Horse Killed by Logs

Mr. William Hicks, who lives on Sixth street, a couple of miles west of Collingwood, suffered the loss of a valuable horse on Saturday morning under peculiar circumstances. His son was teaming logs from the mountain to the Kent-Copper mill in Collingwood and was in the vicinity of Deer Park when the chain lock used for checking the speed of the sleigh broke, permitting the heavy load to slip down grade guided only by the horses. All went well for some distance, but as the bottom of the hill was reached the driver discovered another sleigh also loaded with logs stuck. As it was impossible for it to move out of the way Hicks determined to pass it on the side, but in so doing a collision occurred, with the result that one of the horses was caught among the logs and killed outright. The animal was badly smashed and its death was almost instantaneous. It is a heavy loss, Mr. Hicks having but recently refused $200 for it.—Bulletin.

Jack Langton, the man who gave the constables from Tara and Chatsworth such a merry chase about six weeks ago after he had stolen a team of horses from one man and a horse and rig from another, has been caught down near Peterborough. Word was received here on Tuesday by County Constable Mills from the chief of police at Peterboro of the arrest of John Langton in that city. Langton escaped from the custody of Constable Mills after being committed for stealing a team of horses and other articles last December from his employer Mr. Wm Trelford, a farmer residing near Tara. He managed to make his escape by jumping out of the window of a fast moving train between here and Dobbinton while en route to Walkerton. Mills got his cue from letters which Langton had addressed to his wife here, he evidently supposing she was still residing at Mr. Trelford's. He always signed the letters in the name of his wife's brother, but the scheme proved his undoing as the authorities soon caught on to his game and the postmark divulged his place of residence. Constable Mills left on Tuesday afternoon to bring his man back and will take him before Judge Clein at Walkerton on Saturday for sentence.—Times.

C. N. R. Completed

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 24.—The Canadian Northern Railway is now completed from Lake Superior to the Pacific coast. The last rail was laid at noon Saturday at Basque, a village on the North Thompson River, 200 miles east of Vancouver. It will require until April 15 to ballast the line, and the official ceremony of driving the golden spike probably will take place about May 1. It may be midsummer before a regular through service is begun. The C N.R. enters British Columbia through the Yellow Head Pass, where for many miles it parallels the Grand Trunk Pacific, for both of the railways leave Edmonton and thence strike west toward the Pacific. From the summit of the Rockies the line runs along the valley of the Thompson River until it meets the Canadian Pacific line at Kamloops, 250 miles east of Vancouver. Thence to Vancouver the Canadian Northern runs along the Fraser, on the east bank from the Canadian Pacific

William Johnston, of Cedar St., Collingwood, made another appearance in the Police Court on Wednesday, at 10 a. m., charged with stealing a leather belt, (value $100.00) the property of the Charlton Sawmill Company (in liquidation). Johnston pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in the County Jail, the Magistrate giving him a lecture before imposing sentence. Johnston's arrest is a sequel to a charge of stealing coal, preferred against him last week, with one Bearden, when he was allowed to go on suspended sentence. Chief Johnston paid a second visit to the residence of both men, and found a quantity of clothing stolen from the east-end of the town; also the belt, which had been wantonly cut to pieces. Johnston had the belt concealed in the wall of his wood shed. A good deal of property stolen had been burned or otherwise disposed of, including a barrel of candies.—Messenger.

Mr. J. B. Shepherdson, of Euphrasia, has a calf which weighed on the day it was five months old 408 lbs. This is fully equal, according to age, to Mr. T. Davidson's calf, mentioned last week. Euphrasia farmers are certainly setting a commendable example in stock feeding.—Standard.
