Kimberley Budget

Intended for Last Week

Very warm dry weather at present.

Judging by the malicious lies that are being circulated in this neighborhood we feel sure that had Ananias lived in modern times his fame as a prevaricator would have faded into insignificance.

Mr. Davidson of Clarksburg accompanied by Miss Hattie Loughed, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Fawcett of the Traveller's Home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stuart and children of Ceylon visited at Mr. Jas. Stuart's one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Watkins visited Markdale friends on Tuesday.

Quite a number from this locality attended the Holiness Worker's camp meeting on Sunday last at Clarksburg.

Mr. Jas. R. Fawcett is visiting this week with friends in Clarksburg and Collingwood. While in the latter place he will attend the Great Northern Exhibition.

We think it is high time a gossiping society should be organized in our burg, as we could name a good round dozen right off the bat that would make fine charter members.

Mr. Chas. Dennett of Eugenia was a caller in our burg on Monday.

Mrs. M. R. Hammond and son Wm. visited Meaford friends a few days the past week.

W.S. Middlebro, M.P. of Owen Sound, accompanied by Mr. Cameron, M. L. A. of the same place, motored over to our burg one day last week, returning the same evening.

Mr. J. E. Corbett of Dundalk visited friends in our burg on Friday and Saturday last.

Walkerton

Alfred Schefter, the 14-year-old son of Ignats Schefter, here, broke his collar bone on Friday last by being thrown on a stone in a friendly wrestle with his brother.

Certain church-goers in the East Ward who are donating generously towards missions to convert the heathen are giving demonstrations of their own christianity by throwing scalding water on their neighbors' dogs. Last year the practise became so general there that "as bald as an east ward dog" became a slang phrase in town, showing how the hair fell out of the curs that the hot water went on. After giving their arms several months' rest, the water throwers are again lumbering up their soup bones by heaving the boiling brand on the backs of the canines, Louis Runstedler's hound being the latest victim of their scathing attention.

Herbie Hauck, a local youth, who is blacking his face and posing as the African dodger at the various Fall Fairs in this section, offering two cigars to anyone who can hit the nigger, came to grief at the Walkerton exhibition last week, when Wilfred Damm heaved a ball that hammed him under the eye. Hauck fainted from the blow, and dropped like a bag of coal on the ground, where he reminded the crowd of Uncle Tom in the last scene before the interment. When he later came to and discovered that he had made $15.30 on the day's proceedings, he concluded that he hadn't altogether suffered in vain.

A strange dog hailing probably from the vicinity of Harriston, where an epidemic of rabies has broken out among the canines, invaded Walkerton on Friday last and tackled Night-watchman Swanston's collie, which it bit severely on the jaw. It then disappeared as mysteriously as it came, leaving the Walkerton collie frothing at the mouth and going through all the antics of a rabied cur. As a result a real mad dog scare was inaugurated here and Chief Ferguson, who was called to the rescue, shouldered his gun and started in search of the Swanston dog. But the latter vamoosed, and has neither been seen nor heard of since. The general opinion is that it crawled into some secluded place and died in a fit. As no further outbreak of the malady have been reported, the mad-dog scare has subsided and no danger from this source is now feared.—Bruce Herald and Times.

William Gilzean, a G. T. R. fireman, living in Southampton, was on Monday committed for trial on a charge of criminally assaulting Miss Dora Gladys Anderson, daughter of Mr. A. S Anderson of the same place.

THE LATE MRS. HUGH WATTERS.

A young man, whose home is in Milton, who has just returned from England, says the authorities are not allowing gold to leave the country. Passengers on his ship before sailing were compelled to exchange their gold for the new British paper money. Americans were served the same as anyone else. In an English town a farmer who wants a man for the harvest will approach a policeman who selects one of the numerous out-of-work men in the streets, and orders him to go with the farmer. Refusal means a term in jail for refusing work when offered.

CAPTAIN COWAN

Captain Cowan of the Salvation Army at Feversham has just returned after a two weeks' pleasant and interesting visit in Ottawa. The Captain is highly interested in military work, having served five years in the Governor General's Foot Guards and expects to leave with the next contingent of soldiers to act in the capacity of chaplain. While in Ottawa he was privileged to hold a meeting at Rockliffe rifle range of the Quick Firing Brigade, containing 120 officers and men, where he saw many interesting things, among them being five motor trucks conveying ten guns which fire 400 shots per minute each. The hospital ambulance is a beautiful white enamel motor truck bearing the Red Cross emblem, and all their equipment is of a very high order. He had the pleasure of meeting a couple of soldiers from Val Cartier who were returning on a short leave of absence. They reported everything satisfactory in camp, but the soldiers suffer considerably from cold and dampness, five men having died since Sunday from this cause.

Captain Cowan says there are a great number of unemployed in Ottawa, but a great many of them are enlisting for service and going to the front.
