Priceville Methodists will hold their annual garden party on the parsonage lawn, Priceville, Tuesday evening of next week, when a big programme of good things will be given. Flesherton band has been engaged for the occasion. See bills.

The W. I. will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday, July 3, at 2.30 p.m. in the town hall. The young girls of the Institute are giving the program, and a good one is expected. A good attendance is requested, as business of importance will be discussed. All ladies cordially invited to attend.

Word was received here by Mrs. McAuley that her daughter, Jessie, was ill at her boarding house, ten miles from Russell, Manitoba with tyhoid fever; at latest report she was doing as well as could be expected. There are six cases in the same house.

The recent benificent rains have been working wonders with fodder crops and all kinds of vegetation. Mr. Wes Carson handed in on Saturday some stalks of alfalfa four feet six inches in length. His orchard grass, he says, measures four feet ten inches. After all the pessimistic murmurings it is a pleasure to chronicle such growths as this.

At the Methodist church Sunday evening the congregation was treated to some rarely fine singing. Dr. R. Henderson and R. Norris, the latters member of the Sherlock Male Quartette Toronto, sang a duett, and Mr. Norris gave a solo. Miss Bertha Bryson of Toronto also sang a solo. The singing of these talented people was much appreciated by the large audience. Messrs. Henderson and Norris also sang in the Presbyterian church in the afternoon.

A peculiar accident occurred at Priceville one day last week. Mr. James Brander was having his well, situated in the woodshed, cleaned out. The well is thirty-five feet in depth and contains a pump. A horse owned by Mr. Brander wandered through the open door and fell into the well, hind feet first, dropping to the bottom. It was seen just as its head dropped beneath the surface. The animal was killed in the fall. Mr. Brander dumped in a couple of loads of earth, intending to fill up the well, but the Board of Health got hold of it and Mr. Brander was compelled to remove the carcass in order to prevent contamination of other wells. The animal was not a valuable one.

The late Wm. Talbot, whose death was announced in last week's issue, was born in the township of Markham. The family later moved to Cartwright township. About the year 1849 the family moved to Artemesia, taking up land about one mile south of Inistioge on the Toronto Line. In 1860 Mr. Talbot was married to Miss Elizabeth Millsap, who survives him, and by whom she had two sons, David of Washington, and W. J. on the homestead, East Back Line, where he had lived for over thirty years. In religion he was an English Churchman, and in politics Conservative. He was a man of integrity, industrious and hard working, and esteemed by all who knew him.

Rod and Gun for July, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., is out with a very striking cover design, an Indian shooter in full regalia, to the ordinary reader suggestive of a vanished race, to the trap-shooter a reminder of the annual "Canadian Indians' Tournament" at Niagara-on-the-Lake. Within the magazine is contained an account of the recent Grand International Tournament at St. Thomas, Ont. For the sportsman, tourist and lover of the out-of-doors, there is an interesting bill of fare which includes : A Canoe Trip from Lake Temiscaming to Lake Abitibi; an article on Newfoundland, the sportsman's paradise ; the story of "An Off Week" on the outskirts of Jasper Park, Alta ; Reminiscences of Fishing in Rideau Lakes ; two good stories, Canadian Camp Life and Cupid Alias Uncle Zeb White ; Goin' Fishin' ; The Value of the Birds, a plea for an international treaty of protection ; Skunks and how to take them ; and a host of other material of the kind that readers of out-door literature enjoy

The remains of Hon. S. H. Blake were laid to rest beside those of his late brother, Hon. Edward Blake.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

Different Methods on Which Arc and Incandescent Lamps Work.

The arc light and the incandescent light work on totally different principles. It was noted many years ago that when an electric circuit was broken the current jumped across a slight gap, producing a brilliant flame. The shape of this flame was roughly an arc from one conductor to the other. Thus the word "arc" was adopted. All arc lamps burn in the air and not in vacuum. The light is produced by the current leaping across a small air gap between the two electrodes, or carbon pencils, and heating the tips of the carbons white hot. Floating particles of white hot carbon also add to the brilliancy. A mechanism is necessary to "feed" in the carbons as fast as they burn away, or otherwise the gap would increase until the current could not jump across and the light would go out.

The incandescent lamp, common in most homes and office buildings, is obtained from a piece of white hot wire, heated by the passage of an electric current. The wire must be inclosed in a glass bulb from which the air has been exhausted, otherwise it would quickly be burned up and consumed. The wire filament is now made of tungsten, which resists the flow of electricity with so much vigor that the current, in working to get by the obstruction, heats the wire to incandescence, hence the name.—New York World.

The Human Machine.

Is there one of us who does not sometimes treat a person like a machine? Do we always think of the railroad conductor as more than a machine for taking tickets? Do we not often treat our fellow creatures like masks on flat cars without substance and personality? I have been striving for years to overcome in myself and in my medical fellows the professional habit of treating a person as a "case" or a walking disease. But the habit of impersonality persists, like original sin, in myriad forms and unexpected ways. In law courts we treat a human being as a "prisoner at the bar," as the "plaintiff" or "defendant," to the exclusion of the fact that he is as real and sensitive as ourselves.—Atlantic.

Juvenile Logic.

Marie is a very bright kindergarten pupil. She came home to her parents the other day and told them that the kindergarten teacher had said she will grow up to be a very nice looking young lady if she is a good girl, but will grow up to be a very ugly woman if she is a naughty girl. "Is that true, mamma?" asked Marie, and she was informed that if the teacher said so it was true. Marie then sat still for awhile, pondering seriously. "But, mamma," she suddenly burst forth again, "why was the kindergarten teacher so naughty when she was a little girl?"—Philadelphia Record.

Feathered Police.

"Our aerial police force" is the picturesque and at the same time accurate phrase that the state ornithologist of Massachusetts has applied to the birds. They concentrate rapidly on any unusual irruption of insects or of the smaller animals that we class as vermin. They guard alike the property of rich and poor, demand no salary, accept no "graft" and ask only to be protected in the performance of their beneficent work.—Youth's Companion.

Cubic Feet.

A cubic foot of water contains one and one-half gallons (1,728 cubic inches) and weighs sixty-two and one-half pounds. One cubic foot of bituminous coal weighs from forty-seven to fifty pounds. One cubic foot of anthracite coal weighs about fifty-three pounds.

Fate of the Peacemaker.

"Your face seems cut up. Accident?"

"No, fight. Tried to stop a husband who was beating his wife."

"And the husband hit you?"

"No, the wife." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ceylon

Our village was shocked on Friday morning, when word was phoned from Flesherton that R. McGill was dead from heart failure. Only a little over an hour had elapsed since he left here apparently well. He had been an esteemed resident of this place for over thirty years and for about 23 years of that time was C.P.R. agent here. He was a very kind and obliging citizen, ever ready to help in any good cause and for the betterment of the place. Beautiful wreaths were placed on the casdet by the Telegraph Operators Association, the Masons and one from Ceylon friends.

Mrs. Muir and son left Tuesday for Hanover to attend the marriage of her son, Stanley to Miss Beamish, which took place Wednesday afternoon.

Our Sabbath school hold their annual picnic in McKenzie's grove Friday afternoon of this week, when the Flesherton Baptist Sunday school will join them.

R. Cook paid Owen Sound a business trip the first of the week.

S. E. Embury returned to the city Tuesday after spending a few days at R. Cook's.

Mrs. Carmichael of Orillia, who is visiting her friend, Mrs. Rand, took ill, but at time of writing is better.

Miss Wilson, our teacher, who has resigned her charge here, was on Friday afternoon presented with a neatly worded address and a jewel case from her pupils, who are very loath to part with her.

Mr. Parks, who has been visiting his friend, Roy Piper, the past two weeks, has returned to the city.

Stanley McMullen returned to the city Saturday, Percy McLeod accompanying him.

Mrs. R. P. Legate spent a few days with Durham friends last week.

Mr. Will Sargent and bride visited the parental home here last week.

Mrs. J. McMillan of McDonald Institute, Guelph, is home for the summer months. Fred Chislett, Shelburne, spent over Sunday at the parental home.

A Mr. Tudhope, representing the Monarch Fire Insurance Company, paid Grand Valley a visit last week, getting a little information about the fire that cleaned up Sammy Duckworth's egg emporium. Contrary to former statements it develops that there was an insurance of $500 on the contents, representing about 26 boxes of butter, 150 butter boxes, 15 egg crates, 2 sets scales, and a stove valued at $10. From the information secured the Insurance Company is likely to refuse payment of the claim, until at least a coroner's investigation is held. —Star.
