Kimberley Budget

The recent copious showers are making the farmers wear a broad smile.

Mr. John Smith and son, Howard, of Rob Roy, visited at T. Lewis' recently.

Mr. Frank Whittemere and F. Sparling of Toronto, also G. Stuart of Flesherton were fishing in the old Beaver on Friday last and succeeded in securing quite a number of the speckled beauties.

Among those who spent the 24th with friends here were the following: Mr. J. E. Hammond and brother William, also Miss Maude Plewes all of Meaford,; Stanley Wallace, J. H. Johnston, a former principal of our public school! W. B. Dennis, M. Duncan, Harold Proctor, Elsie Plewes and the Misses Lee, all of Collingwood; Ernest Proctor of Toronto, also Miss Elvie Bishop, who is attending Toronto university, Gordon Leslie of Guelph.

Mr. Albert Latter of Union occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday morning last.

The garden party which was held in aid of the Kimberley sidewalks on Monday last was a huge success financially and otherwise. Among the sports was a game of baseball between our local sports and the tenth line, our boys winning by a score of 16-7. Kimberley's new pitcher, Gordon Leslie, has the speed of a western cyclone and the way he heaved the pellet over the plate wasn't slow. The tenth line boys couldn't connect with his speedy slants, and man after man batted the ozone. It was a swatfest royal for Kimberley, who pounded the pellet to all corners of the diamond. The baseball match between the young ladies and the fair maids from Flesherton was a good game, although a trifle one-sided. The Flesherton girls are much superior at the bat and got a big lead in the first inning, which was hard to overcome. At even innings the score was 27-13 in favor of the visiting team. Kimberley's catcher, Nellie Burritt, got hit on the face with the ball and that finished the game. The Flesherton girls got nine runs in this inning, which left the score 32-13 in their favor. The Flesherton girls are a good bunch of jolly clean sports and we would like to see another game between these two teams before the end of the season. Fred McTavish of Flesherton refereed both games to the satisfaction of all concerned. The proceeds of the day were in the neighborhood of ninety dollars.

Mr. Wm. Stafford was quite seriously injured one day last week. When meeting an auto he jumped out of the democrat to hold his horses, when in doing so his foot caught in some manner and he fell to the ground, breaking a bone in his hip. He will be on the shelf for some time to come.

Ceylon

Mr. Norman McLeod left last week for Toronto.

Mr. Sam Chislett, who has been visiting his parents here, returned to the city Saturday.

Mr. Pattison and Misses Zilla and Willa McLeod of Toronto spent the 24th at D.D. McLeod's.

Mr. Fred and Miss Grace Muir of Toronto, Stanley and Lilly Muir, and Mrs. Beamish, of Hanover, spent the 24th at Mrs. P. Muir's.

Mr. J. W. Cushnie, Toronto, was a visitor at R. Cook's over the holiday.

Mr. Charles Chislett, Durham, spent over Sunday at the parental home here.

Dr. Oldstead, Chatsworth, visited at E. Sargent's Saturday.

Mr. James McMullen visited with his sons and daughter in Toronto over the holiday.

Mr. White of Saugeen Junction spent over Sunday with his sister here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart spent the 24th with Kimberley friends.

Quite a number of the young folks here took in the sports at Kimberley and some enjoyed the day at Eugenia.

George Niblock of Dundas met a horrible death by a dynamite explosion in the quarry of the Canada Crushed Stone Corporation.

John Thring, a farmer, while hauling gravel between Guelph and Rockwood, was instantly killed by being thrown from his waggon when his team was scared by a freight train, one of the hind wheels passing over his neck.

Feversham Items

Rain has fallen all over this part of the country and coming warm after it you can fairly see things grow.

The 24th passed off quietly in this burg, a number of our young folks going to Eugenia. The school picnic in Mr. Allister's grove was not largely attended on that account.

In a few days the fruit trees will be in full bloom.

Miss Rita Buskin of Flesherton is visiting her friend, Miss Lila Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Allison (nee Miss Phemie McMullen) of Markdale, Mrs. Wm. Thompson of Thornton, and Miss Cora McCormick of Beeton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Colquette.

Mr. and Mrs. George Julian spent a few days with friends in Toronto last week, going in their auto.

Mrs. John Buckingham is recovering nicely, having returned home from the hospital in Collingwood, where she had spent several weeks. Her friends all hope for a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Mary Sanderson went on a business trip to the Queen City last week.

Mr Joseph Henderson of Rob Roy lost a valuable mare last week.

Heathcote

Miss Jean Milne of Toronto visited at the perental home over the holiday.

Alex. Reekie of Toronto has returned to his home in Heathcote, where he is engaged in his father's mill as night-watchman.

Miss Florence Gardner of Toronto has returned home for her summer vacation.

Miss Kathleen Reid, who is attending school in Thornbury, spent the latter part of the week with her friend, Miss Elsie Gardner.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. Charlie Hetherington is improving after her illness.

Morice Reid of Rocklyn is visiting with his sister, Mrs. Harold Vickers.

The picnic in Mr. Geo. Vamplew's bush held on May 23 by the A.O.U. was largely attended and all report a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman of Markdale visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutchinson over Sunday.

A Wormy Proposition

You may have your fox farms and other institutions, but J. H. Adams, E. F. Graff, J. S. Kuechtel' M. S. Armstrong, Ross Young, Charlie Coppinger and a few others of the enthusiastic local anglers have started something real new and original. The present season promises to be the greatest the fishermen have ever known and as a result there will be a big demand for bait. They are about to establish a worm farm. Three acres of land, the site a secret, have been purchased for the establishment, and operations will commence at once. Stall-fed worms, domesticated worms, temperamental worms, wild and untameable rascals, in fact worms to suit every mood of the angler. It is a big venture but the men behind the proposition are confident of a tremendous success. This is not a stock selling scheme, the Tamarac Island fishing party being alone in the combine. However, the products are for distribution among the angling fraternity.—Hanover Post.

Trimmed Whiskers 60 Years

Prof. Cuneo, Walkerton's veteran tonsorial artist, on Saturday last completed his 60th year at his trade. Mr. Cunio learned the barbering when 19 years of age and although on his next birthday he will have reached his four-score years, he has been continually on the job and can still handle the razor with alacrity and give his customers an excellent shave. There are but few mortals who can boast of being in the harness for sixty years, but the Professor, as Mr. Cunio is aptly termed, is apparently none the worse for his long service and is good for still a few more years.

Milbert Rinn, a young man of 24 years died at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Rinn, near McIntyre, on Friday last, after nearly two years' illness of more or less severity. He learned the trade of barbering here with T. N. Grainger, and then went west, where he contracted a heavy cold which settled on his lungs, and which he was never able to get rid of.—He was a member of Creemore L. O. L. under whose auspices he was buried on Sunday in the Honeywood cemetery.—Creemore Star.

Eugenia Paragraphs

Queen's Birthday was largely celebrated here on Sunday and Monday, everyone returning home in good humor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Teeter of Vandeleur were the guests of Mrs. Francis Genoe recently.

Mr. Boland of Vandeleur visited with friends here the past week.

Some of the Eugenia young people picnicked at Duncan Lake Monday.

Mr. Thomas Morgan of Toronto visited his son, Stanley, over the holiday.

Mr. Ern. Morgan and Miss Georgina Smith of Toronto spent the holiday with their friends here.

Messrs. John Williams and Robert Purvis spent the week end in Toronto.

Mr. Charley Graham has returned to Toronto for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson of Proton were the guests of Mrs. McMaster over the holiday.

Ladies, do not forget the meeting in the Presbyterian church on June 2. Mrs. (Dr.) Patterson of Toronto will address the meeting, and there will also be other addresses and music. All are welcome.

Markdale

The Committee of Management for the coming 12th of July Celebration has engaged the Salvation Army Band of Owen Sound for the day.

Seventy-six trees have been planted in town by the Horticultural Society, and although they have orders for many more it has been deemed advisable owing to the extremely dry weather and the lateness of the season not to plant any more this spring.

Eight nice beef cattle which netted considerable over $800.00 were recently delivered by Mr. John McKnight, of Rocklyn, to Stuart Bros., of Kimberley while Mr. James Patterson, of Blantyre, delivered five good cattle, one calf 13 months old weighing 900 lbs.

Mrs. James Hill, of the suburbs, met with a painful accident while going down cellar one day last week. She missed her footing near the head of the stair and fell heavily down the steps, breaking her ankle as well as being otherwise severely bruised and shaken up.—Standard.

Bad Blind Man

Albert Wanamaker, the blind man, who has on different occasions seated himself on the street corner with his gramophone and received donations from the sympathetic who passed by, has proved himself to be a very bad man, and for the next six months, at least, will not have to depend on public sympathy for his support. On Saturday last he was in Collingwood and got drunk. He hired a livery to bring him to Glen Huron, and there commenced to abuse everybody he came in contact with. At the station he made himself obnoxious and broke a window in the station. Constable Young being sent for went up and brought him here and placed him in the lock-up over Sunday. On Monday G.T.R. official from Barrie came here and had him arraigned before Police Magistrate Mackay, who, after hearing the evidence against him, committed him to serve six months in the Central Prison, for which place he left with the G.T.R. detective on the afternoon train.—Creemore Star.

Poisoned by Eating Matches

The little 22-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bell, 14th street west, died on Wednesday of last week from eating matches. The child had pushed a chair up to the cabinet and then climbing up on the chair had got a handful of matches. When the mother found him he had eaten the ends off some of the matches, but she did not think that it had eaten enough of them to result seriously. It was about midnight, or twelve hours later, that the little one awakened strangling. Dr. Rutherford was called, but the poison had had time to do its deadly work and the little one died.—O. S. Dundalk

R. R. Kinnell arrived in Dundalk on Monday night with a new Perchon stallion imported last year and shipped now from Bolton. It is an iron grey and three years old, weighing 1800 pounds. Local horse fanciers think it a beauty.

Mr. H. C. Duff, of the Agricultural Department, Markdale, was in town on Tuesday looking over the drainage demonstration field on the Carson farm. The grain on the drained portion is up while the other part was only fit to sow a few days ago.

On May 12th there passed away at Expanse, Sask., Robert A. L. Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Irwin, after a brief illness from typhoid fever. About two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Irwin moved out to the West with bright hopes which are now shattered by the hand of death. The deceased, who was born in Proton township, was in his 26th year.

One of the early pioneers of Proton township in the person of Mrs. Hannah Moore, relict of the late Nicholas Moore, passed away on Tuesday, May 12th, at the age of 80 years. The deceased was born in County Kerry, Ireland, and came to this locality when the country was an unbroken bush, enduring with her husband the hardships of the early settlers. Her husband died about 15 years ago.—Herald.

Walkerton

John Bester was sentenced by Judge Barrett here on Friday last to two months in the Walkerton jail for committing the crime of bigamy by leading Bridgett Glynn of Walkerton to the altar and accepting her for better or worse when he already had a wife living in Michigan whom he had married nearly 35 years before. When marrying Bridgett Bester represented himself as a bachelor.

Some Hanover youths, who are said to have been imbibing rather too freely at the local bars, while passing down the front street here on Monday night between 11 and 12 o'clock had the chagrin of seeing one of their number lose his footing and fall through Miss Porteous' large millinery window. Hearing the crash Miss Porteous ran out and followed the fleeing youths to the Royal hotel sheds, where she cornered them up while her mother phoned for the police. Seeing that his bacon was cooked, the guilty youth came out and confessed his sin, and agreed to settle for the damage which he had done—Herald and Times.

The Chinch Bug

The Experimental Farms Branch of the Department of Agriculture has issued Entomological Circular No. 3, entitled "The Chinch Bug in Ontario." This has been prepared by Mr. H. F. Hudson, Field Officer of the Entomological Service. In the United States the losses due to the ravages of the Chinch Bug, during the last sixty years, considerably exceeded $350,000,000. Fortunately no very serious outbreaks have, as yet, occurred in Canada, but the insect has established itself in Middlesex County in Ontario, and has been reported also from Nova Scotia. The Circular, therefore is timely and discusses the methods to be adopted in order to control the insect. In 1912, an investigation of the infested area in Middlesex county was made by the above Field Officer, and the life-history of the insect, etc., was studied. In the Circular the information gathered during the investigation is given. Preventive measures, such as clean farming, rotation of crops, etc., are discussed, as well as artificial remedies. Copies of the circular may be obtained free of charge from the Publications Branch, Department Agriculture, Ottawa.

The German menace came very near to a Guelph man on Saturday; but he was an intruder and deserved all that came to him. It all happened on the market in the morning when a German woman found the stall she had regularly occupied for years usurped by a Guelphite. She remonstrated, but to no purpose, so casting discretion to the winds she picked up her ample skirts and freely applied the work of some honest cobbler to that portion of the usurper's anatomy generally selected for impressionistic appeals. It was a triumph for Germany.
