WEIGHT BIN OF GRAIN

To find the weight of grain in a bin, first ascertain the cubical contents of the bin (by multiplying the length, by the depth by the breadth) and the weight of one bushel of the particular grain (32 quarts). As one cubic foot measures almost 25 quarts the weight of one cubic foot will be 25|32nds of the weight of one bushel. Thus one bushel oats weighs 34 lbs. One cubic foot of oats equals 25|32-nds of 34 lbs., or 26½lbs.

The deadline for Christmas parcels for the boys overseas is November 1. Don't forget that date with your boy or someone else's.
