Markdale furniture factory was struck by lightning during a thunder storm on Thursday night last and ignited. The night watchman turned in an alarm and the fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

The Markdale Standard says Reeve Ennis had a couple of cotton bulbs sent him from the south and they are growing! Cotton bulbs! Wheat bulbs! Pumpkin bulbs! Cotton does not grow from bulbs, Mr. Standard. It grows from a hard shelled seed which produces an oil that you eat on your cheap grade of sardines. A cotton "bulb" would be a curiosity even in the south.

The Ladies' Aid acknowledge the following contributors to the parsonage fund. Will Irwin, Vancouver; Mrs. H. LeGard, Owen Sound; D. W. Clinton, Saskatoon; Arnold Thurston, B. C; A. R. Fawcett, Burk's Falls; Mrs. Higginbotham, Winnipeg; W. W. Smith, Battleford; Mrs. D. White, London; Mrs. Ayers, Toronto.

Flesherton high School will reopen on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, 1914, with the following staff of teachers: Mr. H. S. White, Principal; Miss I. M. Oldham, B. A., and Miss Margaret Holmes, B. A. assistants. Intending pupils should be on hand the first day in order to secure their places.

Major A. R. Campbell of the 105th Saskatoon Fusiliers, was drowned in the Rideau Canal at Ottawa on Saturday morning. He was a native of Collingwood. He was the eldert son of the late Major R G. Campbell of the 35th, who served during the Riel rebellion of 1885, and a nephew of Lieut.-Col. A. G. Campbell, formerly of the 31st regiment. The deceased joined the 35th before going west, where he continued his connection with the militia. The body was taken to Collingwood for burial.

A full meeting of the board of directors of East Grey Agriculture Society was held Monday evening to make arrangements for the coming show on Sept. 29-30. It was decided to enforce a charge of ten per cent. on gate receipts for all entertainments on the grounds where a fee is charged, for the purpose of keeping up repairs. Instructions regarding securing of attractions for the second day were given the committee in charge of this department, the result of which will be known later. The directors are earnestly working for the welfate of the show and hope their efforts will be seconded by the public with a loyal patronage and hearty co-operation.

George Stuart has not been in contact with the German army, but one would think so to look at him. Ordinarily George is a pretty good looking fellow, but just now his facial landscape resembles the fields around the Liege forts as we imagine them to be—plowed up with German and Belgian shot and shell. This came about by George coming in contact with a barbed wire fence on Thursday night last while leading a steer and the barbs worked havoc with his face. So serious was the damage done that it required six stitches to close up the trenches scooped out by the cruel barbs. It was a painful experience. Most of his face is now hidden from public gaze and will be so for a few days. Our sympathies go out to Mr. Stuart. We one time got caught under the chin by a clothes line. That was bad enough, even though there were no barbs to penetrate the cuticle.

When the Lane Medical Library of Stanford University was dedicated on November 2rd, 1912, Dr. David Starr Jordan delivered an address, in which he stated: "In modern war, it now costs on the average about $15,000 to kill a man. In the late Boer war, this expense ran up to nearly $40,000." It is cheaper to stop killing.

Lightning followed by destructive fire was responsible for the loss of two fine barns in Bentinck and Glenelg the beginning of the week, says the Durham Review. On Monday morning Mr. Jos. Noble, 4th con. Bentinck, suffered the loss of his barn, the total of the season's crop except a small amount remaining unharvested in one field, and all the implements except a binder and wagon. He recently purchased the farm from Jos. Lunney and has a light insurance. Duncan Sinclair, near Scotchtown, Glenelg, had his barn, built but four years ago, also fall a prey to the lightning and flames on Tuesday morning. The loss to Mr. Sinclair is severe as the former structure was destroyed in the same way four years ago. Malcolm McKechnie of the Rocky had five fine sheep killed in the Monday storm.

On Friday morning last we saw a rather new and novel shipment of Fur animals, passing through here from the west, to Georgetown, en route to Prince Edward Island, in the shape of several crates of live Skunks Upon inquiry we learned that this is becoming quite an industry in the country, as they bring $25 a pair for breeding purposes. There being a scarcity of fur, these little animals are being bred on farms in different places and their pelts sold. We had always had the impression that the farther one kept from these animals the better, but we were agreeably surprized to find about the crates not the least approach to the aroma, that is sometimes wafted in on the air. We were told that they eat all kinds of insects, grasshoppers being a choice morsel for them. This is the first shipment ever sent from these parts. —Erin Advocate.

Angelic Charges

Rev. T. Watson, who had charge of the Baptist circuit here some years ago, is a prolific writer of verse. The following recent lines from his pen is, in our estimation, one of the prettiest things he has ever written.—Ed. Advance.

They brought him a bird with a broken wing
And asked him to tend it with care:
And though it might never be able to sing
They told him to nourish it there.

They brought him a child with feeble mind
And fragile in nerve and in limb;
They charged him to always be gentle and kind,
And care for the weak one for Him.

Soon that same bird which was singless and lame
Enabled its keeper to climb:
And the little one feeble in mind became
His guide to the regions sublime.

The birds and the babes are dear to their King;
And so are the feeble in mind:
Thus angels are teaching the songless to sing
While seeking the good of mankind.

T. Watson. Ridgetown, Ont. 1914.

Dundalk

For the seconb time within a week deep sorrom has come to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Bellamy. On Monday they were called to mourn the loss of their infant, a little girl ninteen months old, and on Friday following the next oldest child, Minnie Pearl, three years of age, was called. The funeral of the latter was held on Sunday to Maple Grove cemetery. Rev. Geo. Waugh officiating. Dysentry was the cause of death in both cases. the two other children, who were affected similarly, we are glad to say, are on the mend. Very much sympathy is felt for the parents in their sore bereavement.

Dundalk had a war scare of its own one day last week when three Germans with considerable heavy baggage arrived and applied to Mr. Mountcastle, the Government Immigration agent, for jobs on fams, all wishing to be together. One only could speak Englsih. No farmer could be found who would take them and they were sent back to Toronto the following day. They were not ordinary farm hands in appearence and in a conversation with Mr. Montcastle and Chief Scrimminger they claimed to have worked as carpenters in Toronto. There was much curiosity around town to see or know what was within the heavy grips whether carpenter's tools or explosives, but they got away without a search. Possibly they were just trying to hide themselves in the country till the war is over.—Herald

Major A. R. Campbell second in command of the 105th Regiment Saskatoon, was found drowned in the Rideau Canal.

The bust of Kaiser Wilhelml, at Victoria Park, Berlin, was removed by vandals and thrown into the lake.

Early last spring, Mr. J. C. Nichol, proprietor of the Middaugh House here, was fined $100 and costs for having overproof beer in his possession, and which was purchasd for sale over the bar. An analysis in Toronto showed that instead of the regular 2½ per cent. allowed in local option territory, the refreshment contained in the neighborhood of 3 per cent. alcohol, and consequently Mr, Nichol was fined. As he had purchased the beer as a bona fide local option brew, he had his solicitor take the matter up with the brewery, with the result that that institution has accepted all the blame in the matter, and has refunded Mr. Nichol the full amount of his fine.—Durham Chronicle

Duncan Carmichael, whose home was formerly in Duntroon, and who was at one time engineer of the Farmer's Mill there, but who is now employed by the C. P. railway in Toronto, was stepping off a train at Lambton, when he was struck by the Teeswater train which happened to be coming in at the time. His injuries are very serious, his face being cut, skull fractured, one arm and all his ribs on one side broken. He is in a precarious condition now in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto. A brother of the injured man, Lauchlan Carmichael, lives in Collingwood and is employed by the Board of Works—Enterprise.

Hail did considerable damage to certain sections of Brant, Carrick and Culross in the storm which passed over these Townships on Sunday afternoon. Reports which have reached Mildmay indicate that the path of the storm was nearly two miles in width and traversed in a direction from Walkerton to Teeswater. In and around the B. Line, Carrick the hail storm seems to have been at its worst, farmers in that section reporting the loss in some cases being almost total. The storm lasted about 15 minutes the broken windows and badly devasted gardens and grain fields showing the force with which the large hail stone were driven to the ground.—Mildmay Gazette.

If you are having unpleasant occurences at the breakfast table by ancien eggs, send to the "Live Commissioner, Ottawa" for appliances to test eggs either with a lamp or with electric light. Ask also for Pamphlet No. 3 (second edition) where you will get full instructions how to protect yourself and family from the infliction of bad eggs. The simple appliances and the pamphlets are sent fee. Only cost you a post card. Better state if you wish a lamp appliances or electric light one.
