An Important Message to

GROWERS of OATS and BARLEY

Which Demands Your Immediate Attention

More food than ever before in our history is needed for our armed forces, our allies and those at home.

Therefore, due to partial crop failure this year, it is imperative that Ontario Farmers plan NOW for their 1944 SEED REQUIREMENTS.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture requests your immediate co-operation and offers the following suggestions:

1. Secure wherever possible good seed of suitable varieties for your 1944 requirements.
2. Any grain—oats or barley—either of the 1942 or 1943 crops suitable for seed over and above your own requirements should in the National interests be cleaned and offered for sale as seed.
3. If you have surplus seed, give your neighbors the first chance. If not sold by November 15th, advise your Agricultural Representative. Do not feed grain of seed quality. If necessary, replace it with Western Feed Grain.
4. The Directors and members of County Crop Improvement Associations are urged to become actively interested in the movement and supply of seed grain.
5. If you are unable to obtain suitable seed—advise your Agricultural Representative of your seed requirements NOT LATER THAN NOVEMBER 15th.

AT OTHER PEOPLE'S EXPENSE

War has no regard for the rights of man and much less for what he considers his privileges. So far as we can see, the simple thing as well as the right thing for people do is to take life as it comes and make the very best of it. The war will not end our way unless we sacrifice to help it. But that is something a great many people fail to realize. They want to win the war but—at other people's expense and inconvenience. — Seaforth Expositor

"It is not good for a man to keep too much to himself," states a psychologist. Income tax authorities are said to share this view.

SHE CANNOT BE PRINCESS OF WALES

Loyal town councillors in Pwlheli, Wales, have uggested that Princess Elizabeth should be given the title "Princess of Wales" in her own right. Unfortunately this is not possible.

Nominally the King can create the title, but in fact his actions are governed by strict traditions. One is that the title of Prince of Wales shall be held by the Heir Apparent to the Throne and that his wife shall be Princess of Wales. While there is a possibility of the King having a son or grandso , the title must be reserved.

Princess Elizabeth is not the Heir Apparent, but the Heir Presumptive. In the case of an Heir Apparent nobody else can step in between him and the Throne. But it is different with the pricess. She presumes to be heir only in the absence of a royal son.

When Princess Elizabeth succeeds to the Throne she will be unique in one respect. No daughter has succeeded her father directly so far. Mary succeeded her brother, Edward VI, Elizabeth succeeded Mary, Anne succeeded William III, her brother-in-law, and Victoria succeeded William IV, her uncle.

A "soft" peace makes it hard for the children—when they grow up to be of military age.

The minimum physical requirements of a Canadian Army recruit: Height, five feet; weight, 120 pounds chest measurement at exhalation, 32 inches.

In Britain women are building 60 per cent of the tanks that are being turned out in that country. At the beginning of the war only 20 workers out of every 100 in tank factories were women. Tables are turned now. There are only 40 per cent men.
