road day and night, this vicinity has become quite a stirring little place.

Buried Under Sand

Mr. Peter Elford, a well-known and highly respected resident of the Township of Euphrasia, residing on the 3rd line, was instantly killed on Thursday afternoon of last week by the caving in of a gravel pit in which he was working It appears that Mr. Elford was working for the Corporation doing his portion of the assessment work on the roadway and was on his farm removing gravel from the pit to put on the old Mail road when the fatality occurred. Mr. Elford and his hired hired man were busily engaged when Mr. Joseph McNaulty happened along and entered into conversation with the workers. Suddenly the bank gave way filling up the gravel pit and covering up Mr. Elford who had remained in the pit during the conversation. The other two men immediately endeavored to rescue the unfortunate man, calling, meanwhile to Mr. Elford's brother who was working in a field nearby. Before he was able to come to the rescue, however, the other men had succeeded in uncovering the head of the entombed victim, but despite their exertions it was found that Mr. Elford succumbed to the injuries inflicted. The man had been instantly killed, being crushed beneath some six or seven tons of gravel piled two feet deep.—Mirror.

The Late Minnie Watters

At her home in Collingwood township, near Thornbury, Miss Minnie Watters passed away on Wednesday, July 2, 1913, after a sickness of three months. About May 1 she was so low that no hope of her recovery was entertained, but she began to mend and regained strength so far that her friends were expectant to see her in health again. A week before her death her appetite failed and the regained strength began to wane. On Monday, June 30 a complete break down took place, and at 9 a. m. on Wednesday she died. An inpaired condition of the heart was the cause of her death.

She was the eldest of a family of eight. Two predeceased her, a brother, Robert, died in 1897, and a sister Jennie (Mrs. N. Gillespie,) in 1906.

She leaves to mourn her loss in the home near Thornbury, the mother, a brother, Richard, a sister, Mrs. King, and a niece, Margaret Gillespie, and with these two brothers and one sister, Hugh of Priceville, William of Detroit, and Caroline, (Mrs. John McKechnie) near Thornbury.

For the greatest part of her life she manifested an interest in the Christian Religion and during her sickness endeavored to place her faith in the only name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.

For the funeral a service was held in her home on Thursday at 11 a. m., after which the remains were taken to the home of Hugh Watters, Priceville, a distance of 30 miles. At his home a service was held on Friday afternoon and interment followed in the McKechnie cemetery west of Priceville.

Thirty-three years ago Adolph Olson, nine years old, was detained at Ellis Isl., N. Y., while the immigration authorities made sure that his parents were in Nebraska and he had a home to which he might go. To-day this same Adolph Olson, now Governor Adolph Olson Eberhard, is striving in New York to aid Alois Reimer nine years old, a German lad, who is detained at Ellis Island. The lad was on his way to the home here of his uncle, Thos. Neumann, when detained for lack of funds and because he was unaccompanied. Governor Eberhart was adprised of the fact and, as he was then on his way to New York, promised to take the matter up.
