Dairy and Cold Storage

The Report of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner for the fiscal year ending March 31 st, 1914, has been issued.

This report deals with the progress of dairying, the expanding home market, the export trade, the importation of New Zealand butter and the work of the Finch and Brome Dairy stations, of the Extension of Markets Division, of the Fruit Division and of the Division of Cold Storage.

In the appendices of which there are eight, the reports of the chiefs of the various divisions are given; these include many details illustratvie not only of their work but of the progress being made in dairying, marketing, storing and shipping of fruit.

This report, which is issued as Sessional Paper No. 15a, is a volume of 112 pages. Copies are available upon application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Mrs. Henry G. Hewitt Dead

Another old resident of Artemesia passed to the great beyond on Wednesday, October 28th, in the person of Mrs Henry G. Hewitt, of the Meaford Road. Mrs. Hewitt, whose maiden name was Ellen Farrell, was born in the County of Roscommon Ireland, 83 years ago. When 16 years of age she came to Canada, and in 1852 was married to the late Henry G. Hewitt, who predeceased her 12 years ago. One year after her marriage she moved to Melancthon Township settling on a farm near Corbetton where they resided until coming to Artemesia twenty years ago. She is survived by one son, Henry G. of Toronto, and two daughters Mrs. Alexander Patterson, of Meaford and Miss Hewitt at home. The funeral took place to Dundalk cemetery on Saturday morning.

Dundalk

The dog poisoner has again been getting in his work in Dundalk. Mr. E. G. Lucas lost both his collie and hound on Sunday. There were symptoms of strychnine.

Mr. Wm. Deverell, caretaker at the school, had the end of the third finger of his left hand taken off the other night while starting the pumping apparatus at the school.

Four carloads of oats and potatoes contributed by residents of Melancthon township were shipped last week from Corbetton and Melancthon stations. The contributions are consigned to Britain for the relief of the Belgians.

The militia company, newly formed in Dundalk, had the first drill practice at the rink Thursday night of last week when Lieut. Spence, of Whittington, put the men through the first steps. There were thirty-four members out. The company is now up to 48 in number. It is the intention to have regular drill every Thursday night. Lieut. Spence will be present to instruct.

Chas. Fullerton, the Dundalk drayman, will remember 1914 in the streak of misfortunes which have befallen him during the past six months. In the spring he fell from a dray load of empty butter boxes onto a cement crossing breaking both arms. He was then laid off work for a couple of months. On Monday he again broke his right arm between the elbow and wrist. In pulling a heavy commercial trunk on the high platform at the depot, the handle of the trunk broke and he fell onto the track. Much sympathy is felt for the unfortunate man in his painful accident and enforced idleness.—Herald.

Shot by Enraged Farmer

Meaford, Ont; Nov. 1.—Hollowe'en pranks at Griersville, five miles south of here, resulte d last night in the death o Joseph Ferry, of the 3rd line who was shot by an enraged farmer. Quite a party of boys had assembled from the 3rd and 4th lines, and, according to reports, considerably annoyed E. H. Knoll, who is a bachelor farmer living in the district. He phoned to neighbors and also to Chief Clarke at Meaford to go out and drive the boys away, but no help was offered, as the boys' pranks were not taken seriously. Knoll declared he grew quite alarmed when he heard a revovler shot from the party, and getting out an old rifle he shot a couple of times in the air and then on the ground, until Joseph Ferry dropped with a bullet between the eyes. Another man was wounded, though not seriously. Knoll says it must have been a glancing bullet that hit the boy. Medical aid was summoned, but Ferry died at 6.30 this morning. He was 18 years of age. Chief Clarke of Meaford went out today and arrested Knoll, who is now in Meaford lock-up. Knoll is 40 years of age. An inquest will be opened this morning at Griersville

Durham

The arrest and trial of the English lad, Joseph Hamler, which took place last week before Co. Crown Attorney and Police Magistrate Telford, resulted in his being committed for trial at the next sitting of the Court in Owen Sound for the killing of Edgar Lawrence by shooting.

Thursday of this week, the two lower town hotels and Mr. E. Rowe are to appear in court at the Town Hall to defend themselves against charges of violation of the liquor law. It appears that last Thursday two or more officials of the Provincial License Department, made a surprise visit to the town, but their search of the hotels proved fruitless. However, unknown previously, information had been laid of irregularities found Show day of selling forbidden stuff or keeping for sale in undue quantities in the places mentioned. To have Mr. Rowe's name brought in this connection is a surprise and the trouble is that he had some overripe cider in his cellars. Two charges are, we believe, being made against each of the hostelries, and all will have the opportunity to prove their innocence or pleading guilty.

The passing around of a petition last week asking for the submission of a by-law to repeal Local Option is an indication that a vote is desired on the question next January.

Those in favor of a restoration of license are quite within their rights in so moving and though the petition has not been presented to us we think it not a bad thing on the whole that the liquor party should have one more chance to see where they stand in the community. This feeling will lead a number to sign as was done three years ago, and will not bow the knee to Bacchus by voting to restore license conditions and attempt to clothe with respectability a traffic that every day is coming more and more into disrepute. That the repeal, if attempted, will be defeated, goes without saying.—Review.

Killed at Boothville

One of the most heart-rending accidents that ever occurred in this neighborhood, has darkened one home and cast a gloom over the community. Islay, the 11 year old only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Runciman, had her life snuffed out in a moment in a most sad and tragic way.

The circumstances were as follows: Her father was working near the barn, his son and daughter near him and chatting and helping in their own way. Some agents calling, the father entered into conversation with them and the children took to play under the barn. Suddenly the father heard a report as of a gunsho from the barn and a moment sufficed to see what had happened. A "mud" sill had snapped with superincumbent weight of straw letting down sleepers on the poor little body, whose back was broken.

As the father approached, the boy, of 14 years, was seen emerging from the wreckage, somewhat stunned, and told the distracted father his sister was in there somewhere. Groping among straw and timbers he felt the body, and being pinned down fast, help had to be got to recover it. On the father fell the terrible task of acquainting the mother and a neighbor's telephone was utilized to call help from Wm. Aldcorn's, where threshing was in progress. This was responded to at once, but before they got to the spot nearer neighbors had gathered, and using prys the body was recovered, life of course, extinct, in all likelihood, she had not one moment of pain.

What might have proved another fatal accident occurred the same day. As the threshers were rushing to aid in a democrat, the tongue dropped out of the neck yoke and ran into the ground throwing all the occupants out, but luckily no one was hurt.—Durham Review.

East Mountain

R. McMullen left last week for Parry Sound on a hunting trip.

D. McTavish motored from Flesherton and visited W. Humberstone.

Mr. Chas. Boyce, thresher, met with an accident at G. Harbottle's threshing, by being caught in a belt and thrown against the wheel of the engine.

Several from here attended a party at Kimberley last week.

Mr. W. Humberstone has erected a fine new barn on his farm here.

Mr. John Simmons, who has been in Owen Sound this summer, returned home last week.

The Latest News

The Greatest War in History is now on and never since printing was invented have there been such universal need and demand for the newspaper. We have made arrangements by which we can supply all the news of the wide world, all the news of the war, and all the local news within the limits of our own circulation, at a price that, from a bargain standpoint, leaves nothing to be desired.

We will supply our own paper and the Weekly Mail and Empire—the two together—from now till January 1st, 1915, for 25c., or the two together from now till January 1st, 1916, for $1.75. This liberal offer is good until we withdraw it, therefore, we suggest early subscription for greater value, and request that all orders be sent to the office of this paper.

The Christmas Thought

Ideas on Christmas giving are rapidly changing among the sensible. Those who think as they give are looking for a year-round service as the important thing. In a week of shopping, with all its strain, you will not find a better gift than a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion. It offers its service, its clean entertainment, its fine suggestiveness week after week; and the end of the year, which finds many a gift idea tedious, dust-covered and forgotten, brings The Companion again, with all the charm of last Christmastide. No American monthly at any price offers the same amount of reading, and none can offer better quality. Less than fifty cents a week provides the best of Christmas gifts—$2.25 a year. If you subscribe now, all remaining issues of the year will be sent free, and The Companion Home Calendar. A copy of the Calendar is also sent to those who a gift subscription. Send for sample copies, and the Forecast for 1915.

Beck's Weekly

Beck's Weekly, edited by Edward Beck, the man who employed the Burns Detective Agents to unearth graft in the Quebec Legislature, and published in Montreal, is an unique publication and one that is growing in favor throughout the country. While devoted, primarily, to the promotion of honesty in the administration of public affairs, it is by no means obsessed of one idea, but is made up every week of clever cartoons and pictures, stories, humorous sketches and a department of intelligent if somewhat caustic comment on Canadian affairs. Among its contributors are several of the best writers and artists in Canada. It furnishes one of the most appetizing week-end collations of information, discussion and entertainment to be obtained anywhere. The price is $2 per year, and the publishers will be pleased to send a sample copy upon request. Address, Beck's Weekly, 335 Craig Street West, Montreal.

Rod and Gun

Bonnycastle Dale is the leading contributor to the November issue of Rod and Gun issued by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont; writing on the subject "Trapping in Ontario 1913-14. In "Wanderings in the Winter Woods" W. Dustin White describes vividly the joys of the winter camping trip. "Bear Trapping and Pack Carrying in B. C." tells of a hunter who trapped a husky bear weighing some one hundred and sixty pounds and then carried him on his back for a distance of ten miles over an uneven weeds trail. "Biff and Hec and Me" is a well written account of a canoe trip in the northern wilderness. The remainder of the magazine is replete with interesting articles and the various departments are well maintained.

An accident befell Mr. Jno. Muldoon, of Arthur tp., on Friday which might easily have resulted more seriously. He was standing in the back of a wagon a his home when the team driven by his son stepped forward unexpectedly, jerking Mr. Muldoon out backwards. He had his hands in his pants pockets at the time and landed on his elbows, breaking his gall and probably saving his neck, but causing a dislocation of one of the elbows.—Mt. Forest Rep.
