Dominion Day In Flesherton

Flesherton chronicled another successful Dominion Day celebfation on Wednesday of last week, although Jupiter Pluvius tried hard to keep the crowd away. While the aquatic sports were going on a smart shower of rain fell and the whole afternoon was threatening, though no rain actually fell, and the temperature was very comfortable.

The aquatic sports were scarcely so successful as last year, as the coldness of the water kept many competitors from joining in the fun. The greased pole was a failure—it was too greasy and no one succeeded in capturing the flag. The tub race was won by Harry Frost, Frank Thurston second. The goose was caught by A. Ball and the swimming race was won by the same young man, with H. Crawford second. There were four competitors in this.

The afternoon sports on the agricultural grounds were witnessed by quite a large crowd. The horse racing was not up to very much, in fact was rather a source of disappointment, as the events were not well filled. These resulted as follows:

2.40 Trot or Pace—1 Comet (Joe Acton), 2 Sidney H. (J. Hunter), 3 Darkey D. (J. Minorgan).

Named Race—1 Roy Hunter (Thomas McCalby), 2 Maud Wilkes (S. Wright), 3 Wanda (C. Dubrick).

A baseball game was scheduled between Markdale and Dundalk teams for a good prize, but Dundalk only showed up about half strength and some players had to be requisitioned here to make up the team. As a consequence Markdale had a real walk-over, winning the game by a score of 27 to 9.

The football match between Feversham and Flesherton clubs was a good exhibition of the game and resulted in a victory for the home team by 1 to 0.

The 100-yard race was won by W. Whittaker, with Mark Wilson, Jr. 2nd.

The tug-of-war was captained by W. Boyd for the West and Malcolm McDonald for the East. The former was victorious

The concert at night, given by a company of Owen Sound young people, was well patronized, and some of the talent was considered very good, while some of it was very mediocre. The order at the concert was execrable, owing to the absence of a chairman, and one man had to be put out before a reasonable degree of order could be secured. We felt sorry for the performers and also for the good name of the town.

The proceeds of the day were as follows: Concert $105.90, Gate $251.00, other receipts about $40.

This contract is handled by the Amberson Construction Co. of Montreal and Boston. Dam No. 2 runs across Robert Genoe's field at Campbell's corner into Mr. Turner's bush. This contract is handled by the Hyland Construction Co. of Toronto. Leading up to the rest of the work the canal comes first, starting at the Black Creek bridge, on the 10th, running through J. Armstrong's lot into Turner's bush., ending at the headgates. From there it is piped down through Turner's into Latimers to the serge tank, and from there it is steel piped down over the rocks to the power house at Henry Weber's. Died of Blood Poisoning

After a comparatively short illness Dr. James Airth, one of Chatsworth's most prominent citizens, died on Friday, June 26. A little over three weeks ago he sustained a slight injury to his foot, and blood poisoning developed, and in spite of all that could be done it grew worse until death relieved his sufferings. Dr. Airth, who was in his 44th year, was born in Waterloo county. While he was still a boy the family moved to the vicinity of Port Elgin. He attended school there, and after graduating from the high school he went to the Ontario Veterinary College, from which he graduated in 1893. The same year he opened an office in Chatsworth, and soon became well and favorably known in the neighborhood, both as a skilful surgeon and as an importer and breeder of high class horses. He was also interested in the firm of Galbraith & Airth, which for several years ran a sawmill in Chatsworth and at the time of his death owned a sawmill in the village. He took an active part in municipal and educational affairs, being for four years reeve of Chatsworth, and was also one of those who were instrumental in establishing the high school there. He leaves a wife and two children.—Advertiser.

Fire destroyed William Dick's foundry at Bolton early Saturday morning. The building and contents are a complete loss. The fire started in the moulding shop, and gained great headway before it was noticed. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

When Mr. Leslie Hall and his sister, Miss Annie, were driving home from town Thursday evening last, their horse took fright at some rigs returning from a Primrose garden party, and swerved to one side, landing them in the ditch, with the buggy on top of them. They got out from under safely, but while Mr. Hall was holding the horse by the head while it was being loosened from the rig, his right arm was wrenched and bruised so badly that he will not have the use of it for a couple of weeks yet.—Economist.

Walkerton

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. Leslie Rudolph here got tangled in the halter and hanged itself in the stall on Saturday night. The animal was dead when discovered the following morning.

A local merchant, who went on Monday afternoon to gather up the boxes at the rear of his store so that the boys wouldn't burn them on the bonfires on election night, discovered a huge wasp's nest in one of the boxes, and foxily left it for the kids to take. As expected, a big bonfire was lit on the street, when it became known that Mr. Cargill was elected, and the boys in their search for fuel to keep the blaze going, came upon the joke box and were conveying it in pomp to the flames when the wasps emerged and lit on them, causing a howl and scatter in the ranks that listened awfully as if the White Hopes were in pain.—Herald and Times.

There is a rumor that the Dominion elections will be brought on the latter part of October or first of November.
