A valuable horse belonging to John Vaughan of the 9th line, St. Vincent, broke its leg in a runaway, and had to be shot.

A large number of citizens attended the fowl supper at Eugenia on Monday evening and report a very successful affair, the proceeds amounting to $73.

The following were visitors in town from Toronto over the holiday: T. Wardrobe, R. Bellamy, H. D. Brown, W. Wilcock, J. Stroud, Tena and Joe LeGard, Celia VanDusen and girl friend, and Leslie Norris.

Division Court was held in Dundalk on Wednesday of last week. All the cases but one were adjourned. The case tried was that of McEachern v White. This was an action on the purchase of hay, and was tried by a lury, which thought McEachern had got all that the hay was worth. The verdict of the jury was for defendant and the action was dismissed with costs.

Thanksgiving Day on Monday was not just such a day as is considered ideal weather for th's festival. In the morning the landscape was covered with wet snow to a depth of an inch, and throughout the day it continued to drop wet snow and moisture to the discomfort of those who essayed to chase the nimble hare. No doubt many birds and beasts had much cause to be thankful for the early appearance of wintry weather. Service was held in the Presbyterian church in the forenoon.

Postmaster Trimble has repurchased the residence on Toronto street, which he formerly owned and sold to Boyd Bros. For several years Herb. Smith has resided in the house, until his late removal to Markdale. Mr. Trimble will take possession immediately.

All Independent Foresters are requested to be present on Wednesday evening, October 29, when Brother Geo. A. Mitchell will address you on the new rates, taking effect Oct. 21st. This is important. W. Buskin, Fin. Sec.

There was a mistake in the list of the Durham cattle, as it came out H. and J. Millener instead of A and J. Sealey in the Priceville prize list. The whole of the prize list in H. and J. Millener's name belongs to A. and J. Sealey.

Hands Across the Sea

Not a volume of the Youth's Companion is published that does not contain a number of contributions by Brttish contributors—Mr. Gladstone, the Duchess of Sutherland, Rudyard Kipling, Lord Tennyson have in years past written for this great family paper.

During 1914 the Duke of Argyll, formerly Governor-General of Canada, will have something to say about "The Scot"—his character and characteristics; Jane Barlow will tell of the "Big Houses of Ireland"; Sir Enest Shackleton will describe the quantities which lead to success in an explorer; Sir William Ramsay, the great chemist, will write upon "Waste, and How to Remedy It"; Sir John Murray will tell about "The Deepest Parts of the Sea"; Dr. C. W. Saleeby, eminent English physician, will descibe "The Beauty That Endures."

This tells very little of what The Companion will bring its readers in 1914. As it is to-day, The Companion is as entertaining as you may remember it. But it is larger now, with special Family Pages, Boy's Pages. Girl's Pages. There are fifty-two issues in a year, not twelve.

If you do not know The Companion as it is to-day, let us send you sample copies containing chapters from Frank Lillie Pollock's great Canadian serial, "The Timber Treasure," with the Announcement for 1914.

Every new subscriber for 1914 in Canada will recive free all the issues for the remains weeks of 1913—from the time of subscription until January, 1915—all fo $2.25.

Clarksburg Man Sand-Bagged

On Wednesday night of last week about 9 o'clock, Mr. Jonas Heslip a well known resident of Clarksburg was rendered unconscious by being struck on the back of the neck with a sack filled with sand and stones.

The victim had gone back to finish setting up some apple barrels in the Clarksburg Skating Rink and was in the act of leaving the building when some unknown party stepped out from behind a pile of staves and dealt the blow rendering the victim unconscious. Coming to his senses Mr. Heslip was able to reach his house and Thursday morning resumed his duties as usual, but later in the day was forced lay off work with pains in his head and since has partially been out of his mind.

That the act is that of some one accomplished in crime is beyond doubt but just what the motive was is the puzzling problem.

However, the service of an expect detective is being secured and no stone will be left unturned to secure the guilty party.—Reflector.

As the result of the new U. S. tariff Ontario is being rapidly dep'eted of young cattle and stockers. This will naturally enhance the price and give a stimulus to the cattle trade in the immediate future. However, it will take some time for our breeders to replace the young stock and adapt themselves to the new conditions, and the country will not on the whole be the richer by sacrificing the cattle that they might have fattened themselves, for their ready money. The American feeders will reap most of the benefit most assured.

With October's tinted clouds floating high,
Earth is chanting her "Te Deum" with the sky;
While in the meadow, hedge and tree,
Their farewell—a symphony,
Birds assembling, sing together,
Quickly fly to southern weather.

The merry whistling ploughboy is very industrious these days.

Geo. Connell and son have returned home after a week's visit with the Swanton families.

Elva Lever accompanied by Emma Ritchie, who attended the Model school in Hanover, visited the past week at the former's parental home.

Mrs. Thos. Wilson of Markdale visited with Miss Bella Brown, the past week.

Fred Mathewson and Clarence Thompson attended the Erin Fair.

The many friends of Miss Mary Burnett (who used to reside in this vicinity) offer congratulations on hearing that she has become the life partner of Mr. Rob. Irwin, son of Mr. O. Irwin, Park House, Flesherton. We wish the highly-esteemed young couple a happy and prosperous journey over the sea of life.

Miss Welsh of East Mountain is assisting Mrs. Genoe, who has been on the sick list.

Those who attended the fowl supper at Eugenia, Monday evening, report a good time.

Mrs. D. Taylor, who has been visiting at her brother's, Rod. McKenzie, returned to her home in Owen Sound.

Thos. Lever with his cement mixer, gasolene engine and handy staff of workmen, is fulfilling a cement contract in Egremont Township. He has yet a great amount of work to accomplish this fall.

Apple picking and hunting are on tap.

Fred Brown made another business trip to East Mountain last Friday.

You better be careful in the selection of your twine this year. Be sure you get the best. Beware of mixed twines, which are really composed of low grade manila. They are unsatisfactory at the best, and they will annoy you to death straightening out tangles and picking up loose bundles. Buy good sisal, standard sisal, or high-grade manila binder twine and save yourself annoyance.

When you consider the satisfaction that sisal, standard sisal and high-grade manila binder twine will give and the amount of extra labor good twine will save, you will more fully understand the value of McCormick twines. McCormick binder twine is made in four brands—sisal, standard, manila, pure manila. Every brand is up to the McCormick quality. You will get perfect satisfaction if you use McCormick twine.

Don't be misled, come direct to us and we will explain the twine proposition.
