An employee of the Eugenia House, during the absence of Mr. P. Munshaw, the proprietor, on his deer hunting trip, this fall, inadvertently handed out something that did not come within the limit of the law, and as a consequence the proprietor had to put up a cool hundred and costs last week. The same thing happened last hunting season and P. M. is thinking about cutting out the deer hunt.

We know that the root crop this year was abnormally large and prolific, but it remained for Mr. Guy Orr of the Toronto Line to afford an occular demonstration of the fact last week when he brought in seven turnips which tipped the scales collectively at 65 pounds. These were certainly some turnips, and the editorial cow will live high for a couple of days anyway.

You keep abreast of the times when you read the Weekly Sun of Toronto. It is a farmer's newspaper, and that means, market reports, editorials, special farming articles, special departments for all the family, "other people's opinions", where the readers may say their say—and a countless list of bright features of interest and importance to all farmers. Fifty-two weeks in the year the Sun is on the job. Do you read in? When renewing your subscription for this paper we will be pleased to take your subscription for the Sun.

The contract for completion of the power house in the valley has been let to a Buffalo firm, The Advance is informed. It has now been decided by the commission that the power must be turned on by April 1st next, and the first development will only be for 300 horsepower. There is no movement as yet towards erecting the power line to Owen Sound. The Hylands are still busy putting in the head gate dam, and the dressed plank for the big tube has been going out for the past two or three weeks. The tube will be of wood to the brow of the mountain and steel tubing from there to the powe house.

The Advance had a pleasant call on Saturday last from Mr. Edgar Bellamy of Saskatoon, Sask., who was on a short visit to his parents here. Mr. Bellamy has been a resident of Saskatoon for six years and has strong faith in the future prosperity of that western city. He says that with westerners there is a strong movement at present of "back to the land." The people have learned that they were existing on borrowed capital and must change their methods and earn their living from the land itself. Mr. Bellamy is himself a disciple of this new and better method and is the head and chief owner in a joint stock company which runs a little farm of 3500 acres in the Goose Lake district. The farm is given over to mixed farming but is principally devoted to raising grain. While crops were very poor this year owing to want of rainfall, the summer fallowed land—and the company had nothing but summer fallow—the yield of wheat was 28 bushels to the acre. On stubble land there was only a yield this year of from 2 to 5 bushels per acre! Other years the normal production on their farm was 40 bushels wheat and 23 bushels flax. To show the faith that some Americans have in the county, Mr. Bellamy says he has sold this summer land in the same district at $47 per acre.
