Now that Mr. Lytle has admitted all THE WARDER OVER Claimed in reference to the treasonable address to Laurier at Cannington: has admitted that he never authorized either the Post of Mr. Barron

Mr. Lotte never signed the address, doubtless cannot see his way to separate himself from them. Our advice to him is to boldly stand forth, assert the manhood dormant in his system, place the grit ring, the men of interior intellect in the background, and again alle binacit the background, and again ally himself with the constitutional party. His heart is there, we know it. Let the voice, the act, the man, also be there. Let him resent the audacious action of the contracted souls forming the grit ring ruling North Victoria reformers, and again be a tion among the little grit ring over the bure-faced action of placing the honored name of Ed. Lotte to the treasonable address. If Mr. Lotle is the man we believe him to be, and he surely is, he and the ring will part company at once.

MIND AND SPIRIT; AND THE POWER

The exhibitions given last week in Lindsay by Prof. Reynolds, a mesmerist, have set the public wondering whence comes this strange unintelligible power of the professor. He has nightly acquired control over the will power of many well Nincara, the streets of London, Paris, Italy; and made them perform all manner of fantastic movements. Over some more power was obtained than others. Some who deliberately yielded to the mesmeric the genuineness of the science. It has for sues been known but not understood. It enables the operator to obtain control of another's will, and make appear before see Falls having often been viewed by the subject's mind any scene of cause him to uprform and act the operator wills.

There is another equally surprising science whereby the operator reads the subject's thoughts, but does not control This is usually termed mind read-A very few persons are susceptible of Ether, heat, light, magnetism and electricity are all various forms of the same ed that thought passes from mind to mind through space as the telegraphic of telephonic message does along the wires. It space and all eternity. Science now demonstrates the theory that there is a physical force in thought. Those who saw Prot. Many positive instances of the operation of mind over mind separated by great distances, are recorded. The waves of thought, either good or bad, that seem to aweep over all lands in periods may possibly be traced to otherest or electrical motion. As yet the science is in its infancy; but enough is known of the utility and power of other, or electricity, or magnetism, or heat, to satisfactority explain all the supposed supernatural agencies and phenomena of bygone times.

Psychology and the broader studies of otherest and electrical power should more ongress the attention of scientists until, the system is understood. Already enough is known and within the grasp of the willing mind even of the most ignorant, to dispot the shadows, clouds and superstitions of priesteraft and tyranny ever the human mind and body.

GEORGE MOROGH AND THE SCUGOG

Several gentlemen residing along Stoney creek in Ops have informed us that Geo. McHugh and other bland innocents have approached them to "just write a letter to the Post showing your views on the Mr. Lotte never heard of the address Linusay dam, and the damage done your antil some considerable time after the show at Cannington,

Mr. Lotle at heart is, we believe, even flat, holds the water every spring, a genuine fellow; but somehow or other that the Lindsay dam is the cause. There he has got mixed up with the gang of is no use discussing the question, for as demagagues running the reform party, and every sensible farmer knows, in all level

> Examine either Oakwood or Little Britain creeks miles above those villages, and invariably much land is flooded in spring. We once crossed Oakwood creek away towards the north-west part of Mariposa when the road for fully a third of a mile was under water. At Oakwood the road is frequently some feet under water, and a river fifteen feet deep in places flowing rapidly. This flood entering Sengog river just where Stoney creek and Janetville creek united joins it, soon were it to tumble over a precipice as high as Niagara, at the floating bridge, unless the channel above, towards Mariposa, were clear of logs, &c.

Stoney or Reaboro creek has even greater fall than has Little Britain and Oakwood creeks. If the farmers were to unite and open the swamp channels between Reaboro and the line due south of Lindsay it would be found that the farmers whose lands are traversed by Henboro creek, and who have practically part they reside, can never expect as and Cartwright. A case occurs that should convince any thoughtful man that the chief requisite is not so much the fall of the ground as the freedom of the channel from obstructions. The Genesee river at Rochester has a large fall, Genesome Ops farmers. One would naturally railway, along Avon, Clonesco, and Mt. Morris flats that fertile country is flooded

In a stream with a clear channel a fall which one would have trouble to Now, from Cross creeks' highest ing to engineer's report, a fall of two feet; while to the level of the land on top of the bank is about six feet fall enough to give a moderate mill privilege on the road due south of Lindsay.

The country a couple of miles east of Lindsay, every spring is flooded for weeks by a river often half a mile wide. Yet no one is insane enough to connect Lindsay dam with it. The water goes away just as rapidly as the irregular channel, with fences, logs, plowed land and swamps intervening will allow.

of Mariposa, a large landowner on Lake Songog and also in Mariposa creek valley, says he has for twenty years agitated the lowering of the dam. He is the father of the agitation. But a better solution than any was made by a gentleman residing not far from Valentia. He says at the present dam level no harmloan be done any one by the water, and suggests the dredging of a channel at the east end of Lake Songog and the blasting of a rocky bar in the lake. This would give navigation as at present, and prevent the flooding of land up towards Mariposa. None is flooded on the east sine, he says, except what was already swamp. He thinks the bracket should not be allowed on the top of the dam, and so does This Warpen. Let careful observation be made next spring as to the true causes of flooding and we venture it will be logs and brush in the way.

What is thought of Joseph Magil's Letter about the Dam in Lindsay.

Sin,—I think if Joe did mind his own business and look to what he is and the office he helds he would not act as he did. Now Joe supposing G. McHugh did spend a good afterneon and night in your house and you talked about the dam and the struggle on both sides, you should know your place better than sit by while he wrote the letter and you approved of it and signed your pame to the You made a Innerville creek will unite as neighbors, and not as tools of Cieo. McHugh and his truly innocent agitators, and thoroughly clear a wide channel through all the swamps, removing logs, brush, rail fences, and other impediments; and also in fall plow furrows from the low lands to the main channel. The Warner ventures the assertion that the lands will be free of water two weeks carlier than at present.

If the people of the Mariposa creek up to the Valentia road were to complain of the flooded land they would have some reason. However, William Stewart Esq. of Mariposa, a large landowner on Lake Songog and also in Mariposa creek valley, says he has for twenty years agitated the lowering of the dam. He is the father of lowering of the dam. He is the father of
