Of all the Townships which formulate the historic County of Victoria, Fenelon Township is one of the finest in point of fertile lands adjacent to lakes and streams and fine people. It was back in the year 1668 that the Township statistically and geographically speaking came into being.

The musically sounding word "Fenelon" had its origin in the fact that a pioneer immigrant named Francis Fenelon came to the Township approximately in the year 1668. It is reported that Fenelon Township was surveyed in 1822 and the first settler, it is understood, was a man named McLaren and the McLaren's Creek was named after this pioneer settler.

Several of the original hamlets and villages still flourish. Cameron and Cambray have shrunk a bit in a business sense but the old Hewie Store is still located in Cameron and the old Gilbert store serves the territory in and adjacent to Cambray. The once busy burg of Glenarm with its one time hotel, two or three stores, two blacksmith shops, still forms an important part of the life of the area with the old Sinclair Store a busy spot. One of the oldest settlements in Fenelon Township is that known as Long Point. Here the stumpy, stoney and bush lands were cleared by such pioneer families as Haygrath, Myers, Rea, McNeish, Cunningham, Har-Staples, grave and others. Today the shores of Long Point are lined
