

WHAT'S NEW...

Cottage owners in the vicinity of Sturgeon Heights on Sturgeon Lake witnessed a lovely sight a few days ago. In the calm and quietness of the evening, they saw what at first looked like a large bird on the water on the opposite side of the lake. As they continued to watch they could see that the bird was actually a deer. The closer it came to the middle of the lake, the more clearly its head appeared. The deer covered a mile-and-a-half in a time that would keep Bruce Kidd, the Toronto sprinter, hustling to equal. Not in the least worried or molested the animal hopped to shore and soon dissappeared in the wooded land at Sturgeon Heights.

Weeds, unsightly and ugly, are by no means new to Lindsay citizens, but they are a disturbing problem to owners of properties who take pride in keeping surroundings looking nice this time of the year. Some citizens, who know that the Board of Works has the right to cut down weeds on private property when the owner lets them go to seed, also know that the town has the right to charge for this service. If there is unemployment in town, this would be a good way to give some people work. At least the weeds should be irradiated. Weeds are particularly bad on corner lots, town boulevards and corporation properties.
