The nominations held here on Monday were the quietest we have seen in many a year. Contrary to usual procedure, there was absolutely no electrical display whatever. Mr. McKenzie is opposed this year by Mr. W. J. Caswell for the Reeveship.

The afternoon meeting was presided over by Mr. Claude Ekins. Mr. McKenzie reviewed his work of the year in county council and on county and township bridges. There was an entire absence of criticism for the work he had done.

Mr. Caswell followed and went over his work as commissioner. Neither was there any criticism of his work. In case of defeat he was still prepared to be Mr. McKenzie's good friend.

The old councillors followed, each giving an account of his stewardship. Mr. McLeod, for business reasons, was unable to be a candidate. Mr. James Vause, one of the new names mentioned also begged to be excused. Mr. Moore is a young man living near Inistiogue, and is well and favorably known as one of our bright young farmers, and would make an acquisition to the Council. He was not present, and at time of writing it is not known if he will remain in the field.

James Magill, of Brampton, has installed a wireless system on the grounds surrounding his residence. The system is powerful enough to communicate with the Cape Cod station and other distant points. The young son of Mr. Magill has been long interested in wireless telegraphy and the system was installed for his use. A tower on top of the house provided a capital station as it is seventy-five feet above the ground.

A large wild cat was trapped in a swamp on Mrs. Robert Thompson's farm on the 16th concession of Maryboro township, near Guelph, on Wednesday, December 17, bo John Bishop. The cat measured 49 inches from tip to tip. It is thought the big fellow was the author of considerable havoc which has been wrought in the neighborhood recently to turkey, ducks and hen roosts.—Leader.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, K.C.M.G. celebrated his 90th birthday at Belleville in the midst of numerous relatives and near.

Victoria Corners

A very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Moore, when the annual Christmas gathering of children and grandchildren was celebrated at the old home on the Owen Sound gravel road on Christmas day. One of the most remarkable features of this gathering is that Mr. and Mrs. Moore, although they have given a number of these gatherings, have never attended the funeral of one of their descendants, thus remaining one unbroken family circle of six children and their partners, as well as twenty grandchildren, all of whom were present at the gathering, since none live more than three miles from the old home. The decorations partook of complete circles, representing an unbroken family. It has been remarked that for so large a number of grandchildren there is not one with a defect, but all are a bright, merry lot of youngsters. The large four-storey cake at supper was lighted with twenty candles, one for each grandchild. During the program in the afternoon, rendered by the children, the father was presented with a nice morris chair and the mother a couch, from the children.

PACKING COMPANY GOES UNDER

The Collingwood Packing Co. has succumbed to adverse circumstances and is now in the hands of a receiver. Speaking of the reasons for this assignment the the Bulletin says:

This news has been wholly unexpected by those in the know, but, the regret that it has taken place will be general among the people of Collingwood. The Packing Co. was for many years one of the large industries of the town. It was oranized in the early nineties and by persistent effort on the part of the management succeeded in securing a wide connection and a large patronage.

Time brought changes in the course of trade and unfortunately, that which this company enjoyed was cut off, through no fault of theirs, but owing only to the new conditions. The foreign market was captured by producers closer to hand while the home market was already crowded.

What may be the outcome of the present proceeding is difficult to foresee. It may mean reorganization, or the plant being purchased by others and operated.

This Week's Budget

The Sunday School entertainment at the Methodist church, Eugenia, Friday evening, was the most successful for years. Our Reeve, Mr. Thos. McKenzie being chairman, opened the programme with a few appropriate remarks. The recitations by the children were well rendered and showed they had been thoroughly trained. The dialogues deserve special mention as they reflected great credit on all taking part therein. The recitation by Rev. Mr. Dinwoodie was enchored and responded to. The choruses by the school and also by the choir, were well received by all. The male quartette and trio were heartily applauded. The solos by Ernest Morgan and Rev. Dinwoodie were heartily encored. The speech by Rev. Dudgeon was also very much enjoyed by all. The Rev. Mr. McVicar was called and expressed his appreciation for the honor conferred, but owing to the lateness of the hour, declined to make a speech. At the close of the program Santa Claus appeared on the scene and distributed the presents from a beautiful and well laden tree. After singing the National Anthem the congregation dispersed. Proceeds about $34.

They took their honeymoon trip to Buffalo and Toronto. They will be home on Tuesday, Dec. 30, when a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. We congratulate the young couple, as they are both highly esteemed in this community. May they enjoy a long and happy journey through life.

Another happy event took place at the home of Mr. Robert Campbell on Christmas day, when over sixty of their friends and neighbors joined together to celebrate with them the 30th anniversary of their wedding, and many beautiful and costly presents were given. Mr. Jacob Williams, brother of Mrs. Campbell, addressed the family previous to the presentation of a dinner set, silverware, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell replied fittingly and expressed their pleasure at having all enjoy the anniversary with them. Music was given by Messrs. McDonald and Williams and all heeled and toed until the small hours of the morning.

The annual meeting of the W. I. will be held the first Wednesday of the new year at the home of Mrs. Geo. Lawler. Visitors welcome. The travelling library is now in the hands of the secretary. Anyone wishing for good reading may use these books in their turn for three months.
