Rod and Gun

The August number of Rod and Gun issued by W. J. Taylor Limited, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont., has appeared and is up to the usual standard of excellence maintained by this representative Canadian magazine of outdoor life. The cover cut is an attractive one and illustrates a big catch of tuna in Nova Scotia where the sport of catching this big fish with rod and line is growing in favor. The contents include many interesting stories and articles among them another canoe story "To Moose Factory by Canoe" which in so far as the territory covered is concerned forms a continuation of the account given in last month's issue of a Trip from Lake Temiscaming to Lake Abitibi. Bonnycastle Dale gives a graphic description of "Wild Fowling with the Kwakiutls" and the issue includes stories of interest to the general reader as articles and departments containing special information for the sportsman.

Wodehouse Doings

The intense heat of the past week together with the dry weather, has ripened the grain very fast and this week will practically see all the grain cut in this vicinity.

Walkerton

Owing to the greater part of Bruce county being under local option and the bars for the most part being abolished, the Ontario government, we understand, purposes putting the whole county under one license inspector instead of having it divided into three inspectorates as at present. The new job will be extensive in scope and be enhanced with a tempting salary.

A drowning accident occurred in the Saugeen river at Hanover on Saturday evening last, when Noah Barten, aged 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barter, formerly of Brant Tp., lost his life. How the event happened will never be known, as he was alone at the time. He left home in the afternoon to go bathing, and when he did not return at 7 o'clock his parents became anxious. They made inquiries of neighbors' boys, who told them that they had met him about 4 o'clock on the way to the river. They at once made a search and before long his clothes were found on the bank by his mother. His body was recovered about 10 o'clock near where his clothes were found earlier in the evening, in about eight feet of water.—Herald and Times.
