Mosquitoes ! Mosquitoes—and June bugs !

The neighbors of this community held a picnic on Monday and had a jolly time.

Miss Emma Ritchie, teacher near Dundalk, visited for a few days at Mr. Thomas Lever's. Miss Emma is a skilled musician and an excellent singer.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre of Toronto are visiting with the latter's brother, Mr. Robert Richardson.

Miss Elva Lever of Duncan spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Lever.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis of Cheeseville motored down to visit friends here recently.

Mr. Thomas Lever has purchased a new gasoline engine. He has many cement contracts to fill this year.

Harry Bell and friend of Toronto visited with the former's uncle and aunt, Mr. Rod. and Miss Susan McKenzie.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mathewson in the loss of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Will Mathewson of Barrhead Mills, who died on Saturday.

A number from this part spent the holiday at Kimberley.

Messrs. Harold Lever and Bertie Sparks spent Sunday with the former's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Henry of Markdale.

Walkerton

Mr. John Connors, in company with Mr. Raymond, a Chicago capitalist, arrived in town on Monday with two carloads of machinery for the big twine factory which they are launching in Walkerton.

Two farmers near Narva have been reported to Provincial Constable J. H. Armstrong as having docked a horse's tail in such a manner that the animal died. As it is an indictable offence to maim an animal, Constable Armstrong was in Walkerton on Monday in connection with the docking episode, and it is possible that action may be taken against the parties.

Constable Jas. H. Armstrong arrested James Struthers, a 14-year-old boy, who is alleged to have walked into the school yard of S. S. No. 7, Culross, at noon hour on Friday with a rifle and a dead ground hog. According to the story, he struck one boy in the face with the ground hog, gave another lad a good pounding, pointed the rifle at some of the children and fired a shot through one of the closets. The culprit was brought before Magistrate James Johnston of Kinlough on Saturday last and fined $10.00 and costs, or a total assessment of $15.00 for his conduct.—Bruce Herald and Times.

The Experimental Farm at Ottawa and the Branch Farms and Stations make field husbandry investigations part of their work. For the information of those who are interested the more important results of last season's work over the entire system have been summarized and issued in Bulletin No. 75 of the Experimental Farms. It takes up the question of rotation, cultivation, fertilizers, rates of seeding, cost of production, weed eradication and other points connected with field agriculture. The information is presented by Farms and Stations and is, therefore, easily available for study. This bulletin is for free distribution at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Durham

Since the introduction of the hydro-electric system in Clinton, the cost of lighting the churches has been reduced 50 per cent., and that of lighting dwellings and business places from 10 to 25 per cent.

Ben Benton, a young fellow employed in the cement works, thought to show the loyalty of the company on Victoria Day, and on Friday last scaled the ladder of the smoke stack and placed a Union Jack on the top of it. The height, we are told, is about 206 feet, 185 feet of steel and about 20 feet of concrete base. The ladder on which Benton climbed runs perpendicularly up the stack about eight inches from it, and few people would care to undertake the task of climbing it. The flag floated proudly to the breeze for a few hours, but was soon burned by the intense heat. During the few preceding days Benton had been up and down five times, and apart from the fatigue of the long climb, thinks nothing of it. We have no desire to gain notoriety by going up after the flag-pole.

A most tragic occurrence took place near Bell's Lake on Wednesday of last week, when a bush fire caught the barn of Mr. John Callahan, and in attempting to save his horses and some stock, he was so badly burned that he died the following day from inhaling the flames and smoke and from the severity of his burns. He managed to reach the house, and poured two pails of water over himself, extinguishing the fire, which had burned the clothes partly from his chest and shoulders, and had sadly marred the flesh of his face. Despite the severity of his injuries, he pluckily retained consciousness and recognized the stricken members of his family, and sympathizing neighbors. To make the grief seem greater, he was to have been wedded in a short time to a bright maiden of the neighborhood. Mr. Callahan was widely known and very popular and was a most successful farmer and stock raiser. His kindred included the well known Fogarty family, being a first cousin. The funeral took place on Saturday to St. John's cemetery and was one of the largest ever seen in the township. Rev. Father Ferguson conducted a solemn and impressive service in the church and at the grave-side. The sympathy of the whole neighborhood goes out to the bereaved brother and sister.—Chronicle.

Sam Hogg of Floss was nearly trampled to death by a team of horses. The team was trying to run away but Mr. Hogg got them under control by pulling them into the fence. He then jumped off the wagon and started to unhitch them, when somehow or other he fell under the horses' feet and was badly trampled upon. Besides having three or four ribs broken, he received a bad cut on the head which required a few stitches. At time of writing Mr. Hogg is in a precarious condition.—Stayner Sun.

Reginal Abrams was sentenced to six months hard labor in the county gaol by Police Magistrate A. D. Creasor for forging a cheque and uttering it. Abrams forged a cheque for the amount of twenty-five dollars and took it into McQuaker & Co's store on Saturday afternoon last, and there had it converted into cash. P. C. Curson arrested him the same day.

Chief Thompson is in possession of an innocent looking empty glass pickle bottle that figured in the commencement of a little fire over near Kennedy's foundry last Friday, and which had it started among lumber piles or near where there was much inflammable material would undoubtedly have caused a considerable conflagration. Someone had filled the bottle with pieces of paper and had thrown it down near Kennedy's foundry, right close to a piece of cedar. The heat of the sun's rays acting on the glass was such as to set the paper on which the bottle had been thrown afire and when Mr. R. Kennedy and Mr. C. Munro noticed it a nice little fire was going, the paper being ablaze and the piece of cedar also. A bucket of water put it out. Then it was that the men noticed the bottle there and saw at once how the fire had started. They took the bottle which was cracked down one side to the fire chief, and he is now in a position to declare that empty bottles if placed near inflammable substances and in the sunlight will concentrate enough of the heat of the sun's rays to start a fire. "If that had been in a lumber yard and no one was about, it would have made a bad fire," said the chief, "and no one would have been able to account for the manner in which it started."—Times
