Central Fair Notes.

—The officials of the central fair are determined that no stone shall be left unturned in the effort to make the fair of 1894 an unprecedented success. The prize list has just been issued and distributed. It certainly ought to attract the attention of all owners of fine live stock and speedy horses. A commendable feature of the programme is the running race for farmers' horses, which should interest the young men of the country and others as well.

—In the prize list for the Central fair some half-dozen typographical errors have unfortunately crept in and may prove somewhat misleading. In class 2, Sec. 13, the 1st prize is $2. Class 5, sec. 3, the premiums should be $8, $5 and $3. In class 6, Sec. 10, the prize for best stallion and four foals of 1894 is $15 instead of $1. In class 13, Sec. 2, the prizes are valued at $2 and $1 respectively. In Sec. 7 of class 15 there is only one prize, $5.

—The exhibits in the line of norses and cattle promises to surpass those of previous years.

—The secretary has received letters from prominent breecers of Jersey, Devon, Hereford and Ayrshire cattle, stating their intention of exhibiting at the Central fair. Owing to the early and favorable season the display of vegetables, field roots and hoed crops should be a large one. Fruits and flowers also promise well.

Sturgeon Point Notes.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Goodwin and family and Miss Bremnor, of London, are spending an enjoyable time here. They are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goodwin, at Cherry Tree Cottage.

—There are a couple of young men here who say “there is no fun here now.”

—The three young ladies who were camped at Sturgeon Point East have broke up camp and returned to Lindsay. They say “there is lots of fun at the Point.”

—Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Goodwin, of St. Thomas, are spending a couple of weeks at Cherry Tree Cottage.

—Sailing in a yacht is all very fine when there is a good breeze, but it is only Solid Comfort when there is a dead calm and it is found necessary to be towed ashore.

—We understand arrangements have been made by which a series of hops are to be held at the Point. Last night the first took place, to be continued hereafter every Wednesday night.

—It is not often that a fish story can be verified. Last week as several of the young ladies of Sturgeon Point were relating their fish stories one of them claimed to have caught an eleven pounder only a few days previous. As the story caused some doubt the young lady claimed to be able to repeat the deed, and accordingly a wager was made. Early next morning the young lady in question—Miss Kate McDonald—started out confident of success and had gone but a short piece when she landed a beauty, weighing a trifle better than 11 lbs. Several otheryoung ladies have been very successful in fishing.

Sporting World.

—The Ramblers, of Belleville, will hold a bicycle meet on labor day, September 3. The following is the programme: Mile novice, quarter mile open; mile, Midland C.W.A. district; one third-mile, flying start; mile, 2.40 class; mile, open; mile, club handicap; five miles, open: 2-mile district team race, and a 1-mile tandem race.

—At Lansing, on Saturday, in the free-for-all, Lord Clinton trotted the fastest mile ever made in Michigan, doing it without a break in 2.08¾.

—At Chicago last Friday the 2-year-old pacer Directly lowered the pacing record for that age to 2.10¾, thus equalling the trotting record now held by the great Arion. It is expected that he will still further reduce the record.

—In an attempt to lower his record the great Directum failed to do better than 2.10½, last week.

—At Chicago the 2.08 pace was won last Friday by John R. Gentry in the fast time of 2.07¼, and 2.08.

—Sergt.-Major Kelly, of Halifax, defeated Sergt.-Major Morgans, of Kingston, in the assault-at-arms in Halifax last night for the championship of Canada by 25 points to 9 in five combats.

—A very interesting game of lacrosse was played last Thursday on the agricultural grounds between the Olympics, juniors, of Lindsay, and the Cannington juniors, which resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 4 straight games. The return match will be played at Cannington on Monday next, labor day,

A Narrow Escape.

—While Miss Cooper, of Port Hope, in company with several other ladies, was bathing at the Point last Saturday morning that young lady had a narrow escape from drowning. She had a small piece of board and was wading out when she suddenly found she was beyond her depth. Becoming alarmed she called for help, at the same time taking a cramp, which left her almost powerless. Miss Mabel Parkin had just come down to the wharf, and seeing her danger called to some of those who were then in the water to go to her asistance. They were afraid for some reason, and failed to do so and as Miss Cooper was just on the eve of going down Miss Parkin boldly plunged in and went to her rescue just in time, and brought her safely to shore. It was a pretty plucky piece of work in view of the fact that Miss Parkin had not even time to to take off her shoes, and she is deserving of the highest praise for her bravery

S. A. Notes.

—In 1892 Commandant H. H. Booth hit upon a new idea for raising funds by inaugurating a plan for clearing poor corps and officers of debt. The plan was an annual “Harvest festival scheme,” to be held all over the Dominion and Newfoundland on certain dates. This year the dates are: For Canada, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, September 1st, 2nd and 3rd; Newfoundland, Septemder 29th, 30th and October 1st. In this scheme it is possible for all who appreciate the Army's work to assist in some way or other. The officers of the various corps are instructed to visit frieuds and collect from them anything they are able to. contribute, whether it be in cash or otherwise,

Gifts of produce. grocers, fruit, grain, cattle poultry, or anything of any description which is saleable. After the collection of these various articles a sale of the same is arranged and the proceeds placed into one common fund to help out the debts mentioned. Comman-Booth hopes by this scheme, also, to replenish the storehouse of his various institutions such as rescue homes for fallen women, men's shelters, children's institutions, home for sick officers, also his social farm, so that it will be unnecessary to spend money on these articles during the fall and winter. He contends that though money is scarce, the land is laden with good things, and he calls upon those who have enough and to spare to remember those who are not so favorably circumstanced.

—The Army forces here was scattered throughout the district last Sunday. The capture of prisoners are reported from Omemee and Fenelon Falls. The great harvest festival thanksgiving services takes place next Saturday Sunday and Monday. Friends are asked to donate anything towards this festival to help on the work in general. A monster loaf of bread will be on view, go and take a thank offering.

Tuesday's Concert.

We feel like writing enthusiastically and have reason for doing so. The management of our neat opera house are to be congratalated on their opening for the season, both as regards the attendance and programme. The ladies of the Baptist church who were the promoters, of the entertainment were somewhat different as to its success so early in the season, but determined, with the help of those who so kindly gave their assistance, to at least deserve success. Their decision received its reward and each item was given an attention by the audience that showed its appreciation. A prompt start was not made owing a good deal to the late coming of many of the audience, which would have interfered much with the rendering of the earlier numbers, and this delay and the responding to encores when the time was filled by the items on the programme made it late in closing. Miss Whiteside was the star of the evening, and was charming in the portrayal of the different personages and their different moods. We are sorry that there seems so little chance of hearing her again soon. She was most admirably supported by Miss G. Trotter, who may be sure of a warm welcome whenever she appears in public as an elocutionist. Miss I. Matthews, who led off with a piano solo, has been studying under Dr. Vogt, of Toronto, and her numbers were rendered very prettily. The other instrumentalist of the evening, Miss Gregory, well upheld the honors of her gold medal in the Rhapsody by Lesgt. Particularly interesting was the solo by Miss Silver, with Miss Dingle at the piano, and with a flute obligate by Mr. Dingle. The tones of the delicate instrument made us wish that Mr. Dingle may find frequent opportunities of gratifying audiences during the coming season as he did this week. To Miss Dingle's accompaniments what better compliments can be paid than the favor in which she is held by the soloists. Miss B. Walters and Mr. W. Robson songs both sustained the well-known ability of the singers, and we are glad that the date of the concert permitted the introduction of Miss Lulu Dundas' name in the programme. We will always claim some reflected honor from her musical ability and winning presence in that she was at one time a resident of Lindsay, and appreciated as her singing used to be, her voice shows the improvement resulting from careful training. Her song “Of Thee I'm thinking” delighted her hearers. The series of poses under direction of Miss Whiteside were very successful and the effect was much brightened by the substitution of lime light, under the efficient management of Mr. Stevens, for the old system of colored fires. The figures are brought out into much better relief, there is less danger, less smoke, more punctuality in throwing the light on and off and the colors can be changed more often. To all appearance it means good-bye to the day of red-light and disagreeable odors.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

—The Omemee band rendered several fine selections on Kent-st. Monday evening.

—The young man who was “sweeping” the street with his coat last Saturday night and otherwise disturbing the peace has jumped the town.

—A couple of young men from Woodville badly under the “influence” drove into town on Sunday and would no doubt have painted the town red if their supply of “ile” had not run out.

—An aged woman, unknown in this locality, was brought in from near Little Britain on Monday and committed to jail by Col. Deacon. It is reported that she attempted to commit suicide. She is evidently insane.

—The Lindsay Model School will be conducted in the North Ward School. Candidates are requested to present themselves in the lower room of that building on Monday next at 9 a.m.

—Mr. S. Smith, carpenter, was struck by a rolling stick of timber on Monday last at the old rink, and narrowly escaped instant death. He was knocked senceless, and received a severe cut just below the temple and had his right optic badly blackened besides a severe blow on the back of his head. He is still suffering from the effects of his injuries.

—An east end Joker called on a down town barber a few days ago and after standing around for a few minutes went out leaving a small paper bag parcel on the window in an absent minded way. The tonsorial artist called after him and he said he would be back in a few minutes for it. It was not long however before the parcel began to move and upon going over to take a close observation the artist just began to realize “that there was something alive” when out popped a little mouse and after a lively scamper around the room made good his escape. The joker called at a later hour and demanded his parcel, but he has failed to secure it as yet.

—A special meeting of the Ops council is called for Monday. Sept. 3rd,

—The regular meeting of the council will be held next Monday night.

—Napanee advertised its pretty girls as a principle attraction in connection with the recent bicycle races.

—The steamer Carmona, which went ashore at Picton the other day, has been towed off and is undamaged.

—A meeting of those interested in Rugby football will be held on Monday evening next in the Simpson house.

—The many Mariposa friends of Mr. Levi Annis, of Pickering, formerly of Darlington, will regret to learn that he is lying very ill at his home.

—The Independent Order of Oddfellows will “excurt” to Chemong Park, per steamer Columbian, on Monday next. The Citizen's Band accompaning the excursionists

—Duckshooting begins on Saturday next and the flats and feed beds of the game will no doubt echo with the sounds of destruction at least of powder and shot if not the birds. However their is a number of crack shots in the game club.

—Burglars entered the premises of Mr. J. W. Tems, of the south ward, and ransacked the premises. Entrance was made through a back window. It is not known what they have secured. Mr Tems is away holidaying. It is thought to be the work of small boys.

—Contractor White has a number of men at work this week tearing down the old curling rink and removing it to the Peel-st site, work is to be commenced at once upon the new building. The new rink will be better equipped, and possesses about double the capacity.

—Sanitary Inspector Douglas reports that there is only one diphtheria card up in Lindsay now. The disease is pretty well eradicated, and by close observance of the health regulations we should hear of no more cases. The town has been extremely clear of other contagions diseases, showing that it is not the sanitary condition of the town that is at fault.

—A merchant said the other day that one reason for the cities “backwardness in going forward” was the habit some citizens have of purchasing their goods and supplies from Toronto without even asking a price from Lindsay firms. In almost every case, he says, the buyers could do fully as well by patronizing the local dealers.

—It will be news to many of the readers of the WATCHMAN to learn that right here on an Island in the Scugog river” dwells a modern hermit. Who he is or from whence he came is a mystery. He is gentle and unobtrusive in disposition and all his actions seem in harmony with some settled plan, seated in an otherwise morbid brain. It is strange so true a reproduction of the historic hermit should inhabit this lonely mud bound Island.

—Special reports covering all sections of the United States, Canada and Europe on the hay, collected for the crop report number of The Hay Trade Journal, published to-dav, show a shortage as compared with an average crop of 9 per cent., with 3 per cent. of the old hay remaining in the hands of the farmers and dealers. The only section of the United States showing acreage in Ohio and Michigan. The crop in Europe is abundant. Prices at the seaboard markets of the United States vary from $9 to $17 per ton, with a liberal supply arriving.

—Last Saturday while Mr. David Hudson was standing upon what is known as “a footing” up on a scaffold it gave way and he tripped upon the mortar board and was thrown forward and in order to save himself from falling headlong he jumped clear of the scaffolding, alighting upon his hands and knees upon the ground some twenty five feet below receiving a pretty severe shaking up Unfortunately for David one hand came in contact with a nail that was sticking up in a board and which penetrated his left hand between the thumb and palm thereof, He is now taking his holidays and the hand is improving rapidly.

—On Tuesday morning as Mr. J. Goslin was driving the local trotting mare Mamie S. along Kent street he had an experience that he don't meet with every day, that is being fairly run down by a faster horse. It appears that Mr. Jas. Cain was also dashing down Kent behind his grey cyclone at a lively gait, and having his attention drawn to another part of the street he was surprised to find his forward flight come suddenly to a stop and on looking forward found his nag doing the “balancing act” upon one of the wheels of Goslin's cart. A sudden “reef” to one side smashed the wheel down and threw his horse flat on the ground, while the now thoroughly frightened trotter (Mamie S.), desired to get out of the wreck and started off at a lively run with her driver caught in the cart and lying on the under wheel, but hanging pluckily to the reins. Goslin saw that it was a bad position to drive a straight away race in and dropped one of the lines and gave a mighty tug upon the other to wheel the star trotter around in a circle. The mare responded so suddenly that the rig was thrown up into the air, and by a forcunate kick at the right time Mr. Goslin fell clear of the vehicle, but hung on to the single reign until the mare came clear around and tramped upon him which caused him to release his hold on the “tape.” Mamie S. was now free, and the vehicle striking her frightened her still worse and caused her to go away at a break-neck pace down Lindsay-st as far as Dovey's mill where she ran around the yard and back up Lindsay-st and did not stop until she caught in the harness in some way and fell upon the road out near the cemetery, where she was caught. An inspection found the road cart smashed all to pieces, the harness slightly broken, and the mare badly scratched and cut about the hind legs, but nothing serious. There were seveaal very narrow escapes, to other vehicles. Mr. Goslin was pretty well bruised, and had a very narrow escape from serious if not fatal injuries.
