Control Measures For the Army Worm

The army worm is a stout,smooth-bodied caterpillar, blackish or brownish in color, with two yellowish stripes, tinged with red, along each side. When full grown it is about 1½ inches long. The The adult is a moth which lays her eggs chiefly on grass in low lands. The caterpillars themselves never lay eggs or produce living young The favorite food plants are grasses, timothy, oats, corn and millet. When food becomes scarce the worms move in enormous numbers in search of new feeding grounds.

As the pest is being reported from numerous counties, every farmer should examine his fields from time to time to see if they are being attacked. If the insects have become distributed all over the field before being noticed, the wisest course will be to cut the crop at once if it is timothy or grain and cure for hay, but if it is corn, scatter lightly through the field a poison mixture, made of 1 lb. of paris green mixed thoroughly in 25 lbs.of bran,and then moisten with water, sweetened with molasses. Make the mixture just moist enough to fall through the fingers like sawdust—not sloppy.

If the crop is threatened or attacked only in part, dig a trench immediately in front of where the worms are. In the case where the crop is partly attacked, it will be found advisable to cut a swath through the grain, and rake this off before the trench is dug. The trench is often unsatisfactory, especially in clay soil,if it is not properly made. It should be at least 18 inches deep, in clay soil, with a straight clean line towards the crop to be protected. Post-holes at least 18 inches deep, in clay soil, with a straight clean side towards the crop to be protected. Post-holes at least a foot in depth must be sunk every 15 feet in the bottom of the trench. In sandy soil the trench works excellently, but in clay soil it is often advisable as an extra precaution to heap up the loose earth on the crop side right along the trench. The small particles of earth loosen and cause the climbing worms to drop. Hence in clay or much soil it may be advisable to scratch the face of the wall lightly with a garden rake. Do this also after rain. When the worms are unable to climb the wall they will pass lengthwise through the trench, and collect in the post-holes, where they may be killed by crushing or other means. In digging the trench ploughs may be used, but the balance of the work should be done with spades to insure a clean deep trench.

Wherever the worms are found,prompt action is very important.

That Kidnapping Story

Mr. C. W. Norton, Inspector of the Children's Aid Society for Peel and Dufferin Counties, was in town Saturday and Monday investigating the Elsie Hunter kidnapping story. After getting the shoes the girl wore while away on the 13th, Chief Marshall drove the Inspector out to W. E.Island's place on the Centre Road. From a point near Mr. Island's they tracked the girl through the fields to the Lake and back again by the route which she said she had taken when returning to town. The footprints showed conclusively that she had walked to the lake unaccompanied by any person, and had gone out in the water of her own accord. The girl is now at work as usual at Mr. Walker's. Steps may be taken to make her a ward of the Society, which would then be in a position to look after her welfare.—Orangeville Banner.

Riverdale

Miss Winnie Tracy of Toronto, returned home on Saturday, after spending her vacation with friends on First Avenue East.

Mr. Elmer Eagel & Co. were recently engaged stone crushing in our burg.

The Riverdale sawmill resumed operations on Thursday, after being shut down for several days, owing to a damaged shaft.

A number from this vicinity took in the classical ice cream social at Harkaway on Friday evening. Say, Bill, who's your friend ?

Miss Euphemia Stephenson, who has been engaged in town during the past month, returned home "for keeps" on Saturday.

Mrs. B. Ward and daughter, Mrs. Shadler, of Galt, returned home on Tuesday. after a week's sojourn with friends in our burg.

Misses Louie and Olive Wiley visited at Wodehouse on Wednesday.

Cordial congratulations are extended to Miss Louie Wiley in the absolutely magnificent result of her recent Normal exams.

Mr. Duncan McIntosh has attached a ready-made summer kitchen to his residence.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Irwin visited friends in Proton last week.

We notice by a number of local journals that the hay crop is very poor in some localities. However hay in this vicinity is a splendid crop, and is, generally speaking, estimated at two tons per acre.

Raspberries is the word in this vicinity at present, and a number of our citizens have been on berry picking expeditions to Kimberley during the past week. We understand that owing to inclement weather at a critical period, the huckleberry crop is a total failure

Pathmasters—Cutting, Erskine and Irwin, have accomplished the annual statute labor, and deserve much credit for the very judicious work executed in their divisions.

Electrician Walker, has been engaged repairing disabled phones during the past week.

If the present favorable conditions prevail, corn harvesting will be a laborious accomplishment this fall, as to date a number of our scientific agriculturalists have corn measuring six feet in length.

Durham

Miss Carrie McKechnie, an estimable young woman about 31 years of age, died last Thursday after an operation for abdominal trouble, performed a few days previously. The deceased had been ailing,and it was thought the trouble might be in the appendix. An operation was decided on, and it was discovered that one of the intestines had telescoped and a portion was cut away. For a time there seemed to be improvement, but a relapse set in and death resulted, notwithstanding the best of medical attendance and the care of a skilled nurse.

Jim McLachlan shot his pet bear Jack on Friday last, or rather, he hadn't the heart to do it himself. The bear was sent here from Cochrane over a year ago,when quite young, and grew up to be quite a pet with the family. He seemed to be perfectly harmless and neither Mrs. McLachlan, her daughter,nor any members of the family had any fear of an attack. He was very playful, but if loose, had no hesitation in visiting the neighbors, most of whom didn't feel exactly comfortable in Mr. Bruin's company. He got to be a big fellow, and though not at all vicous there was a vague suspicion in the minds of many that his wild animal nature might show itself when least suspected. Rather than cause injury to anybody, or perhaps loss of life, the animal was despatched on Friday.—Chronicle.

Broke jail at Durham

Durham, July 26.—Placed under arrest Thursday night on a drunk and disorderly charge, Reg Pinkerton, a local youth, escaped handcuffed from the lock-up here early yesterday morning. On Friday he appeared for trial before Magistrate Telford, and with a previous shady record was sentenced to three months hard labor at Owen Sound. By that evening the prisoner had almost cut a hole through his cell floor, and when he was being moved to another he made a dash for liberty, but was quickly caught and handcuffed.

During the night Pinkerton smashed the window, while an outside accomplice with an 18-inch scantling bent down one of the iron bars, making a 6-inch aperture,to which the prisoner had climbed handcuffed and squeezed through after removing his shoes.

At 6. a. m. Constable Pettigrew appeared to remove his prisoner by the morning train to Owen Sound, and first discovered the empty cell. Two sets of foot tracks were traced through the fields to the mill dam bridge,but the whereabouts of the escaped youth has not yet been ascertained.

Singhampton

Mr. Wilkinson of Newmarket has been re-engaged as principal of the public school, but the vacancy in the junior room caused by the resignation of Miss Grace Clark of Hawkestone has not yet been filled.

Two candidates, Myrtle Service and Eldon McLean, from this school wrote on the entrance examination and both passed. They will attend the Collingwood collegiate institute.

The new arrangement of the Methodist circuit gives this place service every Sunday evening. The pastors are Revs. Morris and Brock.

The Presbyterian pulpit is vacant owing to the resignation of Rev. W. C. Mercer owing to ill-health. Services are held every Sunday afternoon. It is understood that several ministers are yet to be heard before a call is extended. Mr. Mercer is in Toronto at present and later may leave for the Old Country.

Services in St. Paul's Church every Sunday, alternate morning and evening. Next Sunday they will be held in the evening.

Miss Owen of Toronto is visiting with Mrs. Heppinstall.

Mr. O'Brien who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor left for Port Arthur a few days ago.

Miss Dasson left for her home in England a few days ago after visiting with Mr. Alfred Branch. She spent a month here and made many warm friends.
