War News in Brief

The German army which was on the run the fore part of last week made a stand in north western France and for nine days a terrific battle has raged between the opposing forces. The allies, although making an offensive fight, have more than held their own. The Germans have bombarded the city of Rheims and destroyed the wonderful cathedral in that city. This is another wanton act of the German army that will have to be clearly paid for when the final settlement arrives. Austria is practically out of the fight.

The British cruiser Pegasus was attacked in the harbor of Zanzibar by a German cruiser and almost entirely destroyed. It is also officially announced that a German cruiser destroyed five British ships in the Indian Ocean and sent the crews that had been rescued from the destroyed ships home on a sixth ship, which they also captured.

A large Russian force is bombarding Przemysl, in which there are said to be 60,000 Austrians. The Russian forces have swept on to the east and north, endeavouring to capture the armies of von Auffenberg and Dankl. The former commander is said to be seeking the protection of the defences of Cracow. It is announced that the Russians will throw against the fortress of Cracow one million men.

Bourassa, the Cur

Last week's Saturday Night says: Henri Bourassa, fresh from the scene of European conflict, is now busily engaged advising his countrymen in the Province of Quebec against enlisting in Britain's cause. When the war "broke," Henri was in France, dear old France that we have heard him talk so much about. Previous to crossing to the Continent this distinguished "patriot" had been feted, dined and wined in London by a number of English gentlemen who at that time failed to distinguish the jackal under the leopard's skin. When our little international fuss began to look serious, Bourassa, who was, as before mentioned, in Paris, was number one in the front rank in the place where they deal out passports. According to reports Henri, explained in both French and English that he was a British subject. Indeed, he was prepared, if necessary, to set the words to music and sing it. What he wanted was a passport, and he wanted it quick. "Vive l'Angleterre" and "Rule Britannia" looked as good to him about then as it has to many another man in a bad fix. The old red rag was good enough for Bourassa to hide behind in times or stress: and on the high seas, on his way home, Henri was not heard to make any violent objection that his vessel went safely on her way because of the protection afforded by British guns and British seamen. It will becomes men of the Bourassa stamp to sneak for cover behind the ample folds of the Union Jack, and when out of harm's way attempt to besmear it. Traitors are hanged every day in Europe for less.

Durham

Alvin Caswell of Bentinck had his arm badly broken by having it caught in a threshing belt.

Peter Black of Egremont had the misfortune Tuesday morning to trip on a piece of wire, and in the fall had one of his legs broken.

Eric Elvidge, a boy about 15 years of age, had the misfortune Tuesday to have his collar bone broken, while playing football on the school grounds.

The sawmill at Dornoch was destroyed by fire on Monday night, entailing a loss of two or three thousand dollars to the Durham Furniture Co., who owned and operated the mill for the past three or four years. It is not known how the fire originated, but there are suspicions of incendiarism.

The ladies of Durham and vicinity who have been working in the Armory for the past couple of weeks shipped to the Red Cross Society a box containing the following articles: 72 flannel shirts, 70 pairs socks, 177 pairs wristlets, 69 scarfs, 12 cholera belts, 12 Balaclava caps, 12 sleeping caps, 13 flannelette sheets, 2 pillows, 1 quilt and 386 handkerchiefs. —Chronicle.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Tompkins on Thursday last, when there was a very large attendance, upwards of fifty being present. The president, Mrs. George Bristow, presided during the afternoon when an interesting program was rendered. Mrs. Tompkins gave a splendid paper on "What a Hostess Gains by Entertaining." Her points were well arranged and her remarks were listened to with close attention. The proceedings were opened and closed by music. Lunch was served and a short time spent in a social way. Several members of the Duntroon Institute were present and participated in the afternoon's proceedings. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, October 8, at the home of Miss Bella McLean, Rob Roy, when the papers will be, "The Pleasures of Country Life," by Mrs. Malcolm McLean, and "Dishes for Hot Suppers," by Mrs. George Bristow of Rob Roy. Found Dead at Collingwood

A week ago today a man named Wm. Ottowell, who lives at Feversham, was admitted into the G. & M. Hospital here suffering from melancholia. The next evening after supper he went down with a companion, to the furnace room to smoke a pipe. After smoking for some time he told his companion he was going out for a minute or two, and would be back almost at once. When he did not return for ten minutes his companion became alarmed and told the assistant Superintendent. A search was at once instituted and the unfortunate man was found among the cedars at the back of the Hospital in a dying condition. Dr. Arthur was at once summoned, but although he arrived in a very few minutes nothing could be done for Ottowell, who succumbed almost immediately. Dr. McFaul was notified, but considered an inquest unnecessary.

The deceased, who resided on his farm, lot 8, con. 12, twp. of Osprey, was only 48 years old.—Enterprise.

Steer Died from Rabies

Bitten by a dog afflicted by rabies and which had successfully escaped pursuit for some time, a steer belonging to Geo. Hunt contracted the disease two weeks ago and died under these peculiar circumstances two weeks later. It is said that the canine primarily affected with the trouble was from the vicinity of Harriston and after causing havoc with dogs in that neighborhood wandered to Egremont township. We do not know full particulars of the case but understand that naturally the steer was given plenty of room in the field for several hours after being bitten. Skilful manoeuvering at last resulted in the animal being driven into the stable where it later died. Dr. Ellis, one of the Vet's in attendance, had part of the animal's head sent to Ottawa for analysis where it was declared death was due to rabies. Last week an Inspector was in this district but reported conditions among animals to be satisfactory.—Holstein Leader.

Miss Sword and Miss Hambly, two graduates of the Owen Sound General and Marine Hospital, have received instructions to report on Wednesday that they may be attached to the hospital corps of the Canadian contingent. Both were volunteers for the Red Cross some time ago.
