$ $ $ $ $ $ PRESENTS

Are hard to select in some stores but not so with us.

We make a special feature of our business to have suitable goods in the most approved styles.

NEVER BEFORE

China been shown in Lindsay as we are now exhibiting.

It is really beautiful. Why not have some when it costs so little more than the common.

The Leading Jewellers. Lindsay.

If your eyes trouble you consult as we are opticians.

WEST END Bumber, Coal and

Dry Hardwood, Long and Short; firstclass Stove, Nut and Egg Coal; also the best Blacksmith Coal in the market.

Fresh Lime, Drain Tile and Sewer Pipe of all sizes. A full line of Lumber and Shingles for Builders. Everything up to date, and prices to suit the times.

Give us a call. Telephone 56.

MONEY TO LOAN. MESSES. BARRON & STEERS, Solicitors, have arrangements by which large or small sums can be loaned on security of real estate for long or short periods, on terms suitable to borrowers, at rates of interest from 5 to 7 per cent. Office—Dominion Bank building, William St. Lindsay.—2007-ly STEAMSHIP AGENCY. For tickets to or from the Old Country and Europ all and see or write me.

Agent Dominion Building and Loan Association. Own your own house on easy terms and thus save the rent.

Rave you inquired into our perfectly safe, cheap, money order system !

—78-17. Q. E. WILDER, Express Office.

The Aictoria Farder

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1897.

A union hearts and a union of hards A union none can sever;
A union of homes and a union of Lands And the flag, BRITISH UNION, forever.

MANUFACTURE THE LOGS INTO LUMBER AT HOME.

The new American tariff is so arranged that Canadian lumber going into the States pays $2.00 per thousand, while Canadian sawlogs go in free.

Canadian government imposes an export to meet on a political or any platform. duty on logs, the United States duty on lumber shall be correspondingly increased. The easiest way to bring the Americans known faces. to their senses, and above all to protect the Canadian in his rights, is for the Ontario government to require as it has the right to do, that all logs ent in Ontario shall be sawn into lumber in Ontario.

Such a policy would greatly benefit this country. Now many a home is broken up because the breadwinner is forced to Mr. Sandford, who was badly cut in the follow the logs to Michigan and earn a face and inwardly hurt, but we are happy able Canadian home is broken up and he and his little family become wanderers. Further, this country loses the great

The people of Fenelon Falls can readily appreciate the benefit to Canada of lumber cut at home.

Formerly saw-mills ran at the village and all was prosperous and bright. Then for some years the mills were closed down. The people-who were left-used to watch the drives of logs as they glided by and shot down the timber slide. But the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday examfrom seeing the logs float by. Then mills were again put into operation at Fenelon Falls, and the place flourished, and still

May success attend the effort to force the Ontario government to manufacture the lumber in Ontario.

EDITURIAL NOTES.

Goldwin Smith recently gave an interview to a correspondent of an English paper in which he expressed the opinion that christianity was one of the finished things, that imperialism was a farce and that Canada was sure to be annexed to the United States. He finished up by saying that "he sometimes thought he of Buffalo spent a few days last week the should live to see the last horse, the last poet and the last woman." The British Weekly says he is no doubt congratulating himself that he cannot possibly live to see the last ass.

"RATS LEAVE THE SINKING SHIP,"

Why does D. J. McIntyre seek to ge the junior judgeship of Victoria? Is because he sees the handwriting on the wall announcing the downfall of the dismissal of all "offensive partisans"? As junior judge he would be under the control of the Dominion government while as police magistrate he is amenable to the provincial authority.

When Mr. Whitney comes into office next June he would be perfectly justified in enacting retroactive legislation to remore the public immorality of the Hardy government anent junior judgeships and other public offices. All junior judges appointed under the Hardy Act of last session should be "beheaded" by making the legislation retroactive if such were possible.

It is only eight months at farthest until the conservatives will be in power in Ontario and only three years till the liberal party will be turned out of the Dominion government. But much iniquity might be perpetrated meantime. The successors in office would be justified in undoing all public wrongs.

J. P. WHITNEY IN VICTURIA.

The two meetings, Fenelon Falls and Lindsay, held in Victoria by J. P. Whitney Esq., assisted by J. W. St John M.P. P., J. H. Carnegie, M.P.P., Samuel J. Fox the coming M.P.P. for West Victoria, and Col. Sam. Hughes M.P., chairman of the Midland counties conservative association, have been characterized by very large attendance of electors very intelligent listeners, and very able addresses. The effect of the meetings has been most and the people at large.

Mr. Whitney has made a most favorable impression and has won many an indeimpression and has won many an independent reformer to enrol himself in his following. The wave is rolling onward and "Hardy is going out" is the almost universal watchword.

Mr. Whitney may well congratulate himself on his successes thus far, but singlehanded he cannot win the province. His presence everywhere, however, is the signal for enthusiastic action among old time conservatives; for the winning over to his cause of independent reformers, and for the causing to be thoughtful and independent many old time "hardshells".

The world moves on, and so, when elections come on the Hardy government will quietly move on. But rest assured, when Mr. Whitney becomes Premier of Ontario, while allowing his opponents to march out with all the honors of war, he will speedily put the affairs of this grand old province under capable managers and will expose the years of grit deception.

FENELON FALLS.

One of the largest, most orderly and held in our village, took place on Tuesday evening in the skating rink, in the interests of Mr. J, H. Carnegie, M.P.P., in his canvass for the forthcoming election in the local legislature. Mr. H. J. Lytle, of Fenelon Falls, president of the conservative association acted as chairman and discharged his duties in such a manner as to increase his, at present, great popularity. The first speaker of the evening was Mr. John Fell, our former and highly respected member, who spoke a few words in a pleasing vein, and was followed by Mr. F. D. Moore, Col. Sam Hughes and Mr. Fox, in short addresses and then Mr. J. H. Carnegie, M.P.P., our popular candidate spoke for a short time in his usual pleasing and gentlemanly manner. Mr. Carnegle's address was very short, but he made hiu views and principles clear to all. He was followed by Mr. J. P. Whitney, who spoke for some length in a straight forward manly manner on the questions of the day, and dealt with them so clearly and lucidly that even a fool could understand. In this limited space, it would ill befit your humble correspondent to attempt even a slight synopsis of Mr. Whitney's address, particularly as reporters and the talented editor of THE WARDER were present. The inhabitants of Fenelon Falls not present missed a rare treat as Mr. Whitney is clever, eloquent and gentlemanly, and left behind him the impression that he There is a further clause that if the would be a difficult person for an oppon-Amongst those on the platform we noticed Messrs. J. D. Naylor, Dr. Laurie of Coboconk, W. Jordan, and many other well

The water wheel in connection with Mr. F. Sandford's mill has been placed in position, and whilst working at the bridge joining the wheel to the mill Messrs. W. Sandford, P. Deyman, F. Chambers and H. Littleton had a bad fall on Thursday ol last week. All escaped miraculously with a shaking up, except to state not seriously.

The ladies of the methodist church intend holding a towl supper with the wealth from the millions of money that would be spent here by the additional to secure the Rev. E. Roberts, ex-pres. of the Bay of Quinte conference, for the occasion. There will no doubt be a large turnout as Mr. Roberts is well and favorably known here.

Mr. P. Oneliett had the misfortune, while engaged in cutting some beef, to cut his hand badly last week, and still carries the injured member in a sling. Inspector H. Reazin of Cambray spent ining our schools Miss Sutherland is the guest of her brother, Mr. A. Sutherland....Mrs. M. McKinnon returned on Saturday from Cannington, where she had been to attend the wedding of her sister . . . Mr. G. H. Dartnell returned last Friday from a short visit to Niagara Falls....Mr. J. D. Naylor and his son Mr. I Naylor, spent Tuesday at the Falls.
Mr. Naylor's many friends were pleased to see him looking much bettar than lately . . . Miss B. Nie left last Saturday to fill a position as teacher in a school at Wilberforce....Mr. R. S. Rowland spent last Saturday in Lindsay.....Mr. H. Robson returned from British Columbia last week Mrs. J. McArthur left guest of her uncle A. Wilson, M.D. Our village is at present swarming with pups, and it is to be hoped that the troublesome little canines will be kept in their proper places.

last week for a short visit to one of her

Letter No. 11. Col. Sam. Hughes' Trip to Hng-

A gentleman accosted me on Lindsay streets last week who informed me that he knew Rev. Allan Bayne, my clerical Ontario Government, and the consequent friend of the Vale of Leven and Loch Lomond side. The same day I had received a box of "Bonnie Hielan Heather," one spring being white, others pale pink, others deep purple; as well as a photograph of Rev. Mr. Bayne, taken on the top of the mountain at the "Ladle Spring" where we had rested on that memorable Sunday, another photograph of the Latin inscription on Smolett's monument in Renton, besides a letter and a piece of postry commemorating the finding of the white heather. These shall be preserved as mementos of my good friend, and, though needless for this purpose, will brighten the recollections of the Vale of Leven and

SABBATH ON CARMAN. Sept. 6th, 1897. I wandered over all the moor;

The rains had fallen; night drew near; The common heathers, like the poor, Around me everywhere appear. The pale, the ruddy, th' almost white

Are seen in beauty all around; Showers over there-and comes

I gave up looking—walked along; Lo, at my feet and all alone, This sprig of white that makes my song; I pluck it for a land unknown-Unknown to me but not to you. May it now sent speak thoughts above

These things, the low and the untrue-Speak of the Christ of "Perfect Love." To LT. COL. SAM. HUGHES, M.P., Lindsay, Canada. From Rev. ALLAN BAYNE,

Renton, Vale of Leven, Carman is the mountain overlooking Loch Lomond and the Vale of Leven on the south west. But to return to the western and north ern Highlands to bid them a hurried

The Caledonian canal divides Scotland entering Loch Linnhe from the Sound of Mull and Kerrara Sound, thence to Loch Aber, past Loch Eil, up Neptune's staircase, i.e., the canal locks overcoming the rapids of the river Lochy; thence through Loch Lochy, Laggan locks, Loch and river Oich into Loch Ness and onward through the river Ness canal to Inverness. Inverness, I am sorry to say, was not visited by me, though on two occasions it was quite close. It was my intention to visit Aberdeen, Inverness and the northeastern coast later, but being cabled to return for military camp prevented the carrying out of the plans, so the pleasure of a visit there rests in the future.

The western trips, however, were carried out and volumes could be written on each. Any one of the islands, Islay, Jura, Colonsay, the McNeill headquarters; Mull, Skye, immortal for her soldiers, statesmen and divines; Lewis and Harris famed like McLeod; North Uist and South Uist where "memory ever fondly strays"—all those western islands with their rugged beauty, wild history, charming romance and noble people form at theme for tourist's pen, and for tourists' visits. On another occasion these scenes will be described at greater length. The shores are studded with castles of the McLeods, Mackenzies, Macdonalds and other noted clans of the district. Every bay, promontory, cave and plain has its romance of love or war. Few miles of the rugged coast but are famed in the romances and wanderings of "Bonnie Prince Charlie." Even yet the name seems magical amid the Highlands, and one can readily imagine the sentiment that enthused a people to sing and to put their song into practice-

"Wha wad na follow thee, King o' the Highland hearts, Bonnie Prince Charlie."

In a lonely spot, away in the northern part of Skye, is "Flora Macdonald's grave." The history and sad fate of that charming young lassie are known to our readers. Becoming attached to "Bonnie Prince Charlie" she followed him faithfully through all his joys and sorrows, his successes and reverses; and, in his trials and dangers, when all else had forsaken him, young Flora Macdonald gave the world an example of how true a Highland lassie's love can be. James Hogg, "The Ettrick Shepherd," has immortalized Flora. He pictures her parting from "Prince Charlie" as the latter was escaping to the Continent after his defeat-Farewell to the lad I shall ne'er see again;

Farewell to my hero the gallant and young. Flora remained faithful, and her lonely grave rests a monument viewed annually by thousands of tourists who, while amenting her folly, and bewailing her fate, yet admire her fidelity and truth. Another Scottish songster, Maclagan, has commemorated the unhappy love affair from Bonnie Charlie's view point-

"Farewell to my bright dreams of fame, love and glory; Farewell, bonnie Highlands, still dear, dear to me; Farewell to my lost love, my soul's dearest

Flora. My last sigh I'll give to dear Scotland and See, see you proud eagle thro' stormy clouds soaring, How fearless the flight of the wing that is free. Such joy may be mine, love, when

Heaven restoring

The land I lo'e dear and my Flora scenes of the prowess of the famous was fought, and the fact that the McLeods are in possession still of the islands seems proof that though descended from the century periods, yet they were able from the 9th century onward to hold their own of vessels and of iron in their construction.

The Spanish Armada wrecks also furnished many an eventful story along the shores of the wild Hebrides. But I cannot now take either time or space to

In leaving the North-Western Highlands and Western Isles one recalls the famous lines of Burns—"My Heart's in the High-

"Farewell to the Highlands, farewell to

The birthplace of valor, the country of | WOULD Wherever I wander, wherever I rove,

The hills of the Highlands torever I love." But tho' I bid adieu to those lovely and omantic scenes for the present, let me hope that many and useful are the lessons taught by the few weeks spent amid those historic places and people. Those people have never yet hesitated to stand for BICYCLES liberty. They

"Ne'or crouched to proud usurpin' might, But foremost stood wrong's stern avenger.

In the Scotchman as in the Englishman and in the Northern Irihmen, the love of liberty is strong. One's personal liberty is valued more highly than aught else, and there is fortunately ilmost an entire absence of that great American weakness —a gentle duplicity or hypocrisy in mat-ters of principle. No one in Britain is offended if one does not agree with his views. Indeed no one makes any pretence to care much whether his views on this or that subject are acceptable or not. It is taken for granted that every man has the full right to exercise his own opinion and to act within the most liberal bounds up to his opinion. As a consequence coercive laws, unless for positive putlawry or crime, are almost unknown. greatly admired the Britisher, and especially the High-lander, for in his rugged home smid the mountain glens, or on the wild western islands, he has ever kept the fountain springs of liberty pure, resh and vigorous.

Long may the same sprit flourish is my amid the Highlands and Isles I can truly good preferential trader "within the

"Still in visions I belold thee, Still I see thee fresh and fair; Hearing legends love has told me, And I breathe thy nountain air."

I can never forget or repay my good, true and noble friend, Lord Strathcons and Mount Royal-or as Canadians still love to term him-Sir Donald Smith. The fine views obtained of his beautiful castle and estate, Inversee, on the banks of Loch Leven in the Highlands, will be cherished as mementos of pleasant hours spent in such historic ground. The famed Coe, with the more widely noted "Pass of Glencoe," are at the left hand; in front and extending far up to the right or to the north-east extends Loch Leven into which flows a river Leves. On the further, or northern side, is the Lochaber shore, while behind tower aleft the "Pass of Glencoe" and scores of wild, rugged mountains. On such an estate well may Canada's noblest citizen seek periods of rest and repose after years so well spent in his country's upbuilding. Descended as he is from the Royal family of Stewart, his mother being one of that noble house, Lord Mount Royal gives evidence of all the best and truest characteristics of that capable family. His cousin, Field Marshal Sir Donald Stewart, stands to-day with Field Marshal Lord Roberts, eminent for service in India and Afgianistan; while in the famous McNeill family Lord Mount Royal finds other kinfolk of whom he may be proud. Long will that grand and noble

Note:-There are several Lochs and rivers "Leven" in Scotland. The chief river of that name flows from Loch Lomond to the Clyde, while the chief loch borders Lochaber and lies alongside "Invercoe"

Again adieu to the Western Highlands and away to Pertishire, Dundee, Edinburgh, Tweed and Melrose, Liddisdale, the Border country and above all back to Glasgow and down thro' Ayr, Dumfries, Wigtown and other south-western parts. "Bonnie Doon" with all its associationspast and especially present; Maxwelton Braes, Afton Water, and many other interesting spots were visited and will be duly described in succeeding chapters. As the Highlands produce one noble type of man and woman, so the Lowlands have another. Each is strong in all the essentials that go to make up noble man and womanhood, that tend to greatness. But in social life there is a slight difference. The Lowlands of Scotland are unrivalled for warm hearted, friendly, loving people. Bebbie Burns was but one, and his songs are typical of that grand people. They clearly agree with Burns that "The wisest man the world e'er saw He dearly lo'ed the lasses, O." And nearly all can sing :-

"I has been blithe wi' comrades dear: I hae been merry drinkin', O; I hae been joyful gatherin' gear; I hae been happy thinkin', O; But a' the pleasures e'er I saw. Tho' three times doubled fairly, O; That happy night was worth them a', Amang the rigs o' barley, O." On reaching Glasgow from the North and getting "caught up" reading the papers, for I had seen the journals very irregularly in the mountains and islands, I was greatly surprised to read Sir Wilfrid's nonsensical speech at the Cobden Club. In all his British public speeches up to that one Sir Wilfrid had been very judiclous and had given general satisfaction even to a cranky fellow like me. Indeed, I hoped that owing to some good influence I did not claim the credit tor it, that worthy Canadian was going to adopt the conservative policy and, casting aside his past political follies, go actively in for upbuilding the Empire and thus of course greatly benefit Canada. But, whether it was his visit to that dear old but doting statesman, Gladstone; or his desire to stand well with the Parisians; or whether the visit to His Holiness the Pope had rattled him, certain it is that he greatly surprised his friends. No one of importance was at the Cobden On several points along the shores are Club. Sir Wilfrid should have known that, to-day in England, Scotland and McLeod clan with the early sea kings or Ireland the people have learned that free Scandinavians. Many a bloody battle trade is not responsible for Britain's commercial growth and greatness in recent years, but that in spite of it she has progressed because of the following reasons: Scandinavians of the third and fourth 1. Her merchants were quickest to take advantage of steam in the propelling

Such too is the record of the great Mackenzie clan, one which till the present is commemorated in the famous Seaforth itself squal to a and colonial trade, in Highlanders.

2. These factors gave her merchants first and almost absolute control of the avenues of foreign and colonial trade, in Dawson. itself equal to an enormous protection, for it is difficult to overcome established lines of business.

3. Iron ship building and the impulse given to inventions in machinery following altered conditions of trade produced by the use of steam and iron, gave great impetus to home industries and afforded employment to hundreds of thousands of aged about 75 years.

YOU LIKE

A BICYCLE-OR A GOLD WATCH? 27 GOLD

ARE GIVEN AWAY EVERY MONTH

Ask your grocer for particulars or drop a post card to LEVER BROS., Limited, Scott St., TORONTO.

this; and the surprise is that Sir Wilfrid should have for once while in Britain made a serious slip. But let it be hoped he has retrieved the error, by becoming Of the scenes and the learts encountered as his more recent utterances indicate—a Empire."

Next week I shall write of Ayr, and Bonnie Doon.

DR. McKAY AND J. P. WHITNEY EXAMPLES

Many parents, mothers especially, are averse to their sons becoming volunteers. They dread "bad company" and "bad habits," and fear their darlings might be called on some time for active service.

Review the men of Canada to-day and those who have had the opportunity of belonging to the militia will testify to the ennobling effects thereof. Instances in hundreds can be quoted, but in this county it will be sufficient to state the fact that in addition to those of the local force, two well known men look with pride on their old militia days, i.e., J. P. Whitney, Efq., leader of the conservative party in Ontario, and Dr. McKay, M.P.P., of Woodville. These gentlemen were soldiers together upwards of a quarter of a century ago. Are they any the worse to-day for having worn Her Majesty's volunteer

A young fellow weak enough to be led astray while soldiering is weak enough to be misled at home, and the likelihood of his going wrong at home is much greater than at camp.

Once, in Fenian raid days of 1870, it was expected a certain corps would be called out for frontier service, and the great Empire he so judiciously seeks to One fine young fellow was hidden by his upbuild. Skye for the greatness of their people gentleman be honored in Canada and the and as being the headquarters of the Clans great Empire he so judiciously seeks to One fine young fellow was hidden by his foolish mother in the hay loft. The fact leaked out and the young fellow lost spirit. The writer met that man only last year in a northern lumber camp village, a common drunkard and wreck. He had "gone through" a fine property and was about as low as possible. In conversation over old days he said his mother's act in hiding him had unmanned him forever. A thousand times better had that misguided mother sent her boy off and let him run his chance of being of Woodville has encouraged both of his sons to join the 45th battalion, and is fully alive to the benefits to be derived from such a training. Many others in the county are also asking that their sons may be enrolled in the regiment.

On one occasion also during Fenian raid days of 1870, a mother different from the previous one, on being told by her son that he was going to enlist to go to the front, did not hide him or discourage him, but said, "Go and God bless you my son, and never turn your back on the enemy." That son states that throughout his whole life the strength of his mother's encouraging words has had an ennobling

Let all Victoria mothers do likewise.

Society Notes.

THURSDAY, 21.—Regular meeting of Midland Chapter No. 94, Royal Arch Masons, Births.

CAVANA. - At Cannington, Saturday, Oct. 2, 1897, the wife Mr. Chas. J. Cavana, of a Marriages

HARTLE-COCHRANE. -At the residence of Mr. Jas. Cochrane, the bride's father, 3rd con. of Fenelon, on Oct. 6th, by Rev. J. A. McKenzie, Mr. J. Hartle to Agnes Cochrane, both of Cambray. PLANK-EDWARDS -At Cannington, Sept. 29, Miss Carrie Edwards. of Cannington, and Mr. Charles A. Plank, of Uxbridge.

STODDERT-WILSON. -At methodist church

Fenelon Falls, by Rev. M. Steele, on 29th Sept., 1897, Miss Maud Wilson, daughter of John Wilson, Esq., of Fenelon, and Mr. Ellsworth Stoddert, of Seginaw, Michigan. ACTON-THORBURN.-At the residence of Mr. John Thorburn, township of Mariposa, on the 6th inst, by the Rev. A. Currie. M. A., Mr. Edward Acton, of Victoria Corners, to Miss Margaret Jane Thorburn.

ARMSTRONG-McFadyen.-At the baptist parsonage, Cannington, on Tuesday, October 5th, 1897, by the Rev. A. H. Brace, Mr. Wm. J. Armstrong and Miss Annie Bell McFadyen, both of Manilla.

WHALEY-BELL, -On the 13th inst., at the methodist pareonage, 38 St. Paul street, Lindsay, by Rev. J. Macfarlane, Mr. Murt Whaley of Harwood and Miss Maud Bell of BRYANT. -In Lindsay, on Monday, Oct. 11, 1897, James J. Bryant, aged 51 years. DAWSON, -At Derrvville, Saturday, Oct. 2, 1897, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo.

CAVANA.—At Caunington, Monday, Oct 3, Archie Allan, infant son of Chas J. and Euph

McCully—At Blackwater, Tuesday, Oct. 4, 1897, Edmund McCully, aged 47 years. IRWIN.—At the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. John McKinnon, St. John street, Can-nington, on Friday, 1st, 1897, Mrs. Irwin,

The great growth of British trade and Cannington, on Saturday afternoon, October those causes. All Britishers now realize R. May, aged 1 year, 6 months and 27 days.

Mantles, Dress Goods, Clothing and Furs

LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S MANTLES AND COATS

Our Ladies' Black and Colored Cloth Mantles commence at $2.50 for nice sightly goods, in prices ranging from $3.00 to $7.00. We show a large range, Then they take an upward move till $20.00 is reached. You are thoroughly welcome to see these goods at any time. You will possibly say with others that our assortment is most complete, in many features not surpassed. Ladies' Capes with the new back from $2.50, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00 to $15.00; also handsome Fur lined goods that should interest you.

Racoon Coats, Astrachan Jackets, for Ladies of all sizes, with an assortment of Capes, Caperines, Collars, Ruffs and Ties, in the newest and choicest Furs.

The distinctive feature of our

Dress Goods Assortment

is the nice range of medium prices,

Heavy Tweed Effects 15c, 18c, 20c, 25c.

A complete spread of shades at 25c, 30c, 35c; both in Serge and Broche We have another shipment of those very desirable Plaids at 10c. for children and housewear; very pretty Tartans 25c, 35c, 50c, 60c. Our Black and Colored Serges are complete in following colors:—Moss, Myrtle, Seal, Navy Blue, Pink, Light Green, Cardinal, and several designs in Black at 25c, all wool, and possibly two inches wider than usually sold at 25c, Black and Colored Cashmeres are more in demand than ever. Our Blacks at 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c. should be seen and handled to be appreciated. Our Trimmings are so varied that you can match almost any shade in either braid, jet or iridescent effects.

With commendable spirit Dr. McKay Ladies' and Misses' Cashmere Gloves and Hosiery

Ladies' and Children's Colored Cashmere Gloves at 10c.

Black Cashmere Gloves 15c, 20c, 25c. Wool Gloves at 20c, 25c, 30c. Black and Colored Kid Gloves 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25; a fine range of Ladies' and Gentlemen's, suitable for wedding reception wear. Ladies' Wool Hose, extra heavy, 20c. a pair.

Ladiss' Ribbed Wool Hose, 25c. a pair. Ladies' Ribbed Cashmere Hose, 25c. a pair. Children's 10c, 12c, 15c, 18c, 22c, in Wool and Cashmere, ribbed.

Grand value in Ladies' and Children's Flannelette Night Gowns, Chemise and Drawers in sizes 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S KNITTED UNDERWEAR-Vests 10c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 45c, 50c, are all specials in these grades. Drawers, Combinations and Bloomers.

TABLE LINEN IS A FEATURE HERE— 20, 25, 27, 33 inch unbleached, and 45, 50, 60, 75 inch pure white; a very xtra special. MEN'S CARDIGANS 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50. MEN'S UNDERWEAR 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 50c, 60c.

BOYS' UNDERWEAR 22c, 25c, 28c, 30c, 35c. Are repeatedly acknowledged as the best value seen. FLANNELETTES 31c, 4c, 5c, 6c, 7c, 8c, 10c. SHIRTING FLANNELETTES Sc, 10c, 12c, 13c. DRESS GOODS FLANNELETTE 10c, 123c, 15c. LACE CURTAINS 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 up. BLINDS 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c, 50c. SHOULDER SHAWLS 50c, 75c, $1.00. TWEEDS 25c, 35c, 40c, 50c. UMBRELLAS 50c, 60c, 75c, $1.00.

MEN'S AND BOYS' OVERCOATS

Our Men's Tweed lined Ulster at $4.75, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 are four specials. Men's and Boys' Pants. We excel in Pants. Men's at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.35, $1.50, $2.00, are the par excellence of value. Job lot Boys' Suits, ranging from six years to ten years, for $1, $1.25, $1.50.

You'll of course remember that our Carpet and Oilcloth rooms have always some bargains for you.

Handkerchiefs, with colored borders, commence at 1c. each; others at 3c, 5c, 3c, 10c, and up. Baby Coats, Bonnets, Bootees and Infantees. Many other articles too numerous to mention in our small space.

E. W. MCGAFFEY

A

SPECIA

gages the ve

a mort

the say

HOY

You hav

you w

procra

The perfect guaran and L SHOT goods

A Ho Bagga You'r My G She L

NE Songs The S Glory

A Sthat I eight elsew Hoo weeks east, I am style. All ing s of Si Specings. east s