County Court in Session

The county court was in session here this week from Tuesday till yesterday. A number of cases were up for trial, the most important being Smith vs. Smith, Richards vs. G.T.R. and Broadhead vs. Gardiner.

Smith vs. Smith was an action for the recovery of damages alleged to be due owing to a slander perpetrated by the defendant. The case excited considerable interest and the court was packed with people from Southampton. Mrs. Smith charged her brother-in-law with slander, he having said that she forged her husbands name to a cheque sent from California. She sued for $500 damages and, was awarded $250 and costs by the jury. Mr. H. G. Tucker appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. C. S. Cameron for the defendant.

The next case was the one Richards vs. the G. T. R a suit to recover the damages for the loss of a steer owing to having been run into by a G. T. R. train on the 16th of Dec. last year. Early in the morning it appears 14 head of cattle belonging to Richards turned off the road and started down the track. An effort was made apparently to stop them but without avail owing to the rough uneven nature of the ground on each side of the track. There was no cattle guard along the track at the crossing where the cattle are alleged to have turned onto the track. Being unable to head the cattle off, Richards followed them and was with them when the light train struck. Mr. Cameron who appeared for the defendant company, submitted that the plaintiff had no suit under the section of the act under which he was suing; for while the cattle were on the track the man was also there and driving them as well and at the time at least not making at any effort to get them away. Furthermore all the cattle were at the time right between the rails. His worship withheld a decision on the point. A decision was given for $270,00 the amount of the suit. Mr. H. G. Tucker appeared for the plafntiff.

The last case taken up was the one of Broadhead vs. Gardiner being an action to recover damages for injuries received last June in which the plaintiff claimed that he was injured owing to a run away of the defendont's team. H. T. Broadhead the complaintant, was driving south on 4th a. w. and was just approaching the Brook bridge. He claimed that at the time he saw Mr. Gardiner's runaway team approaching him he was fifteen or twenty feet inside the fences on the north side of the bridge. Witnesses for the defence however said that they thought he was outside the railing when his wagon upset. Mr. Broadhead said that he saw the team coming and attempted to turn around to get out of the road. In attempting to turn around his wagon upset and he was thrown to the ground hurting his knee. Dr. Cowper was called to testity as to the condition of Broadhead's knee and said that it was severely strained and that his leg would never be the same again. Gardiner claimed that his team was properly tied and that he was therefore relieved of all responsibility.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the claimant, allowing him however only $75. The answers of the jury were somewhat inconsistent and payment has not yet been ordered.

Mr. H G. Tucker appeared for the defendant and Mr. Wright for the plaintiff.—Advertiser.

The Farmer's Christmas Stocking

From east to west during 1913, the Canadian farmer, as a rule, has had a good season in production, with a keen demand for his output. The people of the farm home will, therefore not have an empty Christmas stocking, and one of the first things to go into it is the handsome 100-page, annual Christmas Number of "The Farmer's Advocate and Home Mazazine," London, Ont., which this year has surely set its standard of variety and excellence higher than ever. In wealth of articles relating to Dominion-wide agriculture and beauty of illustrations, the issue is a marvel but quite in keeping with the paper, which stands in a distinct class by itself, and is now entering upon its forty-ninth year of publication, with every promise of being more useful than ever to its great and growing constituency. The sleighing party scene on the colored front cover is a rare work of art that will delight everybody. The fact that Ireland is in the world's eye to-day as perhaps never before, lends the charm of timeliness to the popular article by Mr. Chauncy G. Jarvis, on "The Achieving Sons of Ireland." Everyone will turn eagerly also to Peter McArthur's Christmas Talk and Mable Osgood Wright's brilliant article: "Song Birds—The Farmer and His Wife." The introductory article is a unique one, dealing with the remarkable agricultural terminology of the best-read book in the world. The art reproductions in black and white include several of the world's best modern paintings. There are in all over sixty beautiful engravings. The publishers and editors of "The Farmer's Advocate" are to be congratulated upon their achievement, and its readers upon receiving such a publication.

A Tara man named Wilson challenged another man to a battle in the back yard. When the smoke of battle had cleared away, Wilson was found to have a broken leg.

Fifty-three new post-offices were opened in Canada on December 1. Eighty-seven were closed on the same date, of which seventy were discontinued owing to the inauguration of the rural free delivery system.

The attendance at the Guelph winter Fais for the four days totalled 41,000.
