The Little Dog Under the Wagon

Some wife," said good old farmer Gray, "put on your things 'tis market day and we'll be off to the nearest town here and back ere the sun goes down."

"No, no," said the good old farmer, "I'll guard the barn and guard the cow, and keep the cattle out of the lot."

"I'm not so sure of that," thought Spot. The little dog under the wagon.

They went at a good round pace, and joy came into the farmer's face; "Spot," said he, "did want to come, I'm very glad he's left at home."

"I'll guard the barn and guard the cow, and keep the cattle out of the lot," said the farmer all his produce sold and got ready to go home.

The Ladies' Home Journal for 1897

A even excellence makes the good things which The Ladies' Home Journal promises unusually interesting and strong. The list is long and sturdy. One series of papers alone would sell the magazine; that is, the three White House articles which ex-president Harrison is to write.

No man has ever done what General Harrison will do in these articles: show us what "a day with the president" is like, in one article; in another, tell of "The social life of the president," and in a third article describe "Upstairs and downstairs" in the White House.

Each of the articles will be profusely illustrated. Another series equally fascinating is the one called "Great personal events," in which some of the greatest enthusiasms which have occurred in America will be revived: those wonderful times when Louis Kossuth rode up Broadway; when the young Prince of Wales was here; when Henry Ward Beecher electrified his congregation by selling slaves in the pulpit; when Grant went round the world; when Henry Clay made farewell to the senate; when John Wesley preached in Georgia of which we know so few.

All these memorable events and others will be vividly recalled, told more graphically than ever before, and illustrated with pictures which have occupied twelve artists for over a year. A third series is unique and valuable from the fact that it will give women scores of ideas for their homes. It will reveal what there is "inside of a hundred American homes," and carefully reproduce pictures of one hundred completely furnished rooms in homes in this country—from Maine to California—where taste has gone farther than money.

A third series of articles has also been exclusively engaged by the Journal: Mrs. S. T. Rogers, who will hereafter have entire charge of the domestic department and give a series of cooking lessons, and Dwight L. Moody, the famous evangelist, who is to put the results of his life study of the bible in a department which is entitled "Mr. Moody's Bible class."

The artist, Charles Dana Gibson, who created the Gibson girl, will present six full-size pictures showing "The people of Dickens," while Alice Barber Stephens will alternate with Mr. Gibson and present her ideas of "Six types of American womanhood," in society, in religion, in business, in summer, in the home, and as a mother.

Mary E. Wilkins, the New England writer, will revive the old quilting party, the ancient singing-school and the apple-pieing bee in "The pleasures of our neighborhood."

A YOUNG LADY'S ESCAPE

Friends Thought that the Span of Her Life Would be Short

AT LAST WITH BUT A GRAIN OF FAITH HER MOTHER ADMINISTERED DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS AND SHE IS NOW CURED.

From the Montreal Herald: This world is full of change. There are changes that affect the constitution of the individual, changes that will come, we cannot avert their coming, but we may parry the unsalutary character of their influence. Womanhood in its inception is susceptible of changes that demand the most judicious attention and prudent care to ensure perfect development and happy maturity. These changes are so vital and so subtle in their character that unless the utmost vigilance and discrimination is exercised in the choice and application of remedial measures the worst results may ensue. The constitution may be undermined and the germs of disease fostered.

To be weak is to be miserable. It is therefore fundamental to every interest of humanity that life's red, red stream be kept pure and healthy. Owing to neglect of these particulars many young women have allowed life to become a burden and a wearisome round of duties. Faint and very apy describe their condition after venturing to perform some ordinary household duty.

What can be done to accomplish the rejuvenation of these unfortunate ones? There is a remedy widely known and long claimed on the homestead and whispered on the streets. Ten thousand mothers have recommended it and twice ten thousand daughters praise it. Read what one of them has to say. In the village of Lancaster there lives Mrs. A. J. Macpherson, widow of the late A. J. Macpherson. She is well and favorably known in the community. Some four or five years ago Mrs. Macpherson sent her eldest daughter to New York. While there she resided with her uncle and attended school, being then only about sixteen years of age. The social life of her temporary home made rather severe demands upon her time, and being ambitious she was anxious to make rapid progress in her studies. In each particular she enjoyed a covetable measure of success, but at no small cost. Many remarked her paleness and loss of color. She began to feel tired and weak after her little exercise, such as a short walk. Miss Macpherson's stay in New York lasted about two years. All this time she ate and slept very well. In the spring of 1895 she came home, and her mother could not but remark how changed her daughter was—pale and languid instead of being bright and ruddy. Thinking that nourishing food and perfect quiet with judicious exercise would restore the vigor and ruddy glow, it was partially given to the fullest extent. For a month this was tried, but Miss Macpherson was as pale as before, liable to turns of weakness and with an unsteady desire for sleep. At this juncture the family doctor was consulted. Iron pills were prescribed and a trip to the Thousand Islands taken, the stay lasting about six weeks, during which time everything was done to help her recovery. The friends with whom she stayed came to regard her recovery as extremely doubtful, and when she returned home her mother was so impressed with the idea of making purchases from a dealer in vegetables (the dealer) took the liberty of making some remarks about the health of Miss Macpherson, which was obviously not promising. He strongly urged the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Macpherson, however, over credulous of the qualities of the Pink Pills, but they were purchased and used to the best advantage. Soon after beginning the use of the pills saw a reddish tinge upon her cheek and in the course of a week or so my daughter felt better. The feeling began to vanish and the normal sleepiness began to yield to the influence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Continuing the use of the pills the progress of her restoration was continuous and complete, and her improved looks were the subject of favorable comment for some time. To-day her health is all that could be desired, and both the young lady and her mother are believers in the medicinal virtues of Pink Pills and often recommend them.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other remedies have failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Protect yourself from imposture by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

Heart Relief. Eight Years' Hanging Between Life and Death with Acute Heart Disease. At 30 Minutes After Taking First Dose of Dr. Agnew's Cure for Heart Disease Comes Relief. What It Did for Alfred Coulter, West Sheffield, Que., It Can Do for Any Sufferer from the Same Cause.

"I had been suffering from acute heart trouble for over four years. When doctors failed, and failed to give me relief, I procured Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. I took it at first the first dose I had relief, thirty minutes after the first dose of standing, and although mine was a case of long standing, and eight bottles effected a permanent cure, and I firmly believe, after knowing what it has done for me, that there is no hopeless case while this great cure is to be had. It is wonderful the use of my testimony is sold by Dr. Williams'—73-1.

After 16 Years. Victoria, B. C., Dec. 5.—The steamer Warrimoo, from Australia, reports that a bottle was picked up near Cape Kidnapper, New Zealand, containing a message to the effect that the ship Mohawk sprang a leak and lat. 42.21 south and long. 160.24 east, and that the crew was taking to the boats as a last hope. The message which was yellow with hope, concluded: "God help us. (Signed) John Franklin."

The Mohawk, John Franklin, mate, was lost with all hands, 16 years ago, on a voyage from Quebec to Hong Kong, and this was the first time the first word that she had been had as to how she met her doom.

Little men and little men sometimes suffer from worms. Low's Worm Syrup is very highly recommended as a cure.—73-1.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF. From a Well Known Citizen.

"My daughter Polly, has for more than a year been troubled with severe symptoms of kidney disease. She had constant and acute pains in her back. The pain in her head was fearful and almost unendurable. It frequently prevented her from attending school, and she found study at home practically impossible. She had no appetite, and did not sleep well. The pain was very severe around her heart and she was much troubled with fluttering and palpitation. She was completely worn out in body and was tired and drowsy all the time. Her mother and myself became seriously alarmed as the condition continued to grow worse."

"Last July my daughter Sarah, a teacher in the Public School at Kingston, Ont., came home to spend her vacation, and finding her sister in such a distressing and dangerous condition, she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they are doing me much good, I have a box with me and will divide with Polly, which a box with me and will divide with Polly, which a box with me and will divide with Polly."

Her full restoration to health and spirits was rapid and continuous. She has now none of her former dangerous, painful and distressing kidney troubles. She eats and sleeps well, and for more than a month has enjoyed the most vigorous health. She has not lost a day at school since she commenced taking the pills, and has so much faith in them since they restored her to full health, she has not hesitated to keep six boxes in the house all the time, in case they should be needed and not available. Her cure has been so wonderful she thinks they will cure any complaint. If the pills had cost money, the restoration of my daughter to full health and strong goodwill, from her former serious sickness, etc., I would not have hesitated to pay a large sum of money for her recovery."

"I make this sworn statement with the full expectation of my wife and daughter, voluntarily and without any urging or inducement whatever, to show the gratitude we owe to the Pills for the cure of my daughter's illness. We have not the least doubt that her trying the pills just at the time she did saved us a large sum of money. I am sixty-two years of age, a carpenter by trade, have been a resident of St. Mary's for forty years, and am well known, and I make this solemn declaration believing the same to be true and knowing the same to have the same effect as an oath, and according to the Act respecting Extra Jurisdiction of Justices, Ontario, passed in the year 1888."
