This is the largest deficit on record. It is the largest deficit since 1886, and 1896 brings the total amount by which we have gone behind to $1,881,332 in four short years.

These are facts that require no comment. The government may blind the people for short time but not all the time. Figures make people think, and thinking makes people act.

DIAMOND JUBILEE LINDSAY

Lindsay celebrated the diamond jubilee in no mean way. First there was the children's pleasing demonstration on Friday, then the collegiate institute jubilee exercises Friday night, the Sons of England affair on Sunday and finally the big day on Tuesday. Tuesday was one of the biggest days Lindsay has ever seen. Crowds thronged the streets early in the morning, each train bringing in large numbers. Excursions from Bobcaygeon, Port Perry and Whitby helped to swell the crowd. The day's proceedings were well carried out, especially in the afternoon. Of course there were some slight disappointments, but the crowd was a good-natured one and altogether everything ran smoothly. Considering that the Y.M.C.A. only took up the celebration three weeks ago they did remarkably well. The weather was the best Queen's weather that ever went under that name. Citizens and merchants generally vied with each other in decorating and the whole town took on a gay and lively appearance. That Lindsayites are intensely loyal was evidenced throughout the whole day.

The Y.M.C.A. deserve credit for the magnificent success of their undertaking. Apart from the fact that it was the Queen's jubilee that was celebrated, it was well that there was something going on in town to hold our citizens and their money here. Only 15 people left town by the morning trains while thousands came in and thousands of dollars. Next year the same organization intend holding a big 1st July here. As they have improved this year on last year's celebration they should improve on this year's demonstration. Not only the Y.M.C.A., but those citizens regardless of denomination who aided the young men are deserving of praise, for it was not only a Y.M.C.A. but a citizens' celebration.

THE CHILDREN'S CELEBRATION.

The school children opened the Diamond Jubilee festivities on Friday afternoon and nothing prettier, nothing that could be more calculated to stimulate the loyalty of the grown up citizens will be found upon the entire programme. It was a graceful tribute tendered in a graceful manner and was favored with the most beautiful weather that ever was called Queen's weather.

About 2.30 in the afternoon, the public school children, together with those from the separate school assembled at the central school grounds and headed by the band marched down Kent street, to the Academy of Music. Over a thousand children were in line. They made a pretty and picturesque sight, as they were all dressed in their best, on their best behaviour and each carrying a flag. The procession with which they marched, and the manner in which they wheeled into the Academy seemed perfect. The Academy was literally packed with spectators. Fortunately were they so secured entrance. Principal Broderick indicated that he was going to have a children's celebration, but he did not let us know that it was going to be on so grand a scale as that of Friday's. The separate school scholars occupied the gallery; the others were on the stage. A large platform reaching to the top of the Academy had been erected on the stage and as far as the eyes could reach when the curtain was rung up there were tier upon tier of happy, smiling children all aglow with excitement. The effect was excellent and called forth thunders of applause. The proceedings were short, less than an hour, and were interesting and no one would have begrudged another hour. The children behaved splendidly and there was not a hitch to mar the affair. Mr. J. R. McNeill, the secretary of the board of education, presided. Mr. Thos. Stewart made an address to the scholars on the growth of the British Empire in the last fifty years. The address was brief and highly suitable to the occasion. Master Harry Harrington gave a recitation in good style.

Undoubtedly the feature of the day was the choruses by the assembled children under the direction of Prof. Clarke. The professor had them well trained and deserves the highest praise for his success. With his little silver wand he seemed to exert a hypnotic power over them. They followed his instruction perfectly and at all times it was as if one clear, strong voice was singing, so perfect was the union of all the glad young voices. In this manner "God Save the Queen," "Hail to our Empress Queen," "The Land of the Maple," "Rule Britannia," were sung. In some parts a very pretty effect was gained where all would wave their flags. It seemed as if the children had disappeared and the flags become suddenly imbued with life. The singing of the national anthem by the assembled audience brought the pleasing affair to a close. Principal Broderick, Prof. Clarke and the energetic staff of teachers cannot receive too much praise for carrying the affair to such a successful conclusion.

COLLEGIATE CLOSING AND JUBILEE EXERCISES

On Friday evening the collegiate institute held its closing and diamond jubilee exercises. The citizens of Lindsay take a deep interest in and are proud of their splendid school, and anything pertaining to it is bound to be well patronized. The affair of Friday night was no exception to the rule, and the large assembly hall was crowded to overflowing with an intelligent and appreciative audience.

The hall was decorated for the occasion, the stage looking especially pretty. Forming the background were large branches of maple with a sprinkling of red and white out flowers. Handsome large tables and chairs gave the place a cozy appearance, while plants and cut flowers together with draped flags added beauty and color to the scene. Two pictures, one of Her Majesty and the other of Tennyson, were given places of honor in the decoration.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle occupied the chair, and in that happy manner peculiar to him, ably fulfilled his duties. In his opening speech Mr. Flavelle announced that next session a course of lectures would be given at the collegiate by prominent university men and other well known public men of Ontario. In speaking of the work of the collegiate he deplored the fact that the work of the school was so hindered by students remaining out at the beginning and end of the school sessions. He asked the parents present to co-operate in remedying this evil.

After the singing of "The Land of the Maple" by the school under the able direction of Prof. Clark, Prof. Wm. Dale, late lecturer in Toronto university and the speaker of the evening, was introduced. Prof. Dale, in his department, is one of the ablest men in Canada. He is one of our most eminent students of history, and consequently his lecture on the "Growth of the Empire" obtained an excellent hearing. The lecture partook more of the nature of a school lecture and was a clear, able and masterly discourse, replete with detail and particulars; and while not an eloquent rhetorical oration, yet couched in the choicest vocabulary by a man thoroughly acquainted with his subject, it was at the same time a most pleasing and profitable treat.

To the students present it was an especially timely one in view of the near approach of the departmental examinations, when some questions associated with the Victorian era are almost sure to come up. Many of them followed the lecture, note book in hand. The salient points of the lecture were as follows:—

Great Britain is the greatest power on earth; her territory comprises one quarter of the area of the globe; her population, one-fifth, Asia, 300 millions; Africa, 40 millions; British Isles, 40 millions; colonies, 10 millions. Her greatness is the cause of much jealousy and envy on the part of other nations who predict her downfall on the very grounds of her bulk. But owing to her inexhaustible resources and geographical position she can hold her own against all nations. The causes of her growth were three. The first was her insularity, which caused her to devote her energies to her navy and commercial affairs abroad thus making her mistress of the sea and the superior of all nations in commerce. Next the British character had much to do with her growth, the Britisher's indomitable pluck, energy, courage, etc. In the lecturer's opinion, Cromwell was a typical Englishman. Third, Britain's spirit of justice. She ever fights on the side of right and justice. She does not coerce her subjects and people of all nations, religion and race flourish under her rule. In Mr. Dale's opinion the great empire could not go to pieces. Comparing it with the old Roman empire he showed that where the Roman empire lacked Britain was strong. A common interest, both of religion, industry and patriotism bound the Empire together, only some awful, tremendous unforeseen calamity could thrust it asunder.

In eloquent words, in which the lecturer came in for much praise, the Rev. Mr. Hughes moved, and Rev. Mr. Shorey seconded a vote of thanks, which was carried to Mr. Dale amidst great applause.

Mr. Ed. Kyle then gave the valedictory. In introducing Mr. Kyle, the chairman spoke in very complimentary terms of him, paying a high tribute to his brilliant success at the school, speaking of the many who had followed his career and expressing the best wishes for a prosperous and after career. The lecturer's reason for being proud of such a clever pupil. That he may sustain his reputation in his university career is the desire of all well wishers of the school.

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen.—It is my privilege to-night to say farewell as the representative of every year's graduates who are leaving forever the halls of our dear Alma Mater. Another year, with all its joys and sorrows, has drawn to a close—its end prizes excepted—things which we grow for us who knew that it was to be our last in the old school. When we look back over the work accomplished in the session now over, and we cannot but realize how perfectly equipped our Collegiate is to give a complete education. Our intellects have been developed, and our mind equipped with useful knowledge. The results of our athletic association we have enjoyed healthy sports, and the maxim, "Mens sano in corpore sano," has been well observed. By the weekly entertainments of the Literary Society our taste for arts and beauty has been strengthened and deepened; while guiding and controlling all there has been that strong, true, moral tone for which the Lindsay Collegiate Institute is noted.

more, whose kindness and attention have endeared him to the students at large. Our united wish is that the Collegiate may long enjoy his care, and that on our future visits to the school we may be greeted by his warm handshakes and kindly words of welcome.

We feel also that we should express our gratitude to the members of the school board. They have not only thoroughly equipped the building and given the students a most excellent staff of teachers, but have ever shown a very appreciative and minute interest in the welfare and progress of the institution.

The thought here comes to us that this year is the fortieth anniversary of the founding of a high school in Lindsay. During those forty years the graduates of the school have spread throughout the world. Some have gone to Rome, some to Germany, some to the neighboring republics some to the far coast washed by "the ocean, named of peace," and many of the ex-students have made themselves prominent in their pursuits of life. Such as the wide spreading influence of an institution of this kind, an influence no man can compute, and yet an influence exceedingly difficult to over-estimate. May we be about to depart, sustain or even raise the prestige of our Alma Mater by our subsequent achievements.

We are assured that those who in the future through these halls so dear to us, will not only be ever faithful to the reputation which the school have already acquired for its breadth of instruction, but will by their sincerity and industry place the Collegiate in an even higher and prouder position among the educational institutions of the world.

SONS OF ENGLAND REMEMBER THE DAY.

Sunday being the 20th of June, the 60th anniversary of the ascension of Victoria, it was fitting that such a great incident should be remembered in Lindsay, and it was fitting that such a loyal body as the Sons of England should take the affair in hand.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Westminster lodge No. 2, of the Sons of England assembled at their lodge rooms and headed by the band paraded 150 strong, to St. Paul's church. On invitation the members of bodies of education of the public and separate schools and town council marched. The Sons were in their lodge regalia and each wore a pretty designed round badge made up of foliage plants. In the centre were the letters "S.E." and below this were the figures "37-97," signifying the sixty years reign. The interior decorations showed that the committee having the matter in hand had expended much time and energy on the matter. The altar and choir stalls were large in full bloom. Over the altar was a large and beautiful picture of Queen Victoria. Down either side of the church draped between the pillars were red and white bunting. The afternoon sports at the agricultural grounds were witnessed by a very large crowd. The foot-ball match Lindsay vs. Port Perry high school proved an interesting match. The game was called off after an hour's play during which neither side scored.

The base-ball match Independents of Lindsay vs. the Lindsay was the easiest kind of a walk over for the Lindsay; score 19 to 4. Neither side put up a good game and loose fielding and general ragged playing was the order of the day. The track and field sports were excellent, being run off sharply and in a place where anyone could obtain a good view. The junior foot-ball match between Oakwood and the Lindsay Y.M.C.A. teams was won by Lindsay, score 1 to 0.

TUESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

MORNING SPORTS.
The morning proceedings began auspiciously about 8 o'clock by a salute, in which the booming of cannon, blowing of whistles, ringing of bells, took part. Something like the old time interest in aquatic was revived in town Tuesday. Following are the events and winners:—

After the water sports the crowd adjourned to Kent street where the Lindsay fire department gave a free exhibition. This was followed by a horse reel competition between the Lindsay G.T.R. fire department and the Bobcaygeon firemen. The G.T.R. men are a close contest from the Bobcaygeon men. Bobcaygeon put out an excellent fire team for a small place, and undoubtedly would have made much better time if their captain had not unfortunately been taken with a cramp and fallen at a critical moment.

Grand Trunk—1st move, 38 1/2 seconds; 2nd move, 14 sec; 3rd move, 11 1/2; total, 1 min. 4 1/2 seconds.
Bobcaygeon—1st move, 59 sec; 2nd move, 18 sec; 3rd move, 33 1/2 sec; total, 1 min. 50 1/2 seconds.

The following were the names of G.T.R. team:—James Storer, chief; T. Walton, captain; T. Crofton, J. Archer, E. Crofton, J. Walton, S. Trotter, R. Preston, J. McNeill, H. Varnes, C. Babcock. Bobcaygeon team—A. Kennedy, chief; R. Perry, captain; G. Elder, W. McNutt, G. Humphrey, R. Hurst, R. Prescott, J. Moffat. Bobcaygeon being one man short, Mr. T. Bunting of the Lindsay brigade took his place.

The band competition fell through, all the bands failing to put in an appearance with the exception of the Bobcaygeon band. They, with the Lindsay band gave several selections on the street. Bobcaygeon has every reason to be proud of her band and very favorable were the remarks passed on their playing throughout the whole day.

The cricket match on the school grounds, Lindsay vs. Halliburton, was won by Lindsay. Score 22 to 52. The result was a surprise to many as the Halliburton team had been doing some excellent practice work, and it was anticipated that they would give the Lindsay cricketers a harder match. An unfortunate streak of hard luck together with good playing on the part of our own cricketers is the only way of accounting for their defeat.

The afternoon sports at the agricultural grounds were witnessed by a very large crowd. The foot-ball match Lindsay vs. Port Perry high school proved an interesting match. The game was called off after an hour's play during which neither side scored.

The base-ball match Independents of Lindsay vs. the Lindsay was the easiest kind of a walk over for the Lindsay; score 19 to 4. Neither side put up a good game and loose fielding and general ragged playing was the order of the day. The track and field sports were excellent, being run off sharply and in a place where anyone could obtain a good view. The junior foot-ball match between Oakwood and the Lindsay Y.M.C.A. teams was won by Lindsay, score 1 to 0.

also a parade, what there was of it was very good but owing to the number of bicyclists who backed out at the last moment, there was rather a slim turn out. Messrs. Herb. Noworthy and W. Goodwin received the prizes for the best decorated wheels. The Sons of Scotland huge bonfire and several small displays by private parties added considerable brilliancy to the scene. Several of the merchants had nicely decorated windows and where these were lighted up the effect was very pretty.

Undoubtedly the feature of the evening in fact of the whole day, was the patriotic address delivered by the rev. J. W. Macmillan B. A. B. D. of St. Andrew's church, on the market square. The celebration committee decided well when they came to the conclusion that it was not necessary to go out side to secure a speaker when they could command the services of the rev. Mr. Macmillan. The address was a model one in every way, one well worthy of the occasion.

Without appealing to the emotions or passions but speaking calmly and logically the reverend gentleman held his audience numbering thousands, spell bound. Sel-dom has a Lindsay audience listened to a better address and the tremendous applause at its close was a fitting tribute to the magnificent effort of speaker. The address was a fitting climax to the Lindsay Diamond Jubilee celebration of Her Majesty Queen Victoria and was well deserving of the excellent hearing it received. After Mr. Macmillan had finished speaking headed by the band the immense audience joining in singing "God Save The Queen."

Caretaker Galbraith of the post office had his institution well decorated on jubilee day. He secured twenty-four large flags from Ottawa for the occasion.

SCORE ONE FOR COVEY, BALDWIN.—For some reason last Tuesday, when there were thousands of people in town, the watering cart was not in use. Clouds of dust annoyed every one until about three o'clock when councillor Robert Baldwin secured the services of an extra team and in a short time allayed the nuisance, for which Mr. Baldwin deserves the thanks of every citizen and visitor to the town.

ALWAYS READY FOR DUTY.—The old adage, that a British soldier is ready for action on a minute's warning, was exemplified on Monday, night in the person of Sergeant Major Macdonald, whose early training and experience in the Crimea taught him to watch for an unwelcome visitor, as closely as he would have done in front of an army. As many of our citizens are aware, the sergeant-major has a small cannon with which on national holidays he fires a salute, not forgetting 12th July in his programme. On Monday night a few of our citizens also gave a practical joke proposed to steal the piece of ordnance, but also for them, "the well laid schemes of mice and men gang aft agone," while three were keeping watch another marched boldly to the scene of action to capture the gun, but as he was entering the building where the cannon was placed, ready for action, the stern challenge of the sergeant-major, "Who goes there? What do you want?" caused the would be capturers to beat a hasty retreat, minus, we understand, a coat of mail. It is needless to say the cannon thundered forth a royal salute on Tuesday morning in honor of Her Majesty's diamond jubilee.

Master Clare Terry, son of Mr. A. B. Terry, confectioneer, was knocked down by a baker's horse on Friday evening while listening to a band. He was taken into Gregory's drug store and quickly recovered consciousness. It is ridiculous that in a town of this size and band is compelling to play on the street corner. A band stand should be built. The arrangements for the view of the great traffic on Kent st., bad nights, is a constant menace to public safety.

The bicycle club meet on July 29th promises to be a big affair. All the Canadian "push" will be here.

The 46th battalion with Col. John Hughes, formerly of the 45th, in command, were on camp at Kingston on Wednesday. The Janetville company of the regiment with Capt. Nesbitt in command, were in town Wednesday, previous to their departure.

MASONS.—On Sunday last the members of Faithful Brothers lodge No. 77 A.E. & A.M. attended St. Paul's church at morning service, where an eloquent and impressive sermon was delivered by Bro. W. Farncombe, B.A., of Fenelon Falls. A number of brethren were present from the lodges at Fenelon Falls and Omemee. The procession was headed by the Lindsay band, the members of Midland Chapter No. 94 in full regalia bringing up the rear. We purpose giving a full report of the sermon in THE WARDEE next week.

Many citizens will remember the sudden and unexpected for loud claps of thunder on Wednesday. The noise was preceded by all the telephone bells in town ringing, giving rise to the thought that the wires had been struck by lightning. The electricity cut off the power house of the waterworks running along the electric wire, and after capering roundabout made its escape through a window. The mystic element barely escaped Mr. Begbie who was in the place at the time, going over his head and striking his dog, Mr. Begbie and his assistants received a severe shock.

Your cough, like a dog's bark, is a sign that there is something foreign around which shouldn't be there. You can quiet the noise, but the danger may be there just the same. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not a cough specific; it does not merely allay the symptoms but it does give such strength to the body that it is able to throw off the disease. You know the old proverb of "the ounce of prevention?" Don't neglect your cough.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil. Put up in 50c. and $1.00 sizes.
